"MANY a mickle makes a muckle," and Uncle Sam realizes it, thanks to Secretary Mellon. To say that the Coolidge-Mellon program cuts $835,000,000 more from the public debt this year, means a saving every year hereafter of $33,000,000 in interest alone. That amount of money invested for a few years in national improvements would eliminate swamps, deserts, get rid of mosquitoes, and be worth to this country more than our total national debt.

The debt in August, 1919, was twenty six and one-half billions. Since then the debt has been reduced to nineteen and a half billions.s

If we could find money for national improvements as easily as for war, this country would be much improved.

WEDNESDAY 60,000 students from Catholic parochial schools, academies and universities participated in Chicago's Eucharistic services. On the previous night 230,000 men, members of the Holy Name society, lighted simuleaneously 230,000 candles, illuminating the great field.

The light of these candles, physically speaking, could not penetrate far into the night through which this planet is whirling.

But bearers of the candles could reasonably hope that each was identified and counted above, where each falling sparrow is noticed and the hairs are counted on the heads of all human beings, now numbering about 1,000,000,000, on the earth.

BYRD, brave and able young American flyer, returns to America from his flight over the north pole, and is nobly received by the public, the mayor of New York and a big committee.

"Aviation has pulled the teeth of the Arctic," Commander Byrd tells Mayor Walker. "Flying over the pole was no harder than flying anywhere else. In fact, it is easier, little wind in the cold regions."

The most beautiful thing about Commander Byrd's homecoming was the expression on his mother's face as she stood beside him on the ship that brought him home.

THIS morning at the Strangeway jail in Manchester, England, a woman will be hanged for murder. Thousands, in vain, signed a petition for mercy. The woman's three children, including a small baby boy, saw her in jail for the last time on Monday. Those children, destined to be pointed out through life, are punished more severely than their mother. But English law is thorough, relentless, and it does discourage murder — more than you can say for United States law.

A YOUNG man and his wife were found shot dead in their Long Island home yesterday and reporters were excited. It was a fashionable home in a fashionable neighborhood, and they were fashionable people. In addition, they were rich and, as a finishing touch, the husband had ancestors that came over in the Mayflower.

What did this couple, hurried from life, find in the other world? Is there aristocracy there? Did they wait, in line, for their turn?

WELLS DEFEATS MALLEY AT WESTWOOD

FORMER STATE GOLF CHAMPION WINS PLACE IN SEMI-FINALS

East Liverpool Man Downs Canton Foe, Four and Two.

HE IS FAVORITE

Bobby Jones Victor in British Open Tournament.

WESTWOOD COUNTRY CLUB., CLEVELAND, June 25. —J. M. Wells, of East Liverpool, twice former champion of Ohio amateur golfers, this morning defeated King Malley, of Canton and Delaware, 4 and 2, in the third round of the Buckeye tourney here and advanced to the semi-finals which will be played off this afternoon.

Malley, the 19-year-old flash and captain of the Ohio Wesleyan golf team, staged a brilliant attempt against the Ceramic City veteran, but Wells' machine-like golf followed an undeviating path to victory.

Going Like House Afire.

Wells got off to a good start, leading the college lad by a score of 3 up on the ninth hole and continued his sensational performance on the return route.

Malley yesterday defeated Sinclair Dean, the Lima bridegroom, 2 up, the inevitable jinx following Dean's medal play achievement.

Wells has been going like a house afire and in the opinion of many following his victory over Malley, is expected to pull through for the cup. He has shown a brand of super-golf especially on the greens, his sensational putting characterizing his conquest over Eli Ross, the Cleveland gardner. In that match Wells sank two 20-footers.

CINCINNATI, June 25—Peter Greis, 32, was recovering in General hospital today of poison which police said he drank. According to police, Greis is alleged to have said he tried death because his children wouldn't mind him.

HE WILL WAR ON OIL "BOOTER"

A billion dollars worth of damage is done to American motor cars annually by the use of "bootleg" motor oils. Acting on the evidence he possesses, Presiding Justice George W. Simpson, above, of the New York Commercial Frauds Courts proposes a nation-wide war against dishonest dealers who sell fraudulent lubricants.

BOND IS FILED IN $890 DAMAGE SUIT BY CITY

Stay of Execution in East End Church Case.

FIGHT RESUMED

Presbyterian Congregation Sued When Storm Caused Havoc.

Bond for $2,500 to act as a stay of execution was filed today in common pleas court by the City of East Liverpool in the case filed against it by the trustees of the Second Presbyterian church, wherein judgment against the city was rendered for $890.90 and costs of $196.70. This is the first move in an effort to carry the case to the appellate court.

The trustees sued the city for damages done to the church property by the overflowing of a run during a storm. After judgment had been handed down on the verdict of a jury, Solicitor Frank Hoover gave notice of appeal, but the bill of exceptions was not filed within the time limit, it is claimed.

An execution on city property was then asked by Attorney J. H. Brookes, counsel for the trustees, and Sheriff George Wright levied on the Sixth street lot owned by the municipality.

Filing the bond prevents the sale of the property by Sheriff Wright to satisfy the judgment. The bond was signed by Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Service Director J. W. Moore and Water Works Clerk F. K. Robinson.

MOTORIST FINED $1 AND COSTS

Abraham Rabinowitz paid a fine of $1 and costs after he pleaded guilty to a traffic violation before Municipal Judge Hanley this morning. He was arrested by Patrolman Roth last night when his car was found parked in front of the Columbia theatre, Sixth street.

APPLE CREEK SITE FAVORED FOR HOME OF FEEBLE MINDED

Harper's Recommendation is Conditionally Accepted.

GREEN OPPOSES

Proviso That State is Able to Purchase "at Fair Price."

COLUMBUS, June 25—By a vote of 4 to 1, the state control board today conditionally accepted the recommendation of Welfare Director Harper that the Apple Creek site, Wayne county, be chosen for the proposed northern Ohio state institution for feeble minded.

Representative Perry Green, Portage county, Republican, voted against acceptance after making an unsuccessful effort to have the board favor the Freedom site, Portage county.

Acceptance of the Apple Creek site is conditioned upon the state being able to purchase the land "at a fair price."

Carpenter Favors Plan.

Those voting in favor of the Apple Creek site are: Finance Director Baker, Democrat chairman of the board; Attorney General Crabbe, State Auditor Tracy and Senator Harry L. Carpenter, Steubenville, Republicans.

The vote was preceded by Green's plea for acceptance of the Freedom site, which he declared could be purchased for more than $80,000 less than the Apple Creek site. He stated also that the Freedom site was best located to serve all the people most economically.

The board, it was announced, will confer with State Highway Director Schiessinger and a representative of the state welfare department at once and arrange plans for arriving at the total amount the state will be willing to pay for the Apple Creek site. According to law a purchase of a site must be made through the highway director.

TORONTO MAN PAYS $50 FINE

H. N. Garee, Toronto, who was fined $50 and costs and his automobile license suspended for a period of 60 days by Municipal Judge Hanley after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, was released from custody today after his fine was paid.

Police are still holding Garee's machine in a local garage. When he was released this morning he was notified to send for it. His license plates are to be retained by the police as a means of enforcing the license suspension. The automobile license division at Columbus is also to be notified to issue no other license for Garee's car during the suspension period.

Frederick Wagner, 50 Years Old Dies In El Paso, Texas

Word of the death of Frederick Wagner, 50 years old, owner of the former Wagner monument works, Third and Washington, who succumbed in El Paso, Texas, was received in a telegram this morning by Dr. J. G. Reinartz, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran church.

Wagner operated a monument works here for many years, leaving the city a little more than two years ago.

He was a member of the Lutheran church.

N. B. O. P. READY FOR TREK TO ANNUAL CONVENTION AT ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Thirty-Sixth Session Will Open in Seashore Resort Hall Next Friday Morning.

DELEGATES LEAVE ON EARLY TRAIN

Consideration of Proposed General Ware Agreement Will be Chief Business.

Officials of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters today completed arrangements for the thirty-sixth annual convention, which will open next Friday morning in Odd Fellows' hall in Atlantic City.

President John T. Wood, Secretary John D. McGillivrey and other members of the executive board will form the advance guard on the trek to the seashore, while delegates from the western district will leave East Liverpool early Thursday morning to board Baltimore and Ohio excursion trains at Pittsburgh.

A proposed new general ware agreement with the United States Potters' association to replace the present pact which expires on October 1, will be the most important business to be considered by the delegates who are expected to be in session 10 days or two weeks.

Resolutions Prepared.

For the first time in the history of the organization, officers will not be elected this year as in 1925, the present executive board members were chosen for two-year terms.

The time limit for resolutions to be presented this year expired on June 1. All proposals are now in the hands of the secretary and will be referred to the resolutions committee.

Brotherhood officers today directed attention to the fact that East Liverpool delegates will be required to board the 5 a. m. train from the Cleveland and Pittsburgh station or the 5:20 interurban car from the Broadway terminal to reach Pittsburgh on time July 1 to board the 8:20 B. & O. train for Atlantic City.

Train Scehdule.

The train schedule out of Pittsburgh on July 1, over the B. & O. Railroad follows:

Leave Pittsburgh 8:20 a. m., 5:10 p. m., 10:30 p. m., 11:55 p. m.

Arrive Philadelphia 8:04 p. m. 5:36 a. m., 10:17 a. m., 12:22 p. m.

Leave Philadelphia 8:45 p. m., 7:00 a. m., 12:00 noon, 1:00 p. m.

Arrive Atlantic City 10:00 p. m., 8:20 a. m., 1:15 p. m., 2:20 p. m.

It is necessary to change at Philadelphia on all trains and transfer to the Chestnut Street Ferry. In addition to that change, it is necessary to change at Washington on trains leaving Pittsburgh 10:30 and 11:55 p. m., direct connections being made for Philadelphia.

The train leaving Pittsburgh 11:55 p. m., Standard Time, June 30, can be used in connection with these excursion tickets.

The fare for the round trip from Pittsburgh will be $15.60 and the fare from East Liverpool to Pittsburg and return will be $3.20, bringing the total train fare cost from East Liverpool to Atlantic City and return to $18.80.

STOLEN TOURING CAR RECOVERED

Chevrolet touring car, belonging to Adrian Azdell, Maplewood, stolen while parked in Washington street, near the Moose temple, last night, was located near the Franklin school, five miles from Chester, this morning. The car had been stripped of its tires, battery, tools and everything else removable, police were told. No theft insurance was carried on the machine.

One Rifle Bullet Kills Rat, Then Wounds Ohioan

ZANESVILLE, O., June 25—One bullet from a rifle killed a rat and seriously wounded a man in a local restaurant this morning. The bullet, fired by a patron named Murphy, passed through the body of the rat and then glanced upward from the floor and entered the abdomen of William Kazages, 44, Greek porter, 14 feet away. Kazages is seriously wounded and surgeons are probing for the bullet. He is in Good Samaritan hospital.

WATKIN FINED $300, CARRIES CASE HIGHER

Found Guilty of Dry Law Charge in City Court.

POSTS $600 BOND

Accused Denies he Furnished Half Pint of Whisky.

Decision of Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley in finding Albert Watkin, Ridgeway avenue potter, guilty upon a charge of furnishing liquor, for which he was fined $300 and costs yesterday afternoon, will be carried to the common pleas court in an effort to obtain a new trial.

Attorney W. A. O'Grady, who represented Watkin, has requested a bill of exceptions from the local court, indicating his intentions of carrying the case to the higher tribunal. No application for a new trial was made before Judge Hanley.

The fine, imposed by the local court, was not paid, but Watkins posted a $600 bond pending a ruling of the county tribunal. The bond was signed by the defendant's wife, Mrs. Albert Watkin, and John Hebron, Ravine street. Should the higher court decline to grant Watkin a new trial, he will be required to pay the fine.

Solicitor Frank Hoover, who represented the state at yesterday's hearing, said that Watkins had been convicted on liquor violations on two previous occasions.

Watkins was arrested Monday after he is alleged to have offered to sell a half pint of whisky to another man for $1. The transaction, it is alleged, was witnessed by Patrolman Norman McFarland who was hiding near the McNicol yellow ware plant in Ridgeway avenue where the violation is said to have occurred. The accused, in his defense, asserted that the officer had picked up the bottle containing the liquor from the ground and that it never had been in his possession.

Mail Clerk, Ill, Kills Himself in Hotel; Wife Invalid

COLUMBUS, June 25.—Burial arrangement were being made today for the body of the late Fred R. Hudson, 62, Chicago railway mail clerk, who committed suicide in his room at the Chittenden hotel here by cutting his throat and wrists. He had been suffering from a nervous breakdown. His widow is an invalid.

KLONDYKE LAD, 9, ARRESTED AS HE RIFLES SECOND DRAWER

Hall China Company's Postal Box is Ransacked.

LETTERS OPENED

Suspect, Police Say, Also Admits Theft of $34-500 Checks.

Robbery of the postoffice box of the Potters' National bank about two weeks ago, in which checks totaling approximately $34,500 were stolen, was solved today when a 9-year-old Klondyke boy, according to police, confessed.

Discarded Several Letters.

The confession followed the lad's arrest by Captain of Police Mason Conley last night after he is alleged to have rifled the Hall China company's postal drawer in the downtown post office.

The boy, who was permitted to return home pending an investigation by juvenile court officials, admitted both robberies, police said.

The suspect, according to the police claimed that he had found the mail drawer of the Hall China company unlocked. He said that he opened several letters, discarded some of the mail in a waste paper receptacle and left the remainder in the box which he closed. He is alleged to have been leaving the postoffice with a check in his hand when he attracted attention of a man who stopped him, took the check from him, turned it over to postoffice workers. It is then that the robbery of the box was discovered.

Find None of Missing Checks.

Police were immediately notified and a few minutes later Captain Conley, who had been given a description of the youngster, located him in the Diamond. He was taken to the city hall and, after a grilling, confessed, police asserted.

The boy at first said he had found the checks in the waste paper boxes but later admitted having rifled the mail drawers. He also said that he had opened the Potters' National bank box about two weeks ago, taking checks payable to the Homer Laughlin China company which he discarded near the doorway of the Newark shoe store, Sixth street, after he had made futile efforts to cash one of them at an automobile accessory establishment. None of the missing checks were found in the lad's possession at the time of his apprehension.

300 FARM GIRLS VISITORS HERE

Make Tour of Pottery and Stores During Forenoon.

Members of the Girls' club of the Agriculture Extension service, a branch of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau, came to East Liverpool today for a visit of the potteries and stores and a picnic.

The party, numbering more than 300, arrived from Lisbon about 10 o'clock this morning. The trip was made in automobiles. They were taken to Newell where they inspected the new No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company during the forenoon.

A basket dinner was served at Thompson park at noon. This was followed by a program of athletic events after which the visitors were to return to town where they were to visit the D. M. Ogilvie store for about an hour. They were to leave here at 4 o'clock.

The trip was arranged by Floyd Lower, county farm agent, with the Local Chamber of Commerce. The visitors were mainly from the rural districts.

One Man Killed, Another Injured In Plane Crash

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., June 25.—Frank Palmer, 20, a pugilist, was killed and Ralph Pabon, amateur aviator, was injured when their airplane crashed 300 feet to the ground here.

FRAME TABERNACLE IS ERECTED ON DIXONVILLE ROAD SITE FOR FREE METHODIST CAMP MEETING

When members of the dozen or more congregations in the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church gather at their camp meeting grounds in the Dixonville road, August 19-29, for their annual summer camp meeting, they will meet in a frame tabernacle, instead of a tent, which has been used in past years. The structure, which was started about six weeks ago, is nearing completion today.

The tabernacle, 105 feet in length and 70 feet in width, will have seating accommodations for 1,500 persons, while accommodations will be provided for an overflow crowd of 500.

The roof is now being shingled. The prime coat of paint has been applied, while the building will be given one more coat.

The structure is being erected almost entirely by volunteer help, and as a result about $1,500 has been saved. The lumber, hardware and other material cost about $3,500. It is so built that it can be closed during cool weather, the structure having 40 windows and 10 doors. It will be illuminated with electricity.

Part of the cost has been raised through public subscriptions. It is planned to liquidate the remainder of the deft during the camp meeting.

Five cottages have been erected on the grounds and others are contemplated. Approximately 100 tents will be pitched for the accommodation of the campers, who will attend the 10-day services.

Rev. J. P. Foy, of this city, superintendent of the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church, announced today that Rev. A. J. Beattie, Sharon, superintendent of the New Castle and Erie districts, will be the visiting evangelist. He will be assisted by Miss Adelaide Latshaw, New Brighton, who recently returned from Africa, where she has been engaged in missionary work.

Those voting in favor of the Apple Creek site are: Finance Director Baker, Democrat chairman of the board; Attorney General Crabbe, State Auditor Tracy and Senator Harry L. Carpenter, Steubenville, Republicans.

The vote was preceded by Green's plea for acceptance of the Freedom site, which he declared could be purchased for more than $80,000 less than the Apple Creek site. He stated also that the Freedom site was best located to serve all the people most economically.

The board, it was announced, will confer with State Highway Director Schiessinger and a representative of the state welfare department at once and arrange plans for arriving at the total amount the state will be willing to pay for the Apple Creek site. According to law a purchase of a site must be made through the highway director.

TORONTO MAN PAYS $50 FINE

H. N. Garee, Toronto, who was fined $50 and costs and his automobile license suspended for a period of 60 days by Municipal Judge Hanley after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, was released from custody today after his fine was paid.

Police are still holding Garee's machine in a local garage. When he was released this morning he was notified to send for it. His license plates are to be retained by the police as a means of enforcing the license suspension. The automobile license division at Columbus is also to be notified to issue no other license for Garee's car during the suspension period.

N. B. O. P. READY FOR TREK TO ANNUAL CONVENTION AT ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Thirty-Sixth Session Will Open in Seashore Resort Hall Next Friday Morning.

DELEGATES LEAVE ON EARLY TRAIN

Consideration of Proposed General Ware Agreement Will be Chief Business.

Officials of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters today completed arrangements for the thirty-sixth annual convention, which will open next Friday morning in Odd Fellows' hall in Atlantic City.

President John T. Wood, Secretary John D. McGillivrey and other members of the executive board will form the advance guard on the trek to the seashore, while delegates from the western district will leave East Liverpool early Thursday morning to board Baltimore and Ohio excursion trains at Pittsburgh.

A proposed new general ware agreement with the United States Potters' association to replace the present pact which expires on October 1, will be the most important business to be considered by the delegates who are expected to be in session 10 days or two weeks.

Resolutions Prepared.

For the first time in the history of the organization, officers will not be elected this year as in 1925, the present executive board members were chosen for two-year terms.

The time limit for resolutions to be presented this year expired on June 1. All proposals are now in the hands of the secretary and will be referred to the resolutions committee.

Brotherhood officers today directed attention to the fact that East Liverpool delegates will be required to board the 5 a. m. train from the Cleveland and Pittsburgh station or the 5:20 interurban car from the Broadway terminal to reach Pittsburgh on time July 1 to board the 8:20 B. & O. train for Atlantic City.

Train Scehdule.

The train schedule out of Pittsburgh on July 1, over the B. & O. Railroad follows:

Leave Pittsburgh 8:20 a. m., 5:10 p. m., 10:30 p. m., 11:55 p. m.

Arrive Philadelphia 8:04 p. m. 5:36 a. m., 10:17 a. m., 12:22 p. m.

Leave Philadelphia 8:45 p. m., 7:00 a. m., 12:00 noon, 1:00 p. m.

Arrive Atlantic City 10:00 p. m., 8:20 a. m., 1:15 p. m., 2:20 p. m.

It is necessary to change at Philadelphia on all trains and transfer to the Chestnut Street Ferry. In addition to that change, it is necessary to change at Washington on trains leaving Pittsburgh 10:30 and 11:55 p. m., direct connections being made for Philadelphia.

The train leaving Pittsburgh 11:55 p. m., Standard Time, June 30, can be used in connection with these excursion tickets.

The fare for the round trip from Pittsburgh will be $15.60 and the fare from East Liverpool to Pittsburg and return will be $3.20, bringing the total train fare cost from East Liverpool to Atlantic City and return to $18.80.

STOLEN TOURING CAR RECOVERED

Chevrolet touring car, belonging to Adrian Azdell, Maplewood, stolen while parked in Washington street, near the Moose temple, last night, was located near the Franklin school, five miles from Chester, this morning. The car had been stripped of its tires, battery, tools and everything else removable, police were told. No theft insurance was carried on the machine.

One Rifle Bullet Kills Rat, Then Wounds Ohioan

ZANESVILLE, O., June 25—One bullet from a rifle killed a rat and seriously wounded a man in a local restaurant this morning. The bullet, fired by a patron named Murphy, passed through the body of the rat and then glanced upward from the floor and entered the abdomen of William Kazages, 44, Greek porter, 14 feet away. Kazages is seriously wounded and surgeons are probing for the bullet. He is in Good Samaritan hospital.

WATKIN FINED $300, CARRIES CASE HIGHER

Found Guilty of Dry Law Charge in City Court.

POSTS $600 BOND

Accused Denies he Furnished Half Pint of Whisky.

Decision of Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley in finding Albert Watkin, Ridgeway avenue potter, guilty upon a charge of furnishing liquor, for which he was fined $300 and costs yesterday afternoon, will be carried to the common pleas court in an effort to obtain a new trial.

Attorney W. A. O'Grady, who represented Watkin, has requested a bill of exceptions from the local court, indicating his intentions of carrying the case to the higher tribunal. No application for a new trial was made before Judge Hanley.

The fine, imposed by the local court, was not paid, but Watkins posted a $600 bond pending a ruling of the county tribunal. The bond was signed by the defendant's wife, Mrs. Albert Watkin, and John Hebron, Ravine street. Should the higher court decline to grant Watkin a new trial, he will be required to pay the fine.

Solicitor Frank Hoover, who represented the state at yesterday's hearing, said that Watkins had been convicted on liquor violations on two previous occasions.

Watkins was arrested Monday after he is alleged to have offered to sell a half pint of whisky to another man for $1. The transaction, it is alleged, was witnessed by Patrolman Norman McFarland who was hiding near the McNicol yellow ware plant in Ridgeway avenue where the violation is said to have occurred. The accused, in his defense, asserted that the officer had picked up the bottle containing the liquor from the ground and that it never had been in his possession.

Mail Clerk, Ill, Kills Himself in Hotel; Wife Invalid

COLUMBUS, June 25.—Burial arrangement were being made today for the body of the late Fred R. His widow is an invalid.

KLONDYKE LAD, 9, ARRESTED AS HE RIFLES SECOND DRAWER

Hall China Company's Postal Box is Ransacked.

LETTERS OPENED

Suspect, Police Say, Also Admits Theft of $34-500 Checks.

Robbery of the postoffice box of the Potters' National bank about two weeks ago, in which checks totaling approximately $34,500 were stolen, was solved today when a 9-year-old Klondyke boy, according to police, confessed.

Discarded Several Letters.

The confession followed the lad's arrest by Captain of Police Mason Conley last night after he is alleged to have rifled the Hall China company's postal drawer in the downtown post office.

The boy, who was permitted to return home pending an investigation by juvenile court officials, admitted both robberies, police said.

The suspect, according to the police claimed that he had found the mail drawer of the Hall China company unlocked. He said that he opened several letters, discarded some of the mail in a waste paper receptacle and left the remainder in the box which he closed. He is alleged to have been leaving the postoffice with a check in his hand when he attracted attention of a man who stopped him, took the check from him, turned it over to postoffice workers. It is then that the robbery of the box was discovered.

Find None of Missing Checks.

Police were immediately notified and a few minutes later Captain Conley, who had been given a description of the youngster, located him in the Diamond. He was taken to the city hall and, after a grilling, confessed, police asserted.

The boy at first said he had found the checks in the waste paper boxes but later admitted having rifled the mail drawers. He also said that he had opened the Potters' National bank box about two weeks ago, taking checks payable to the Homer Laughlin China company which he discarded near the doorway of the Newark shoe store, Sixth street, after he had made futile efforts to cash one of them at an automobile accessory establishment. None of the missing checks were found in the lad's possession at the time of his apprehension.

300 FARM GIRLS VISITORS HERE

Make Tour of Pottery and Stores During Forenoon.

Members of the Girls' club of the Agriculture Extension service, a branch of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau, came to East Liverpool today for a visit of the potteries and stores and a picnic.

The party, numbering more than 300, arrived from Lisbon about 10 o'clock this morning. The trip was made in automobiles. They were taken to Newell where they inspected the new No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company during the forenoon.

A basket dinner was served at Thompson park at noon. This was followed by a program of athletic events after which the visitors were to return to town where they were to visit the D. M. Ogilvie store for about an hour. They were to leave here at 4 o'clock.

The trip was arranged by Floyd Lower, county farm agent, with the Local Chamber of Commerce. The visitors were mainly from the rural districts.

FRAME TABERNACLE IS ERECTED ON DIXONVILLE ROAD SITE FOR FREE METHODIST CAMP MEETING

When members of the dozen or more congregations in the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church gather at their camp meeting grounds in the Dixonville road, August 19-29, for their annual summer camp meeting, they will meet in a frame tabernacle, instead of a tent, which has been used in past years. The structure, which was started about six weeks ago, is nearing completion today.

The tabernacle, 105 feet in length and 70 feet in width, will have seating accommodations for 1,500 persons, while accommodations will be provided for an overflow crowd of 500.

The roof is now being shingled. The prime coat of paint has been applied, while the building will be given one more coat.

The structure is being erected almost entirely by volunteer help, and as a result about $1,500 has been saved. The lumber, hardware and other material cost about $3,500. It is so built that it can be closed during cool weather, the structure having 40 windows and 10 doors. It will be illuminated with electricity.

Part of the cost has been raised through public subscriptions. It is planned to liquidate the remainder of the deft during the camp meeting.

Five cottages have been erected on the grounds and others are contemplated. Approximately 100 tents will be pitched for the accommodation of the campers, who will attend the 10-day services.

Rev. J. P. Foy, of this city, superintendent of the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church, announced today that Rev. A. J. Beattie, Sharon, superintendent of the New Castle and Erie districts, will be the visiting evangelist. He will be assisted by Miss Adelaide Latshaw, New Brighton, who recently returned from Africa, where she has been engaged in missionary work.

"MANY a mickle makes a muckle," and Uncle Sam realizes it, thanks to Secretary Mellon. To say that the Coolidge-Mellon program cuts $835,000,000 more from the public debt this year, means a saving every year hereafter of $33,000,000 in interest alone. That amount of money invested for a few years in national improvements would eliminate swamps, deserts, get rid of mosquitoes, and be worth to this country more than our total national debt.

The debt in August, 1919, was twenty six and one-half billions. Since then the debt has been reduced to nineteen and a half billions.s

If we could find money for national improvements as easily as for war, this country would be much improved.

WEDNESDAY 60,000 students from Catholic parochial schools, academies and universities participated in Chicago's Eucharistic services. On the previous night 230,000 men, members of the Holy Name society, lighted simuleaneously 230,000 candles, illuminating the great field.

The light of these candles, physically speaking, could not penetrate far into the night through which this planet is whirling.

But bearers of the candles could reasonably hope that each was identified and counted above, where each falling sparrow is noticed and the hairs are counted on the heads of all human beings, now numbering about 1,000,000,000, on the earth.

BYRD, brave and able young American flyer, returns to America from his flight over the north pole, and is nobly received by the public, the mayor of New York and a big committee.

"Aviation has pulled the teeth of the Arctic," Commander Byrd tells Mayor Walker. "Flying over the pole was no harder than flying anywhere else. In fact, it is easier, little wind in the cold regions."

The most beautiful thing about Commander Byrd's homecoming was the expression on his mother's face as she stood beside him on the ship that brought him home.

THIS morning at the Strangeway jail in Manchester, England, a woman will be hanged for murder. Thousands, in vain, signed a petition for mercy. The woman's three children, including a small baby boy, saw her in jail for the last time on Monday. Those children, destined to be pointed out through life, are punished more severely than their mother. But English law is thorough, relentless, and it does discourage murder — more than you can say for United States law.

A YOUNG man and his wife were found shot dead in their Long Island home yesterday and reporters were excited. It was a fashionable home in a fashionable neighborhood, and they were fashionable people. In addition, they were rich and, as a finishing touch, the husband had ancestors that came over in the Mayflower.

What did this couple, hurried from life, find in the other world? Is there aristocracy there? Did they wait, in line, for their turn?

WELLS DEFEATS MALLEY AT WESTWOOD

FORMER STATE GOLF CHAMPION WINS PLACE IN SEMI-FINALS

East Liverpool Man Downs Canton Foe, Four and Two.

HE IS FAVORITE

Bobby Jones Victor in British Open Tournament.

WESTWOOD COUNTRY CLUB., CLEVELAND, June 25. —J. M. Wells, of East Liverpool, twice former champion of Ohio amateur golfers, this morning defeated King Malley, of Canton and Delaware, 4 and 2, in the third round of the Buckeye tourney here and advanced to the semi-finals which will be played off this afternoon.

Malley, the 19-year-old flash and captain of the Ohio Wesleyan golf team, staged a brilliant attempt against the Ceramic City veteran, but Wells' machine-like golf followed an undeviating path to victory.

Going Like House Afire.

Wells got off to a good start, leading the college lad by a score of 3 up on the ninth hole and continued his sensational performance on the return route.

Malley yesterday defeated Sinclair Dean, the Lima bridegroom, 2 up, the inevitable jinx following Dean's medal play achievement.

Wells has been going like a house afire and in the opinion of many following his victory over Malley, is expected to pull through for the cup. He has shown a brand of super golf especially on the greens, his sensational putting characterizing his conquest over Eli Ross, the Cleveland gardner. In that match Wells sank two 20-footers.

BOND IS FILED IN $890 DAMAGE SUIT BY CITY

Stay of Execution in East End Church Case.

FIGHT RESUMED

Presbyterian Congregation Sued When Storm Caused Havoc.

Bond for $2,500 to act as a stay of execution was filed today in common pleas court by the City of East Liverpool in the case filed against it by the trustees of the Second Presbyterian church, wherein judgment against the city was rendered for $890.90 and costs of $196.70. This is the first move in an effort to carry the case to the appellate court.

The trustees sued the city for damages done to the church property by the overflowing of a run during a storm. After judgment had been handed down on the verdict of a jury, Solicitor Frank Hoover gave notice of appeal, but the bill of exceptions was not filed within the time limit, it is claimed.

An execution on city property was then asked by Attorney J. H. Brookes, counsel for the trustees, and Sheriff George Wright levied on the Sixth street lot owned by the municipality.

Filing the bond prevents the sale of the property by Sheriff Wright to satisfy the judgment. The bond was signed by Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Service Director J. W. Moore and Water Works Clerk F. K. Robinson.

MOTORIST FINED $1 AND COSTS

Abraham Rabinowitz paid a fine of $1 and costs after he pleaded guilty to a traffic violation before Municipal Judge Hanley this morning. He was arrested by Patrolman Roth last night when his car was found parked in front of the Columbia theatre, Sixth street.

APPLE CREEK SITE FAVORED FOR HOME OF FEEBLE MINDED

Harper's Recommendation is Conditionally Accepted.

GREEN OPPOSES

Proviso That State is Able to Purchase "at Fair Price."

COLUMBUS, June 25—By a vote of 4 to 1, the state control board today conditionally accepted the recommendation of Welfare Director Harper that the Apple Creek site, Wayne county, be chosen for the proposed northern Ohio state institution for feeble minded.

Representative Perry Green, Portage county, Republican, voted against acceptance after making an unsuccessful effort to have the board favor the Freedom site, Portage county.

Acceptance of the Apple Creek site is conditioned upon the state being able to purchase the land "at a fair price."

Carpenter Favors Plan.

Those voting in favor of the Apple Creek site are: Finance Director Baker, Democrat chairman of the board; Attorney General Crabbe, State Auditor Tracy and Senator Harry L. Carpenter, Steubenville, Republicans.

The vote was preceded by Green's plea for acceptance of the Freedom site, which he declared could be purchased for more than $80,000 less than the Apple Creek site. He stated also that the Freedom site was best located to serve all the people most economically.

FRAME TABERNACLE IS ERECTED ON DIXONVILLE ROAD SITE FOR FREE METHODIST CAMP MEETING

When members of the dozen or more congregations in the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church gather at their camp meeting grounds in the Dixonville road, August 19-29, for their annual summer camp meeting, they will meet in a frame tabernacle, instead of a tent, which has been used in past years. The structure, which was started about six weeks ago, is nearing completion today.

The tabernacle, 105 feet in length and 70 feet in width, will have seating accommodations for 1,500 persons, while accommodations will be provided for an overflow crowd of 500.

The roof is now being shingled. The prime coat of paint has been applied, while the building will be given one more coat.

The structure is being erected almost entirely by volunteer help, and as a result about $1,500 has been saved. The lumber, hardware and other material cost about $3,500. It is so built that it can be closed during cool weather, the structure having 40 windows and 10 doors. It will be illuminated with electricity.

Part of the cost has been raised through public subscriptions. It is planned to liquidate the remainder of the deft during the camp meeting.

Five cottages have been erected on the grounds and others are contemplated. Approximately 100 tents will be pitched for the accommodation of the campers, who will attend the 10-day services.

Rev. J. P. Foy, of this city, superintendent of the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church, announced today that Rev. A. J. Beattie, Sharon, superintendent of the New Castle and Erie districts, will be the visiting evangelist. He will be assisted by Miss Adelaide Latshaw, New Brighton, who recently returned from Africa, where she has been engaged in missionary work.

FILM ACTRESSES IN U. S. BEST DRESSED IS FRENCH EDICT

PARIS—Paul Poiret, the world's arbiter of female elegance, believes American women the best dressed of all cinema actresses.

"You want to know in what films I have found the women the best dressed? I'll reply without hesitating, in the American film. American women seem to have a certain audacity in carrying off startling creations which are never in contradistinction to good taste. They have exquisite figures and it is the greatest pleasure for me when I am commissioned to make costumes for an American screen artist."

Monsieur Poiret does not believe in the "garconne" style. "I am the firm opponent of any movement to masculanize 'la femme.' I repudiate bobbed hair and abhor that montrosity, the dinner jacket. Woman is most charming when she is most woman."

Edged Tools

Isn't it how well we do our work, rather than how much work we do that counts? To our minds "quantity production" is not half so important as quality production! Using part of our time to keep fit for good work is better than spending all of our time at work not so good.

Did you read the message of Edward W. Edwards, industrial executive, in the American magazine? "As pleasure gives you a new edge for your work, the time devoted to it can no more be called idle than can the time a good workman gives to sharpening his tools."

First Arctic Expedition to Carry U. S. Women Is On Way

For the first time three American women are on their way into the far north. They are members of the new MacMillan-Field Museum expedition which is on its way to Greenland to study the strange life of the far north. Above are the three feminine members of the party, left to right: Mrs. Rose Metcalf, Miss Marion Smith and Miss Maude Fisher. Below, Stanley Field bids bon voyage to Captain Donald F. MacMillan, head of the expedition, and Captain John Crowley.

British Royal Clothes Okay But Greatest Men Are Slovens

King's and Prince's Coats Superbly Cut—Premier is no Beau Brummel.

LONDON—The dress of British statesmen and novelists is attacked with the bitter and acrid pen of the editor of the "Tailor and Cutter," a trade journal devoted exclusively to tailoring and also to cutting.

His big wail is the sloveliness of the chief names in British politics and letters. True loyalist that he is, he has nothing but good to say of the way the royal family turn out, but as to the statesmen and writers, he has many hard words.

"Public men have duties as well as privileges," he says, "and one of their obligations is to make a good appearance—to cut a fine figure before the world."

"In other words," this sage of the waistline declares, "a good mental outfit may be somewhat discounted by an inferior sartorial one. A good sartorial outfit may not get man to the winning post or the achievement of his most ambitious projects, yet it will not prove a hindrance."

The King's Clothes.

"It is very gratifying to say," says this true kings-man and arbiter elegantiarum, "that our royal family reach a high standard. His majesty the king pays close attention to attire, favoring for the most part frock (Prince Alberts) or lounge suits and is rarely seen in the morning (or walking) suit.

"The king's suits are moderate, suave, and beautifully tailored. Personal notes are the side creases to the trousers and the tie passed through a ring."

"The Prince of Wales in formal dress is irreproachable," continues this sage of Old Burlington street, "his morning coats being superbly cut. In sporting clothes, he is more adventurous; he set the fashion for Fair Isle pull-overs.

"His royal highness is also noted for an attractive jauntiness which expresses itself in many ways. His clothes convey his personality.

Duke of York Correct.

"The Duke of York is always correctly dressed, but never indulges in his brother's originality. His upright figure is an excellent model. The Duke of Connaught and Lord Lascelles are invariably well-groomed and wear their clothes with distinction."

Having put royalty on their very proper sartorial pedestal, the editor starts out to flay the lower beings in the shape of cabinet ministers and the lesser breed of politicians.

"Although Mr. Baldwin is better dressed than formerly," he writes, "he still falls far short of being a Beau Brummell. There is nothing exactly the matter with his clothes, but he just does not know how to wear them.

"Sir Austin Chamberlain possesses the grand manner and wears his clothes with an air.

Birkenhead Best Dressed.

"Lord Birkenhead is classed as one of the best dressed men, either in formal or lounge dress. Mr. Amery, the colonial secretary, is slick, smart and dapper."

"Lord Balfour," he says, "has the tidiest mind, but the untidiest of clothes. He is well within the Salisbury tradition. His uncle, the famous Lord Salisbury, was the despair—sartorially—of the late king. His nephews, Lord Cecil of Charnwood and Lord Hugh Cecil, are the despair of everyone.

"Lord Balfour is never braced up; his coats always 'wing' away; he wears an old-fashioned collar and tie on every possible occasion. His neckwear suggests a country Methodist preacher."

The fashion joke of the cabinet apparently is Winston Churchill.

"His hats have become a legend. His astrachan trimmed fur coat suggests the vaudeville booking agent rather than the statesman. Although his finance may not be Gladstonian, his collars are.

Lloyd George's Faults.

"Lloyd George is well tailored, but there are too many creases. Perhaps this is due to his Celtic temperament and his arm-waving gesticulations when he is making a speech.

"Ramsey MacDonald sometimes is very circumspect and sometimes very dowdy. He is a compound—as far as clothes are concerned—of Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde.

"J. H. Thomas, the railwaymen's leader, sometimes looks like a young guards Ensign coming from his Sunday morning stroll in the park and sometimes looks as though he has just been called up from the engine room.

"Of the other Labor men, Mr. Oswald Moseley is the Beau Brummel, but J. H. Clyne and Sydney Webb are the limit of untidiness.

"George Bernard Shaw's dress, like his opinions, is distinctly unconventional. Yet despite his 70 years, his figure is still upright and he carries off a rough tweed suit with distinction.

"Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the last time I saw him, was wearing a black waistcoat with a navy blue jacket and trousers; Arnold Bennett dresses like a true society man. H. G. Wells is always neatly and correctly attired."

Ankle Competition Passes.

At the annual Hounslow hospital fete in London a feature for years has been the dainty ankle competition, but it was eliminated this year. A. J. Luto, chairman of the demonstration committee, has announced that due to the vigorous outdoor sports indulged in by women and the new era wherein women work and walk in competition with men, the dainty ankle is passing. In fact, he said it already had passed, generally speaking.

Balloon Pants Bring Trouble to Young Gotham Collegiate

NEW YORK.—It is dangerous at times to be "collegiate" in New York.

A gang of boys, took a deep interest in Isadore's sartorial makeup.

"Get hep to the balloon tires," shouted one.

Isadore walked over to the gang and demanded an apology.

When the fight was over Isadore was lying on the sidewalk with a stab wound. He will recover.

Pastor Refuses Raise.

During his pastorate of only five months, Rev. J. Earle Edwards, pastor of the Queens Baptist church in Queens Village, Long Island, increased his church membership from 89 to 252, and when the church offered to increase his salary $500 he refused it.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1926.

Come On, Joe Wells!

For the third time in five years, laurels in the Ohio amateur golf championship may rest upon the brow of an East Liverpool district man.

Joseph M. Wells, a Ceramic City product and twice state title holder by reason of his sensational victories in 1922 and 1924, is a favorite in the 1926 tournament now under way on the Westwood Country club course at Cleveland.

Going like a house afire, the youthful pottery manager whose ability on the links has kept the clay-making center on the golf map for many years, was the winner in the first and second rounds yesterday, when he put Art Johnson and Eli Ross, both of the Forest City, out of the running.

Wells faces a hard test today, for this morning he will oppose King Malley, 19-year-old Canton boy, who yesterday defeated Sinclair Dean, 20-year-old Lima bridegroom and medalist of the Westwood matches.

And although the ability of Eddie Hasmann, of Cleveland, to whom Wells surrendered the championship at the Portage Country club, Akron, last year, and Jack Munro, of Zanesville, also a former champion, who are still in running, is recognized, the scores of golfers who have watched the remarkable performance of the East Liverpool man, cannot see how he can lose. They base their judgment upon his steady, consistent putting and approaching that has characterized his playing so far in the qualifying rounds and match play. And this on a course, with its hazardous routes over ravines, lakes and gulleys which account for the many high scores made in the qualifying rounds by adepts at the game. In fact, so difficult is the course that no golfer, especially Wells' fellow East Liverpool entrants, should be ashamed of their cards.

East Liverpool eyes will be centered on the Cleveland links today, for if former Champion Joe Wells is successful in his matches during the forenoon and afternoon he will enter the finals tomorrow for the title. And thousands of Ceramic City friends will be rooting for him.

The Golden Tide

The most striking business fact in the country today is its vast volume of credit. That means much, in cause and effect.

Besides all the billions in gold piled up in American treasury and bank vaults since the war, there is a golden tide still rolling in. A financial observer says we receive a billion dollars a year from abroad, to pay principal and interest on foreign loans, public and private. Along with this, there is a big excess of current income at home.

Both of these great funds are calling for new employment. Money has to be put to work. Not long ago Americans were reinvesting a great deal of the national income abroad. But now, with foreign affairs so uncertain, and with more money than ever available for investment, cautious Americans are afraid to send it abroad. So the big, growing surplus is being reinvested at home.

That, doubtless, is one of the important factors in the new rise of American securities. It tends to lower interest rates. It makes money "easier" than money usually is in this favored land, and immensely easier than money is in any other land today. Hardly any legitimate enterprise need go now without necessary funds, if its case is properly presented in the right quarters.

The strange thing about it all is that with this enormous volume of money and credit, there is, so far, little inflation. Also, oddly enough, what inflation exists seems to be found mainly at the bottom of the economic system rather than the top; it is the great expansion of installment buying.

Gains In Cheese

Did you get your half a pound of cheese in 1925? Imported cheese, that is. You probably had more than a half pound of cottage cheese and locally made cream cheese and cooking cheese with macaroni and in rarebits and souffles. But the United States, which ranks third as an importer of cheese, took in from without its borders 62,404,000 pounds, from Italy, Switzerland, France, the Netherlands and Greece.

The whole world consumed some 50,000,000 pounds more in 1925 than in 1924. What this means is hard to tell. Perhaps people are eating less meat. Perhaps they are coming back to normal after the war, and can afford to buy more cheese. Both are cheerful thoughts. Less meat, more green vegetables and dairy products mean less of the degenerate diseases in later life.

And now, if we can believe some of our enterprising publicity people, what America needs is a car for every member of the family.

We hate to seem over-suspicious; but it doesn't seem altogether preposterous that this prophecy that next winter is to be the coldest ever was inspired by the the coal industry.

Somebody who has been counting American illiterates finds there are 5,000,000 of them. That seems to account for the way drivers ignore traffic signs.

"Customs Collections Breaking All Records," showing that Americans are so devoted to home industries that they'll pay any price for foreign goods.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 25. — Thoughts while strolling: The odd sparkle of a beauty salon. A policeman carries two children across the street. The frantic red of hastily rouged lips. Why does a Spanish dancer carry a flower between her teeth?

Prim ladies who act as decoys for sight-seeing wagons. Sitting with hands folded in their laps. Whatever became of the boys who wore flat-crowned derbies down to their ears? Movies seem to have taken the place of nurseries. The cloying hot blasts from subway kiosks.

Ladies seem to be picking Argentine corespondents this summer. A bird of prey look appeals to women. The jovial poet—Don Marquis. Pink cheeked and tubby. Fifty Avenue's flow of fashion—the extremes of imagination and banality.

A bank window smashed. Marilyn Miller in Fauntleroy costume. The florist who wears white gloves and heliotrope shirts. Lizard skin shoes. Capacious monogrammed bags. Face parasols with foot long handles. About as big as a pie pan.

A five minute shower and then the sun pops out again. Scarves woven with New York views. Wonder what a fur shop clerk thinks about in the summer time? A curio window and the usual mysterious aura about pieces of jade, crystal and lapis lazuli.

More side street garages made over into concrete homes. A former bank burglar who reformed and opened a book shop—the evolution of a hard boiled egg. Knots of traffic with their medleys of crowing auto horns.

A woman winks, a man joins her and they saunter toward the park. Such is romance in a big city. Shadows unfurl arabesque patterns. And here I am on a hospital street. Faint iodoform fumes. And those sexless white-shrouded figures moving from window to window.

I wouldn't have believed it, so you don't have to, but it's true. Along Park Avenue near 49th street a lady had a dog on a leash. The dog's collar was of leather with a celluloid trimming which formed a wing collar and a black bow tie like men wear with dinner clothes. "She fixes him up that way every evening," said the policeman on the corner. Evening clothes for dogs, gosh! Still many of the dog shops display kiyoodle blankets with tiny pockets carrying handkerchiefs, and rubber dog boots have been on sale for years although I have never seen them worn.

The Lambs is perhaps the best known social club in New York. It was formed by five lonely actors in 1874. Before that players had no club, and gathered along the sidewalk around Union Square. The name—The Lambs'—came from England. Players in England when things were dull used to say: "Let's drop around and see the Lambs"—meaning Charles and Mary Lamb, noted for their pleasant hospitality and especial fondness for people of the stage. The Lambs is used more perhaps by members than any club in town. The Players—founded by Edwin Booth—is a little off the beaten path, and seems to have more writers and artists as members than actors. The Lambs is on West 44th street, in the heart of the Rialto. There is always a gay group on the stoop or inside.

The crook with the royal gestures of a court courtier is as common as orange-hued taxis in Manhattan, but the pinnacle of elegance has been reached by one who quitted a smart hotel dining room at breakfast because a waiter served his eggs slightly overboiled. That afternoon he was arrested for snatching a crippled lady's purse on West 36th street.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A Defender of France.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—While Congress, having settled all of the other war debts of large size due this country, keeps the French debt before it for argument and debate, a unique contest has arisen in the house of representatives because out of the 435 members of that body there is but one man who earnestly, consistently, and emphatically upholds the French viewpoint whenever the subject of the war debt is raised.

Scores of members have from time to time arisen to hurl verbal rocks at France and at the French debt settlement as proposed by the debt commission. These members seldom fail to assert that France is very prosperous, or that France is not being taxed to any great extent, or that France is maintaining an enormous standing army with money she might use to pay her debts, or that the United States had to "pay for the trenches our boys fought in,' or that France is guilty of some other serious shortcomings which make it necessary for us to squeeze down harder for the four billion dollars France borrowed from us in 1917-18.

To all of these attacks on France, Representative A. Piatt Andrew, of Massachusetts, quietly arises to reply. Others may be ready to vote for the debt settlement and get it over with, but apparently Mr. Andrew alone is concerned in having the case of France favorably presented to the congress and to the public of the United States.

Mr. Andrew has made quite a lot of speeches about France. Sometimes he does not bother to deliver his speeches in answer to attacks on France, but merely gets permission to print them in the record. When he does speak he does not do so with any degree of violence, but it is noted that he has been to a great deal of trouble to assemble a great many facts for what he has to say.

The oratorial contest on the French question in the house has become one of Andrew against the field, and Mr. Andrew goes smilingly along on this basis, and while the odds are fairly heavy against him, he is gradually attracting a good deal of attention by his persistent advocacy of what he terms a fair understanding of the problems of France.

Mr. Andrew was once an assistant secretary of the treasury, and he likes to deal with precise facts and figures. He is a man of method. He was an officer of the A. E. F. and has traveled abroad on other occasions, and he knows where to find the facts he wants about foreign affairs. Thus while he plays a rather lone hand in defending France, he has some advantage over those representatives who repeat allegations about French affairs which they have read in the papers or heard somebody else say.

What France's Army Obsts.

Thus it happened that after a good many members of the house had talked about the militarism of France and the great army she maintains, Mr. Andrew produced a lot of figures on the subject. His figures showed that France spent in the current year for her armed forces just $192,000,000, whereas prior to the War she spent $349,000,000, or nearly twice as much. He also offered figures to show that the army of France is now 646,000 strong, whereas her former peacetime army was 934,000 strong. He asserted that while France has cut her military expenses below pre-war figures, the United States has doubled her per-war military costs, and we are presumed to be a peaceable people.

Allegations of this sort have not apparently made a deep or lasting impression on the congressional critics of France. Every day or two finds another member telling his colleagues that France is all wrong, and nobody quotes Mr. Andrew's statistics except Mr. Andrew. But the quiet gentleman from Massachusetts keeps plugging right along with his facts and figures.

When it is stated that France alone of European countries has no unemployment, Mr. Andrew replies that France had 893,000 buildings and their contents destroyed by the war, and 6,000 bridges smashed, and 8,000,000 acres of land upheaved, and that the able-bodied men she had left after the war have been very much employed trying to patch up some of these things, but that the employment has not enriched them any more than a man can get prosperous by rebuilding his house after it burns down.

After sitting by a number of times while it is asserted that the people of France are not taxed and will not be taxed and ought to be taxed, Mr. Andrew brought in some figures to show that they are now taxed 18.3 per cent of their pre-war income, which is less than post-war income, and are being taxed more each year and more than twice as much as Americans are taxed. And then he adds some figures compiled in Italy, whose debt was settled on a much easier basis than the proposed French settlement, to show that France is the only country in Europe whose present wealth is actually less than that of 1914.

Who Paid for the Trenches?

Several times in the course of debates Mr. Andrew has moved his opponents to a statement that the trouble with France is not with her people, but that her politicians are militaristic. After this happened now and again Mr. Andrew came forward with the statement that no military man, no hero of the war, had been in a high political office in France since the war. He suggested that Premier Herriott was a writer and a socialist, M. Painleve a professor and a radical and was accused of pacifism during the war, M. Doumer lost three sons in the war and was anything but a militarist today, and M. Briand is one of the leading radicals of France.

After the story that the United States paid for the trenches our boys fought in had been denied a score of times by the secretary of war and others, opponents of things French brought out the fact that even if we didn't rent the trenches, we rented the billets where our soldiers slept in the town and farm houses of France.

This set Mr. Andrew on another statistical search, and presently he reported that this was true, at least some times. He said we paid the people with whom soldiers were quartered, and that we paid them the same rate the French army paid them. This rate was fixed in 1877 by law, and was 20 centimes—about four cents at that time—if the soldier had a bed, and five centimes, one cent, if the soldier had shelter but no bed. Even this charge was seldom collected, usually only where private property was occupied regularly for some time.

So long as the French debt is before congress the debates of most everybody versus Andrew are likely to go on. Mr. Andrew says that since there are millions of formal Germans and their children in this country who are voters, and practically no French vote extant here, it is quite likely that attacks on the way France is governed and financed will continue in congress, and that the defense of France will not be so popular. He recently expressed his suspicion that the large number of former Italians who are now American voters has something to do with getting a more favorable debt settlement for Italy than is proposed for France.

So he goes along with his single handed fight for what he terms a fair understanding of the problems of France, and while he commands few votes in the house, he gains some respect for his perseverance.

That great numbers of Americans strongly favor making France pay to the last penhy, no matter what any other country pays on the war debt, is well understood in congress, and Mr. Andrew is probably not making himself many votes by upholding her cause. This does not seem to disturb his quest for facts and figures. Whatever happens to the debt settlement, he will have made his case in the record, and he thinks that sooner or later his facts and figures will get attention. Besides which he fought in France, and frankly admires the country and its courageous people.

Articles made in this country are more popular in the Orient than ever before.

AND WORTH THE MONEY, TOO!

A noted lawyer down in Texas, who labored under the defects of having a high temper and of being deaf, was trying a case in a courtroom presided over by a younger man, for whom the older practitioner had a small opinion.

Presently in an argument over a motion there was a clash between the lawyer and the judge. The judge ordered the lawyer to sit down, and as the lawyer, being deaf, didn't hear him and went on talking, the judge fined him $10 for contempt of court.

The lawyer leaned toward the clerk and cupped his hand behind his ear.

"What did he say?" he inquired.

"He find you $10," explained the clerk.

"For what?"

"For contempt of this court," said the clerk.

The lawyer shot a poisonous look toward the bench and reached a hand into his pocket.

"I'll pay it now," he said. "It's just a debt!"

GERMANY SAYS GAIN IS MADE BY INDUSTRIES

Favorable Indications in Increase in Exports.

TAXES ARE CUT

New Commercial Treaties, Too, are Booming Business.

WASHINGTON.—Frequent statements by high officials of the American government that German industry has passed the turning point and is on the upward road to recovery, apparently are borne out by the tentative proposals to France that the reparations bill will be settled in cash, and by advices to Secretary of Commerce Hoover from Commercial Attache F. W. Allport, of Berlin.

Allport reported that "a relaxation of industrial depression in Germany is evidenced by the continued decline in bankruptcy, receiverships, protested drafts and other business indicators."

Among the favorable indicators are general prospects for increased exports resulting from the program of trade promotion launched by the government. This includes federal and state guarantees on export credits to Russia, totaling 300,000,000 marks, federal insurance on export credits in general and the stimulation of industrial reorganization to permit lower production costs.

International Agreements.

Official approval is given to international agreements along the lines of the potash pact, lessening the dangers of price-cutting and over-production in export industries.

"The marked reduction in taxation on industry, and trade, together with vigorous negotiations for favorable commercial treaties, is expected to stimulate foreign trade," Allport said.

The conclusion of the treaty with Spain on May 7, is a notable example of this policy.

"During the past year, when provisional agreements were in effect with Spain, Germany's exports to that country had already exceeded pre-war figures.

"Further measures are planned toward a stricter control of the chartel price-fixing system, in order to permit a lower price level on the domestic market. The revival of German bonds with German residents abroad is being effected through the centralization of German chambers of commerce abroad into one association, through the numerous German business delegations traveling in foreign countries."

Improvement Announced.

Reports issued in Berlin by chambers of commerce, announces some improvement in industrial production, chiefly in textiles, electrical products, leather, shoes, lignite, chemicals and fertilizers, although a large part of this change is seasonal.

Total sales of automobiles are increasing. American interest in the market is shown by the opening of a new American assembling plant in Berlin with a daily production of about ten cars and an ultimate capacity of 50 cars.

The German dye trust has declared a 10 per cent dividend on its capital of 640,000,000 marks, according to Allport.

It was pointed out, however, that there are still unfavorable conditions in the various phases of German industry. The basis of the past year's depression, restricted markets, and lack of capital still remain. Unemployment remained widespread at 784,000 on May 1, though registering a 5 per cent decline in two weeks prior thereto.

Installment Buying Huge.

In 1925 the American public bought more than $5,000,000 worth of merchandise on the installment plan. Fully 75 per cent of automobiles and washing machines are bought on time payments while 80 per cent of the phonographs sold and 60 per cent of the vacuum cleaners purchased are acquired in that way.

U. S. DRY AGENTS SLAIN ON RUM SHIPS, BELIEF

Prohibition Officials Advised of Men's Disappearance.

BURIED AT SEA

Shipped as Members of Crew on Vessels of Smugglers.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—A number of government secret agents, employed in the higher phase of prohibition work, are mysteriously missing after "under cover" operations against the rum smugglers off the Atlantic coast, it was learned here today.

Prohibition officials have launched a quiet, but widespread investigation, to ascertain the truth of reports that have reached them that the agents were slain after they had shipped from the Bahamas and Cuba as members of the crews of rum-running ships and their bodies thrown overboard.

The plan of having these agents contrive to get aboard the rum runners as members of the crew at the ports of departure for the United States was conceived some months ago, and it has resulted in a number of ships being run directly into the arms of the coast guardsmen along the Atlantic seaboard. The work was voluntary, for it was realized that it involved great risk.

The main supply bases for the smugglers lie to the southeast, in the Bahamas, Cuba and the West Indies. It was to these points that the dry agents were dispatched.

Prohibition officials are confident that several of these agents have been detected. How many they do not know.

Seek Agreement With Britain.

This hazardous method of getting on the inside of the smuggling rings was made necessary, officials said, by the fact the United States is not yet permitted to place special agents openly in the principal supply bases to report on the activities of the rum runners.

It is this situation that Gen. L. C. Andrews hopes to remedy when he goes to London next month to negotiate a special agreement with the British government whereby this government would be permitted to place special agents in the Bahamas and other British possessions to check the movement of liquor to the United States.

The Mexican, Cuban and Canadian treaties, already negotiated, permit American agents to enter ports of these countries in the war against smugglers. It was said that a number of dry agents have hidden on rum [illegible] entered the territorial waters of the United States.

Scores of rum running ships have been captured by the coast guard in the last few months. Officials admitted that the problem of storage space for the confiscated ships is giving considerable concern.

Ships sold at auction invariable go back into the smuggling business. Failure of congress to enact legislation to correct this evil will handicap the authorities in suppressing smuggling, according to officials.

WOMAN SLAYS BROTHER-IN-LAW

"He Threatened to Give Love Potion," She Says.

CLEVELAND, June 25.—"He threatened to give me a love potion. I couldn't stand him. That's why I shot him."

This was the explanation today Mrs. Rose Demettio, 19, at liberty on a $10,000 bond effered for the fatal shooting last night of her brother-in-law, Joseph Stresso, 38.

Police said Mrs. Demettio related to them that Stresso had been making advances to her which were unwelcome. Early last night, according to her story, police said, Stresso went to the Demettio home and tried to get in. Mrs. Demettio locked the doors. Later when she thought he was gone, she told officers, she went outside but took a gun with her. Stresso had been hiding nearby, she claimed, and as he grabbed her she shot him.

Stresso was the father of five children. Mrs. Demettio has two children. She was released on a $10,000 bond furnished by her father, pending action of the grand jury.

WILSON SAYS HE DECLINED FEDERAL POST

Pennsylvania Democrat Tells of Offer of Appointment.

SPENT ONLY $88

Senatorial Nominee Witness in Slush Fund Quiz.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—William B. Wilson, who served as secretary of labor in the Wilson administrations, and who is now the Democratic nominess for the senate from Pennsylvania, created something of a sensation today when he took the witness stand before the Reed committee and testified that he had been offered an appointment on the new railroad mediation board since winning the senate nomination.

Wilson said the offer came to him "confidentially," and that he had rejected it. He declined to say who made the offer.

President Coolidge completed the personnel of the new board only a few days ago, after maintaining one vacancy for several days after originally naming of the five members of the new board.

Tells of Campaign Fund.

Wilson surprised the committee by saying he had spent only $88.81 to win the Democratic nomination. He added that his campaign committee, which also conducted the race of William E. Porter for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, spent only $10,000.

This statement brought smiles to members of the committee, who have heard of campaign funds ranging from the $195,000 of Governor Gifford Pinchot, to the $1,250,000 of Senator George Wharton Pepper.

The revelation that an effort had been made to get Wilson out of the Pennsylvania senatorial race created excitement at the hearing. It was brought out by Senator LaFollette, R., of Wisconsin.

"Was any effort made to get you to withdraw from this race?" asked Senator LaFollette.

"No."

"Were you offered a position?"

"Yes."

"What was it?"

"A position on the railroad mediation board," Wilson replied.

"That offer came following your nomination?"

"Yes."

"Did you accept the nomination?"

"I did not."

Produces Statement.

Wilson said he would not have mentioned the offer at all "if I had not been asked about it and been placed under oath to answer all questions."

When Senator Reed (D.) of Missouri, asked who had made the offer to him, Wilson said: "It came to me confidentially and I wish you wouldn't ask me that question."

"Very well it's none of our business," Reed agreed.

Senator King (D.) of Utah, declared Wilson would be "eminently fitted" for the post and that the selection would be a "very good one."

Wilson took the stand while Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, waited. Wheeler was to have taken the stand.

"My personal expenses were $88.81," said Wilson, producing an itemized statement to "show how the money was expended."

Gives Cost of Meals.

"I was associated in the campaign with a candidate for governor, William E. Porter, as running mate," Wilson added. "I am advised the campaign committee spent $10,000, some $4,000 of which has been paid and the remainder obligated."

Porter lost out to Judge Eugene Bonniwell, of Philadelphia, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, Wilson added.

"Did you contribute anything to the campaign?" asked Senator Reed.

"Not one cent except my personal expenses."

Reed read the items on Wilson's return. They consisted of railroad fares, meals, hotel bills and telegrams.

"I see your meals at the Penn Harris hotel (Harrisburg) are rather startling," said Reed. "I see meals at this hotel for 90 cents, 90 cents, 70 cents, 70 cents and there is one for 60 cents at a restaurant. Yes, you do go higher—here is $1.50 for one meal."

"Yes, senator, but they are correct," Wilson continued.

No Opposition in Primary.

Wilson said he had no opposition in the Democratic primary.

Wilson admitted he could have "stayed at home and been nominated without spending a cent."

Wilson told the committee that Vance McCormick, the Harrisburg publisher and a former Democratic national committee chairman, had assumed "the Democratic obligations" arising out of the campaign.

A. Nevin, Detrich, a former cashier at the Pennsylvania state treasury, told the committee about leaving a wallet, containing $1,200 or $1,300 in a safe deposit box in the treasury on May 13, five days before the primary. There was only one $1,000 bill in the wallet, he said.

Victorious Balloon Racers Return From Antwerp Contest

NEW YORK, June 25.—Ward T. Van Orman and Walter W. Morton, of Akron, Ohio, first Americans to win the international balloon races at Antwerp in 13 years, arrived today aboard the liner President Harding from Cherbourg.

They'll Sail Around the World In Gay Little Chinese Junk

With all the salt water between Boston and Vancouver—travelling eastward—between them and the end of their voyage, Captain and Mrs. Albert Nilson are ready to set sail in their Chinese junk for a round-the-world honeymoon tour. Their unusual craft is of authentic Chinese make, constructed of bamboo. It's sails are gaily colored.

MAN STRICKEN IN HIS AUTO

Joseph Sojka, Salem, Dies Suddenly of Apoplexy.

Joseph Sojka, 39, Arch street, Salem, is dead today as the result of apoplexy, with which he was stricken while driving an automobile along the Lisbon-Salem road.

Sojka, accompanied by his daughter and three sons, was returning from a ride to Lisbon when the man fell limp in his seat and his head dropped over on the shoulder of his daughter, who was seated beside him. The girl stopped the car with the emergency brake.

Unable to revive her father the girl halted a passing machine, in which a physician from Dayton was riding. After an examination he pronounced the man dead. The body was removed to Salem in an ambulance.

In addition to his four children, Sojka is survived by one sister and an uncle.

Funeral services will be conducted in the late home tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be made in Salem.

Orchestra Leader Charged With Death In Auto Accident

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Warrants charging Meyer Davis, the capital's "jazz king" and well known orchestra leader, with manslaughter and reckless driving were in the hands of Maryland constables today for service.

The warrants were issued by Hyattsville, Md., authorities as a result of a fatal automobile accident on the Baltimore-Washington pike, in which Bernard Booker, assistant general counsel for the Philadelphia Traction company, was killed. Booker was a passenger in Davis' machine which witnesses said was traveling at a rate of 60 miles an hour when it sideswiped another machine.

Former Local Man May Head Foreign War Vets of Ohio

YOUNGSTOWN, June 25. — Carl Feist, Canton, formerly of East Liverpool, department judge advocate, and Herman E. Werner, Akron, are leading contenders for the post of state commander, Veterans of Foreign Wars, who are holding their sixth annual encampment here this week. The encampment parade tonight is the high spot on today's program, with a military ball to follow.

Captain Francis J. Cook, department commander of Ohio, yesterday draped the statue of President William McKinley at the Niles memorial.

AKRON LABORER IS AUTO VICTIM

AKRON, O., June 25.—Rhoda McSwain, 50, was killed by an automobile driven by S. C. Seymour of Cuyahoga Falls late last night. McSwain became confused when he started to cross the street when several automobiles and a street car bore down on him. He was a laborer, married with two children.

Aimee McPherson Leads Search for Kidnapers' Shack

DOUGLAS, Ariz., June 25—Headed by the noted evangelist herself, a party of police officers and newspapermen left here early today for a trip across the border—18 miles away—in search of the kidnapers' shack where Aimee Semple McPherson claimed she was held for $500,000 ransom.

Mrs. McPherson yesterday evening headed an expedition into the region around Niggerhead mountain but the searchers found no trace of the cabin where the famed pastor of Angelus temple was held by two men and one woman.

Wooster Selected For Next Meet of Presbyterian Synod

WOOSTER, June 25.—For the fourth consecutive time the Presbyterian synod of Ohio will meet in Wooster in 1927.

This decision was made today when Wooster was selected as the next meeting place over Oxford.

The final business session of the convention was held this afternoon.

"Law enforcement" will be the subject of tomorrow's discussions and a pageant Sunday night will end the week's meeting.

Whittemore Gang Member is Given Long Prison Term

NEW YORK, June 25.—Another member of "Candy Kid" Whittemore's bandit gang paid his debt to society today.

Milton "Shuffles" Goldbert, accused as one of the principal lieutenants of Richard Whittemore in the looting of jewelry stores and banks of nearly a million dollars, stood before Judge Koenig in general sessions and heard a sentence of from 20 to 40 years in Sing Sing imposed upon him.

COMMUNIST M. P. LEAVES PRISON

LONDON, June 25.—S. Saklatvala, Communist member of the house of commons, who was arrested shortly after the opening of the British general strike, was released from prison today.

Y. M. C. A.'s Camp Pine Ridge, North of City, Opens Monday

Six Tents for Accommodation of First Group of Boys Are Erected in Madison Township.

Camp Pine Ridge, owned by the East Liverpool Y. M. C. A. and located in Madison township about eight miles north of this city, is in readiness today for the summer campaign season which will open Monday.

Six sleeping tents, each accommodating eight persons, have been erected for the first group of campers who will spend 12 days there. These tents will occupy a site on the hill just above the lodge.

Harvey Price, boys' work director at the Y, will be camp director, being assisted by three or four high school youths.

The first camp group will consist of boys between the ages of 10 and 12 years. The next 12-day period will be for a party of girls, after which the Junior boys, 12 to 15 years, will make the trip. Choir boys of St. Stephen's Episcopal church will use the camp from August 9 until August 21. The intermediate group of boys, from 15 to 19 years of age, will visit there from August 23 to September 4.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 25.—After a firm opening in which the speculative leaders sold from 1 to 2 points higher, stock prices declined sharply in the early trading today as the result of professional selling, directed chiefly against the motor and oil stocks at 5 per cent gain in the reserves of the New York federal reserve bank and a one per cent gain in the system as a whole emphasized the concentration of funds in the big central reservoirs of credit and the abundance of money at the financial centers. Call money was unchanged at 4¼ per cent.

Heavy offerings of Hudson motor and General Motors depressed prices for these stocks about 2 points, Hudson declining to the year's lowest price of 50¼, equivalent to about 59 on the old basis. Efforts to push down United States Steel and General Electric were not so successful, while Cast Iron Pipe, another speculative favorite, moved against the trend and rose 5 points to 192.

The market was largely professional, and supporters of the leading stocks provided good buying demand for the offerings. Skelly Oil resumed its advance and reached a new high at 36¾, while the General Petroleum-Standard Oil of New York combination also made a bid for higher values.

Commodities and foreign exchange markets were also unsettled.

MR. WHEELER tells Senator Reed that the Anti-Saloon league has spent $35,000,000 to pass the dry law. The trouble is, the country is not dry. Since the Anti-Saloon league spent the $35,000,000, the bootleggers have taken in more than a thousand millions.

LADY ASTOR, whom this country provided to be the first first woman member of parliament, demands an end of soft coal smoke nuisance in British cities. It would end in all cities if the people could realize that black smoke, shutting out the health-giving rays of the sun, shortens life, prevents recovery from sickness and, indirectly, commits murder.

Two Slayers Pay Death Penalty; One Is Cleveland Man

COLUMBUS, June 25.—Frank Liska, 42, Cleveland, wife murderer, met death early this morning in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary. Governor Donahey late Thursday refused the request of Liska's attorneys for a 30-day stay of execution. Liska was convicted of choking his wife to death and burning her body in a chicken coop which he fired after pouring kerosene on it.

OSSINING, N. Y., June 25.—Frank Daly, gangster, paid the penalty in the electric chair at Sing Sing shortly before midnight for the murder of two street railroad employes.

Love Letter Goads Man to Kill His Wife and Himself

GLEN HEAD, N. Y., June 25.—The name of the admirer in Mexico whose love letter goaded Sidney E. Brewster to slay his pretty young wife and himself in their home remained unrevealed today, although relatives of the family admitted they knew his identity.

The sender of the love letter is "old enough to be the father of Mrs. Brewster," it was said.

District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards absolved the dead woman of all blame at the coroner's inquest.

Ohio Salesman Dies In Illinois When Taxi Hits Train

DAYTON, June 25.—E. C. Pridy, 45, of West Milton, Ohio, was killed last night at Hoopston, Ill., near Chicago, when a taxicab in which he was an occupant crashed into a Nickle Plate frieght train, local police were informed early this morning.

Pridy was a salesman covering a route in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

BUMPER APPLE CROP PREDICTED

With a heavy crop of apples forecast for West Virginia and neighboring states, it would seem that only apples of the highest quality and best grade will find a ready and profitable sale this fall, states Doctor H. E. Knowlton, of the department of horticulture of the West Virginia college of agriculture. Because of the heavy set of fruit it will be very difficult to get size and color, he asserts. Trees that seem to have too much fruit should be thinned just after the June drop. This drop is occurring at the present time.

The results from five years' work in apple thinning at the West Virginia agricultural experiment station showed conclusively that for heavily laden trees thinning paid in the increased size and color of the fruit as well as helping to maintain the vigor and the shape of the tree. Limb breakage was eliminated also. On trees bearing good crops thinning in many cases doubled the net returns per tree. For most varieties thinning to a distance of six or seven inches apart gave the best results.

The investigations also showed that only a small portion of the cost of thinning should be charged against the actual operation, for the fruit removed would have to be removed anyway, with the cost of removal not much different in either case.

PRE-COMMUNION SERVICES HERE

Preparatory services will be held this evening in the First United Presbyterian church. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Ross Wilson, pastor of the Salineville United Presbyterian church. Sacrament of the Lord's supper will be observed at the morning services Sunday.

Communion services will be held Sunday morning in the First Presbyterian church, according to an announcement made today by the pastor, Rev. William T. McKee.

STATE BANKERS ELECT OFFICERS

A Fletcher, vice-president and treasurer of the Fairmont Trust company of Fairmont, was elected president of the West Virginia Bankers' association at the closing session of the annual convention at Huntington. He succeeds W. C. Given of Bluefield.

Other officers elected are: Charles M. Gohen, Huntington; vice-president; L. W. Boley, Oakhill, treasurer; Joseph H. Hill, Charleston, secretary, re-elected.

The association voted to meet at Clarksburg in 1927.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER RESIGNS

Dr. John B. Ahouse, county health physician, has tendered his resignation to the state health department to take effect July 1.

Dr. Ahouse has accepted a position in Dr. Emmett Holt's hospital in New York where he will specialize in the diseases of children.

REV. EHRHEART TO GIVE SERMON

Rev. R. C. Ehrheart, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will preach at the union service of the First Presbyterian, United Presbyterian and First Methodist Episcopal churches Sunday evening in the former church.

Music will be furnished by the choir of the First Presbyterian church.

To Attend Convention.

Missionary Society Meets.

Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church met last night with Mrs. Harvey. Regular program was carried out during the evening.

Mexico is organizing a baseball league and soon the people may be expected to work off their enthusiasm on umpires, instead of starting revolutions.—Indianapolis Star.

Japanese Residents Face Famine During Next 30 Year Period

TOKIO.—Thirty years from now famine will stare the Japanese people in the face, according to T. Koyama, under-secretary of the department of agriculture and forestry.

If the present birthrate keeps up, Koyama declares, Japan will have a population of 85,000,000 people and the present food resources of the country will be inadequate to supply so great a population.

Koyama's solution is the expenditure of approximately $20,000,000 annually for the next thirty years in the development of the nation's agricultural resources.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement in the death of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Normanda J. Brooks.

Especially do we thank Rev. O'Brien, the singers, Mrs. James Turner, Mrs. Pearl Emmerling.

COMMUNITY CLUB GROWING

Hillcrest Organization Plans Erection of House.

"We desided that we needed a place where we could send our children to Sunday school and hold church and other services and that is why we formed the Hillcrest Community club and obtaind a state charter," declared R. J. Stern, of Yellow Creek township, in explaining the growth of this community organization.

"Our community is growing," Mr. Stern went on to relate, "and through the efforts of the club we expect to accomplish many things for the good of the township at large a little later. We are growing, as a club, and we want to work out every problem that may come up in the future."

This club received its state charter late in March. There were 25 names affixed to the application, and, as it was stated in the application, the club was formed for "religious and social purposes."

Soon after the charter was received, the charter members met and elected a board of trustees, these being G. H. Crawford, Clarence Fogo, Mrs. Mary Arb, Gus Klavun, Pearl Perry and J. W. Hodge. The trustees organized by electing these officers: President R. J. Stern; vice president, Henry McIntire; secretary, Mrs. R. J. Stern; treasurer, Mrs. Rose Hill.

Mrs. Frank Kiddy was named chairman of a social committee, while Pearl Perry was placed at the head of the entertainment committee. It is through the efforts of these two committees that the club has made so much progress in one of its objects—that of erecting a community house.

The club purchaced a lot, 100 by 250 feet, at a cost of $700, upon which it is proposed to erect the Yellow Creek township community house. This site fronts on the Wellsville-Lisbon road in what is known as the Hillcrest district. Of the purchase price, all has been paid with the exception of $100, and this is expected to be cleared off within the next few weeks.

The Community club has been active in giving a number of socials and entertainments this season, and others are proposed. A minstrel team has been garnered from the membership, and numerous shows have been given in neighboring townships, and the receipts from these events have gone toward the building up of the property fund. This "troupe" will give another of its shows at Gavers in Wayne township soon, upon invitation from the folks of that district.

Plans for the community house are being worked out, but no details have been decided upon, according to Mr. Stern. However, it has been proposed to erect a commodious building with basement and dining hall and also an auditorium. As soon as the lot is paid off, then an effort will be put forward to obtain funds to erect the building, and some of the members hope that this building will be completed and ready to dedicate late next fall.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT OAK RIDGE

Arrangements are nearing completion for the Children's day exercises which will be held on Sunday afternoon in the Oak Ridge Presbyterian church.

The program will center around the theme, "The Book Divine." Recitations, music and talks will be included.

DICKEY-ZEARLEY WEDDING HERE

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Edith Dickey to Clarence Lee Zearley, which was solemnized last evening at 7 o'clock in the parsonage of the First Christian church by the pastor, Rev. L. E. Lee.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dickey, of 526 Washington avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Zearley, of Fourteenth street.

They were attended by Walter Dickey, brother of the bride, and Miss Goldie Johnson. The bridal party also was accompanied by Miss Roxie McCauley and John Eddy.

The bridegroom is employed at the Adams grocery store here. The bride formerly was employed at Laughlin No. 6 plant in Newell.

Following a week's honeymoon trip, they will make their home here.

Japan Still Flapperless.

Although Japan is changing rapidly the Japanese girl still does not compare with the American girl in the exercise of her individuality. She has no "boy friends" in the sense of the American girl's young acquaintances, still has no chance to chose her husband, and no freedom outside the home. One of her accomplishments besides the usual domestic services, however, is that of performing the tea ceremony. They are not accustomed to social life and when in public or with grown ups are noticeably shy. A Girl Scout movement has been started there.

Chester Retains City League Lead By Beating Turk-Nash

Cebula-Deshler In Great Mound Battle

MAJOR league baseball was dispensed some 2,000 City Industrial league fans as Chester and Turk-Nash, fighting for the top round on the former's diamond, Smith field, yesterday, battled to a near tie, the one run finally produced in the sixth frame giving the West Virginians the game by a count of 1 to 0.

As Roosevelt characterized the Santiago naval fight of the Spanish-American war as one "with glory for all involved," so the losers on this occasion by their tremendous endeavor emerged with honors on a parity with the victors in this diamond classic of the season. Two great teams clashed. Both played top-notch ball.

The winning run was made in the second half of the sixth and next to last inning when M. Cebula, first up, lined to J. Watson, who muffed the ball. Then L. McMath sacrificed, Deshler to Alcock. Evans singled to middle, but the fast fielding of A. Bayley held the pitcher at third base. Bayley heaved to Deshler and Cebula was unable to pass the hot corner at that moment. Then he threw the ball to E. Bayley to catch Evans, who was delaying his arrival at second as Cebula dashed for the plate. The Chester pitcher slid in safely as the ball, lost in the sun for an instant, got by Schneidmiller. Evans held up at third and on P. Cebula's drive to Deshler he was caught in a ziz-zag play by which the second sacker, rushing in, made the putout. P. Cebula reached second, but died there as Greene struck out.

Although he lost his contest, "Sonny" Deshler, brilliant Turk-Nash player, who, when not pitching, is in the garden or inner works by reason of his fielding and hitting propensities, never played better than he did in this important contest. Elected to deliver the slants for his team he came through as he never has done before. He pitched airtight ball for the entire six innings that he was engaged. He held his heavy hitting opponents to two safe blows and walked but one, which did not prove costly.

He was all over the infield and his executions indicated quick thinking. With L. McMath keyed up like a race horse on first and gesturing for second in the opening frame, he broke up Evans' plan to sacrifice by rushing in, catching the popfly that resulted, and snapping it to Alcock on the initial bag before the Chester captain could get back.

The play dazzled all alike. Then, momentarily, he lost control for the only time during the game and passed P. Cebula. The latter stole second and a setting for a run had been made.

Greene, third sacker, was up. But Deshler bore down and in a moment struck him out as bedlum arose from all parts of the field.

With the [illegible] Greene on third base after he had poled a triple through A. Bayley in middle and two men had been retired, he went after the wily Wilde, who, with bludgeon waving ominously, was fretting to drive the hot corner custodian in. But Deshler offered him on which came back to the pitcher's own hands, and Alcock got the putout.

Mike Cebula, the old reliable, also was on the job. Stolid, imperturbable, uttering no protest amid the clamor about him, he paid no attention to anyone save "Connie Mack" Riley, who, coatless, vestless and hatless, wigwagged signals to the big pitcher, the inner and outer defenses.

The mental liason between pitcher and manager was perfect.

In the fifth after R. Pollock, leading off, had fanned, Alcock singled to right, a poky blow just over the infielders' heads. This time J. Watson got on by forcing Alcock, P. Cebula to L. McMath. The responsibility was passed to Deshler, whom M. Cebula caused to drive to Greene, who assisted with a high throw to Wilde. The latter leaped into the air, descended with the ball and by rapid footwork touched the bag before the pitcher arrived.

After Chester had made its only run in the sixth, Mike retired his opponents in a row in the final seventh.

The support accorded the two pitchers was consistent throughout the game.

Walker Receives Terrible Lacing In Dundee Bout

By George Barry.

NEW YORK, June 25.—One of the inevitable tragedies of the ring occurred in Madison Square Garden last night.

It was the decisive and bloody defeat of the once great Mickey Walker, who a few months ago was welterweight champion of the world. He was hammered from pillar to post by Joe Dundee, a slashing scrapper from Baltimore, who hit the ex-champion so hard and so often and cut him up to unmercifully that Referee Eddie Forbes stopped the battle after two minutes and fifty three seconds of the eighth round.

Today even Walker's most loyal admirers admit that the smiling Irishman's pugilistic star has set.

It was to have been Mickey's "comeback." He was to have demonstrated that his loss of the title in a close decision at Scranton, Pa., some time back to Pete Latzo was an accident.

But, except for a flash here and there, it wasn't the great Mickey of his champion days. It was, however a game, fighting Mickey that went down to a disastrous defeat.

Wanted Walker to Win.

The twelve thousand fans wanted to see Mickey win, at least most of them did. He was given a rousing ovation when he smilingly crawled through the ropes and nodded to the crowd. Even when he was going bad the fans cheered him, hoping he would by some chance put over a knockout.

Walker was his old, ripping, smashing self in the first round and nailed Dundee with rights and left and had his opponent backing all around the ring.

But from then on, it was all Dundee—every round. Dundee became more confident as the fight progressed and when, in the fourth round, he knocked a piece of plaster from over Walker's left eye and started the blood running, there was no stopping him.

Dundee drove Mickey around the ring repeatedly, pinned him in the corners and shellacked him vigorously in the body and in the face. In the sixth and seventh rounds, Mickey's face was a sight. The blood was streaming down it from the cut over the left eye. It was evident Mickey could hardly see, as time and again he vainly tried to wipe the blood out of his eyes while in the clinches.

Finally, McKey's defense became so feeble and Dundee's offense to furious that it was only a question of how long Mickey could last and whether Dundee would actually blind him.

Stopped in Eighth.

In the eighth, the blood bothering Mickey so badly he couldn't see his opponent and missed half a dozen lefts and rights by yards. Then, with the round almost over and as Dundee sunk another spongy right into the bleeding left socket, the referee humanely stopped it.

Though Mickey Walker's head was blood, it was unbowed. He insisted he wanted to go on. But even his manager, Jack Kearns, saw he had enough and made no protest. And Dundee was given credit for a technical knockout. Only once previously had Walker failed to respond to the final bell. That was in 1919, when he was a beginner, and Phil Delmont knocked him out in one round.

DE MOLAYS DOWN ALL STARS, 7 TO 2

Harding chapter, DeMolay, defeated the Morey All-Stars, 7 to 2, last evening at Columbian park.

The tilt was the first of a three-game series between the two club. No date has been set for the second engagement.

Hildritch pitched winning ball for the DeMolays throughout the game and his offerings were well handled by Dawson behind the plate.

The All-Stars' battery was composed of Boso and Maley.

CHESTER BOOKS SALINEVILLE

"Mike" Cebula, Chester City Industrial league pitching ace, will probably take a day off following his 1-0 conquest over Turk-Nash last night, when the West Virginians tackle Salineville tomorrow afternoon at Smith field.

The Salineville club has been booked in by Manager Riley as a special attraction. Hostilities are scheduled to begin promptly at 3:15.

HARVARD WINS FRESHMAN RACE

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 25.—Harvard won the freshman's race, the first event in the Yale-Harvard regatta here today over the picturesque Thames river. The crews rowed two miles down stream.

It was an exciting race. Thousands lined the banks of the river and cheered the oarsmen. The observation trains which ran along the river bank while the race was in progress was filled with a colorful crowd, the feminine members of which were mostly in gala attire.

Harvard won by four lengths.

The Red Sox landed on Pennock and Hoyt and trimmed the Yankees, 6 to 5, in 11 innings. Tony Lazzeri pushed the ball all around the lot for a single, triple and homer, making as many hits as the rest of the Yanks combined.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

Play the midiron for all shots within what is called a midiron distance. This varies with different players—from 170 to 190 yards. In this connection here is a fact that should be impressed upon every golfer. It is only throught practice that one learns the carrying power of each club, and when once learned consistent use should be made of the knowledge. Many a shot has been spoiled by a man who stood hesitating beside his ball. Make a practice of sizing up the position of the ball while walking up to it, and before you reach it have an idea which club you are going to use. Here is a brassie and midiron. Use the square stance for full shots. The short swing gives greater accuracy. Accuracy, not distance, is to be striven for.

HAGEN-SMITH IN $10,000 BATTLE

DETROIT, June 25. — MacDonald Smith, professional at Lakeview, N. J., and Walter Hagen will clash next month in a match which will carry with it the greatest amount of money ever wagered on a similar event, it was announced today.

A. W. Wallace, a Detroiter, has agreed to cover $10,000 offered in a pool made by wealthy members of the Jersey club on Smith, according to announcement here. The match will be 72 holes; 36 holes at Lakeview and the other 36 on a course to be decided later.

Wells Clashes With Canton Youth Today

WESTWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, Cleveland, O., June 25. — Eight men will fight through 36 holes of golf in a drizzling rain today to decide which two will meet tomorrow in another 36-hole battle to determine the 1926 Ohio state amateur golf championship and incidentally win the coveted cup.

These eight are the survivors of a field of 200 who entered in the annual sport classic last Tuesday.

Upsets again marked the playing of the first two rounds of match play. Youth which had made such fine showing in the qualifying play and in the first round of match play, took a tumble in the second round.

Sinclair Dean, 20-year-old Lima bridegroom, was eliminated in the second round by King Malley, of Canton and Delaware.

Malley was apparently beaten when at the end of the first nine holes Dean was three up on him, but by plucky, persevering playing the tow-headed boy overcame the Lima youth's lead and finally won two up.

The Malley-Dean battle was replete with tense situations that kept the gallery in excitement.

Leading at the ninth hole, three up, Dean hooked and sliced into the rough for three holes—to a tie. They halved the seventeenth in par threes. Dean had to win the next hole or drop out of the tournament. Malley hit a safe drive down the alley but overshot the green on his next. Dean hooked into the rough off the tee and came out strong, his ball near Malley's. A downhill pitch for the latter stymied Dean who had one shot to hole out in, but topped his ball and it rolled across the green carrying with it Dean's cup aspirations.

Malley today faces Joe Wells, the East Liverpool golf star.

Through a curious quirk of fate, Eddie Hasmann, Cleveland titleholder, will fight out the third round with Ralph Lee, Columbus veteran. The same pair last year fought a 20-hole battle in the third round. Hasmann was the victor.

Survivors of the second round were:
King Malley, Canton.
Joe Wells, East Liverpool.
Dave Ogilvie, Jr., Cleveland.
Jack Munro, Zanesville.
Parker Campbell, Toledo.
Harry Sweitzer, Cleveland.
Eddie Hasmann, Cleveland.
Raleigh Lee, Columbus.

LAUGHLIN COPS 7 TO 1 CONTEST

Briggle Holds Wellsville Club to Three Hits.

LAUGHLIN, outhitting Wellsville, defeated the down-river aggregation in a City Industrial league contest at Newell, last evening, 7 to 1.

After retiring two men in the first inning Patterson was touched for two singles, a double and a triple that netted three runs. He then gave way to Vess, who finished the game.

In the fourth Buben opened with a home run to deep right. Babb went out, Hancock to Dustman. W. Watson made his second hit of the game. Hunselman went out, Morris to Dustman. Briggle tripled, scoring Watson and the latter finished on Parsons's double to left. Aufderheide went out Morris to Dustman.

Pelley, walking in the third, stole second and made third on a wild throw. Deemer fanned. Vess walked. On an attempted double steal, Pelley was caught at the plate, W. Watson to Hunselman. James doubled to right, scoring Vess.

Despite the big attendance at the Chester-Turk-Nash game in Chester a fair sized crowd was in attendance.

TAGGING ALL --BASES--

Pittsburgh and St. Louis stood up and slugged nine innings to a draw, 3 to 3. Blanked by Kremer for seven frames, the Cards came back like an echo, shelling Kremer off the mound and tying the score.

Looking like a new team with Jackson back at short, the Giants thrashed the Phils twice, 12 to 7 and 7 to 2. Frisch collecting seven hits. Two homers by Pitcher Jack Knight failed to win the opener for the Phils and the Quakers were held to five hits by McQuillan in the nightcap.

The Athletics lost two games to Washington, 8 to 6 and 3 to 1. Sam Rice got seven hits, the Senators pulled a triple play, and about $300,000 worth of Connie Mack's half-million dollar pitching staff went up in smoke.

No question about its beauty

... and the price speaks for itself

NO question about the beauty of the new Estate Gas Range. Enameled inside and out; smooth rounded surfaces; no bolts or nuts showing—even the door hinges concealed.

And "performance"! The wide-spread oven burner saves gas, gives more heat; the Fresh-Air Oven makes baking success certain.

But perhaps the most remarkable thing about this new Estate is the price. No range of anything like the Estate's quality has been offered at prices so surprisingly low.

The famous "14 points" in the new Estate:

1 The Estate Fresh-Air Bake Oven—"built like a double boiler."
2 The ThermEstate Oven Heat Control.
3 The Copyrighted Cooking Chart.
4 One-Piece Oven and Broiler Side Linings.
5 Two-Section Oven Bottom.
6 Enameled Oven Linings.
7 Concealed-Spring Door Suspension.
8 Double-Wall Body.
9 Complete Concealment of All Hinges, Nuts and Bolts.
10 Wide-Spread Oven Burner.
11 Hollow-Pressed Door Handles
12 Handy Utensil Drawer.
13 Free Membership in Estate Cookery Club.

DAIRY SURVEY IS BEING CONDUCTED

Announcement has just been made by James V. Hopkins, extension dairy specialist of the West Virginia college of agriculture, that a survey is being made of the dairy herds of the state to determine the number of herds that average 300 pounds or more of butterfat per cow yearly.

The survey is also being made throughout the country. It is generally agreed that an average production of 300 pounds, which is about twice the average of all dairy cows, indicates a profitable herd.

The names of all eligible dairymen, as determined by the state supervisors of test associations and state superintendents of advanced registry. Diplomas will be awarded.

LODGE OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED

Class of candidates will be given the third degree and officers elected tonight at the homecoming meeting of Clark lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F. to be held in the Aaron building, Fifth street.

Lunch will be served at the close of the business session by the social committee of the lodge.

To Attend Dance.

Number of local people plan to attend the dance tonight at Rock Springs park. Music will be furnished by Tom Care's West Virginians.

Services to Close.

Evangelistic services which have been in progress for two weeks will close Sunday evening in the Church of the Nazarene. The sermons are being delivered by the pastor, Rev. F. F. Freese.

PLANS ARRANGED FOR LAWN FETE

Plans have been completed for a lawn fete to be held Monday evening under the auspices of the Ladies Aid and Missionary societies of the First Presbyterian church on the ground in Washington street between Fourth and Fifth streets.

Laughlin Plays Tonight.

Homer Laughlin China team is scheduled to meet Turk-Nash this evening in an Industrial league game at Columbian park, East Liverpool. This will be the second meeting of the week with the auto tossers.

Road Bids Opened.

Members of the state road commission opened bids this week at Charleston for 13 road contracts. Total estimate of the cost is approximately $660,000. It is probable that another contract letting will be held later in the summer.

COUNTY JAIL IN GOOD SHAPE

Sheriff Wright is Commended by State Inspector.

"Of all the jails I have investigated in the state, I have never been in one where so much improvement has been accomplished in so short a time as in Columbiana county," declared Stanley C. Griffin, of Columbus, social investigator of the department of welfare, division of charities.

Griffin completed an inspection of the county jail Thursday afternoon, it being the sixth time that he has been assigned to make such a report to the division of charities.

"There is a total absence of vermin in the jail," Griffin said. "Dampness has also been eliminated, and due credit should be given Sheriff George Wright for what he has accomplished in such a brief period of time and at such low cost.

"Our department knows what the former conditions were, and the change that has been made by Sheriff Wright has not been unnoticed. The sheriff should be commended for putting the jail in its present shape, and it proves to us that he has been rendering the county a real service."

Heretofore the department of charities has been recommending a bond issue for a new jail, but no such recommendation is to be made this year because of the present condition of the institution.

Divorce Action Filed.

In the petition for divorce filed in common pleas court by Viola M. Percy, aged 17 years, of Columbiana, by her next friend, M. F. Bricker, and against her husband, Jesse G. Percy, residing on the Elkton road, one-half mile south of Columbiana, it is related that she was induced to enter into the marriage by undue influence.

JURY NAMED TO VALUE PROPERTY

The names of 12 jurors have been drawn from the jury wheel on application of Judge Riddle in probate court by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine and Sheriff George Wright to sit in the case having to do with the improvement of intercounty highway No. 384 in Hanover township, or the Hanover-Salem road. The names are the first to be taken from the wheel since the selection of 700 names by the jury commission, which completed its work a few weeks ago.

Those drawn are: Florence Russi and Henry Ashbaugh, Salem; W. M. Hall, Damascus; Alex Rankin, Leetonia; Frank Crawford, Lisbon; J. C. Bower, New Waterford; Mildred Ankrim, W. H. Gass, Ira A. Burbick, Grace Thompson, John E. Johnston and Wilbur J. Starkey, all of East Liverpool.

The jury will determine the value of certain property along this road which is now being graded for surfacing. The hearing will take place in common pleas court No. 1 next Monday, June 28.

COMMUNITY BANK INSTITUTES SUIT

The Community bank of East Liverpool, through its cashier, Millard Blythe, and its counsel, Brookes & Thompson, have filed an action in common pleas court against Minta Campbell and others to recover judgment on a claim for $288.05 and interest at eight per cent from June 9, 1926, on a note for $300, and upon which part has been paid. Other parties have been named as defendants.

The petition relates that after James P. Campbell died, nothing has been paid on the note, and that he gave a mortgage deed to secure the paper.

Marriage License.

A marriage license has been granted to Charles L. Warner, of Warren, and Laura Driscoll, a teacher, residing at Leetonia, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Driscoll, of Leetonia. They are to be married by the Rev. Harrold.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC TOMORROW

Knox township union Sunday school picnic will be held tomorrow at Lake Placentia. Sport program will be followed by a basket picnic dinner. Principal address will be given by Rev. S. W. Seeman, pastor of the Homeworth Presbyterian church. Officers of the association who were elected at a meeting Monday night at Homeworth are: President, B. E. Saffell; vice president, Frank Stanley; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Inez Baker.

SEEK TO CLEAR TERMS OF WILL

C. F. Cope, of Alliance, as executor of the estate of the late Anna M. Cope, who died June 26, 1898, has joined with John C. Cope, of Kensington; Dora Cope Bell, of Salem, and Lloyd Fultz, guardian of Frank Fultz, a minor, of Hanoverton, in a suit just filed in common pleas court against John Murray and Lesta Murray, residing on R. F. D. No. 6, East Rochester, to have the court place a construction upon the will of the deceased.

According to the terms of the will of the deceased, the plaintiffs claim there is doubt as to its construction, and in order to clear title to certain property the court action has been brought.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to extend our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses, words of sympathy and expression of condolence from the numerous friends and neighbors, in our recent bereavement in the death of our daughter and sister, Erma George. We wish to thank all who helped in any way, and those who furnished cars, and for the many beautiful floral offerings, and to Rev. Ross Wilson of the United Presbyterian church, for his words of sympathy and his Christian message. Also to those who brought comfort and hope in song to our burdened hearts in the great loss we have sustained.

MR. AND MRS. R. W. GEORGE AND MERYL WALKER.

NATURALIZATION HEARING FIXED

At the next session of naturalization court, which has been scheduled to be held in common pleas court room No. 1 September 17, 83 applicants for final papers will submit themselves for final examination. This is a record class for this county.

There were 15 cases held over from the April court for the fall hearing, and 73 new applications are eligible for final hearing.

The time limit has been passed where others may be added to the list for the September term of this court.

No word has been received from the department of labor at Pittsburgh, Pa., by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine, who will be assigned from that office to conduct the hearing.

FACES CHARGE OF NON SUPPORT

Harry Montgomery, formerly residing in the Locust Grove section of Lisbon, and who recently located in Youngstown, was arrested there Wednesday night on a warrant issued in the court of Probate Judge Lodge Riddle on an affidavit filed by his wife charging him with non-support.

Montgomery was returned to Lisbon Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter and Constable Clarence Wetzel, of Centre township, and when arraigned entered a plea of not guilty.

In default of $500 bail, he was committed to the county jail for a hearing later.

BRITISH ADOPT CHINESE STUDENT PLAN TO PAY $55,000,000 INDEMNITY

PEKING—American precedent in the distribution of the $55,000,000 remitted British Boxer indemnity will be followed if the recommendation of the Commission, which has completed its investigations, is accepted.

Headed by Lord Willingdon, this mixed British-Chinese Commission has for several months travelled around China considering the hundreds of schemes proposed. As the commission left England, it was intimated that the proposal of Dr. Hu Shih, graduate of Columbia University, one of the members of the commission, would in all likelihood be accepted for the final report to the British Government.

It was Dr. Hu Shih's plan that a Board of Trustees should be formed with a preponderance of Chinese over British members, which should report both to the British and Chinese governments on its work of distributing the fund, which will amount to approximately $2,000,000 yearly.

It was of outstanding interest that in appointing the commission, the British government named two American-educated Chinese. The other Chinese member was a British-returned student.

"I REDUCED 50 POUNDS with SILPH"

MISS MABLE SEARS

Do You Need to Lose FAT?

Why not give a chance to SILPH? —See what it can do for you— You chew SILPH like ordinary Gum!

Safe — Easy — Pleasant

YOUR HEALTH

Quick Fatigue Warns You to Revise Your Habits

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.
United States Senator from New York,

DR. COPELAND

THERE is no more unnecessary human experience than the chronic state of tiredness which is the experience of so many individuals. Every day I meet friends who give evidence of fatigue. They are uncommonly touchy, they are fidgetty and nervous, they are fussy and fault-finding, they are unable to concentrate on their daily duties.

Life is intended to proceed without friction. All the things we do should be done easily. Our everyday tasks should not get on our nerves. They should be taken care of patiently and good-naturedly.

Many a mother has seemed cross to her children when as a matter of fact she has a heart of gold and the most loving nature in the world. Her true feelings are smothered by her tiredness and fagged-out condition.

Many a man goes to his office to drive his stenographer and clerks to distraction because of his uppishness and irritability. Nothing pleases him. He growls at the waiter who serves his lunch and finds fault with the street car that takes him swiftly home at night.

Unfortunately, life is so constituted that everybody has daily experiences that seem to demand some form of resentment. If you happen to get out of bed on the wrong side in the morning, these disturbing experiences appear to have been multiplied by the million. This is because you are tired, you are worn out, your nervous system has not recuperated over-night.

When you feel this way, don't send for a doctor or buy a bottle of nerve tonic. What you need is to revise your way of living so that you will have more rest and more sleep. Just exactly the amount of sleep you must have depends upon your own nature, but knowing the number of hours you require, you should religiously give yourself this much time in bed.

If for any reason you do not sleep well, do not toss around in the bed as if you were a disturbed alligator. Keep quiet and give nature a chance to send sleep to your eyelids.

Sometimes as a result of indigestion or intestional fermentation there are formed in the body poisons which seem to have a stimulating effect and result in the prevention of sleep. Every person who suffers from sleeplessness should be governed by this hint. Perhaps by the correction of the constipation or of the intestional fermentation or whatever it may be, you may suddenly find that the cause for your sleeplessness has disappeared.

Fatigue is fatal to effective accomplishment. You may fight off the need of sleep for a few months, but unless you are sensible about it, trouble is in store for you. Nature's demands must be met, or disaster is sure to follow. You can add materially to your happiness if you will avoid the causes of fatigue.

Answers to Health Questions

BLONDIE H. Q.—The lid of one of my eyes will not open as widely as the other. What causes this and what can be done about it?

A.—There is probably some injury to the nerve in one eye. You should consult a nerve specialist to see what can be done aobut it.

• • •

BLONDE. Q.—My cheeks become very red when called upon in the classroom or out in company. It makes me very uncomfortable. How can I overcome it?

2—I am fourteen, 5 feet 1 inch tall—what should I weigh?

A.—You are probably self-conscious. This must be overcome by using your will power. Go out and mingle more with young persons of your own age and join in their pleasure and amusements. Forget yourself and you will soon find that you have gained poise and confidence.

2—You should weight about 108 pounds.

• • •

MRS. W. G. Q.—What can I do to cure very large pores?

A.—Apply alternately hot and cold compresses for ten minutes night and morning.

• • •

A WORRIED MOTHER. Q.—What can be done for sore eyes in a baby seven weeks old?

A.—I suggest that you consult a competent baby specialist and he will advise you as to treatment. Without a personal examination it is impossible to diagnose the trouble.

• • •

MRS. O. R. T. Q.—Will you kindly tell me whether yellow oxide of mercury ointment will increase the growth of eye lashes.

A.—Yes; one per cent yellow oxide of mercury will.

• • •

V. H. K. Q.—Is it dangerous to sleep on a screened porch this time of year?

2—Should a person cover his head while sleeping outdoors.

A.—It is quite all right if you have the proper coverings.

2—You may if you care to, providing the mouth and nose is left uncovered.

• • •

S. D. Q.—I am bothered with a soreness in my groin that seems to come and go. Violent exercise seems to bring it on. There is no swelling.

A.—This condition may be due to a hernia or severe strain. Have your doctor give you a personal examination and suggest treatment.

• • •

MISS M. H. R. Q.—Would soap have a tendency to darken light hair? I wash my hair once every two weeks. Is it injurious to use a lemon with this soap?

A.—It might have a tendency to darken extremely light hair. The hair should be washed about once every two weeks with a good soap and warm water and then thoroughly rinsed. It should not be necessary to use anything else. The lemon juice might prove too drying to the scalp if used frequently.

MOTHERS LOOK TO LAURELS AS CHICAGO BOYS ARE TAUGHT TO COOK

CHICAGO—Mothers are looking to their laurels here as a result of the inauguration in the public school of food classes for boys.

It's now, "Ma, I brought you home some cake I baked," instead of a request for bread, butter and jam. There's no trouble at all about keeping the cookie jar filled with Willie aiding with the baking.

The new food classes are a forward step in health education. Authorities are working on the theory that the matter of better food will have a wide beneficial effect on the well-being of the children. Knowledge of what to eat and how to prepare it will be an aid, school officials say, not only to better health, but in making children less susceptible to disease.

Money with which to buy the ingredients is furnished by the pupils. After they prepare the dishes, the students are given the food. Prizes are awarded the boys who make the best progress, as an aid in popularizing the classes.

Death Thwarts Reunion.

In July, 1894, two friends carved the name of one, H. H. Morgan, on a rock on Tunnel mountain near Banff, Canada. More than 30 years later one of them returned. Thoughts of his friend urged him to climb the mountain to see if the name was still visible. He then wrote Mr. Morgan. The reply came from Mr. Morgan's widow with the information that on the day the original letter was written her husband, thinking of the episode, started to pack his auto with the intention of making the trip to the old rock, but dropped dead while he was packing.

The hard part is to find a girl attractive enough to please you and yet dumb enuogh to like you.—Mansfield Journal.

Amazing New Invention for the DEAF

Astounding Achievement of European Scientists to be given local demonstration at

The ALTHOF OPTICAL CO.

38 No. Phelps Street
Youngstown, Ohio.
June 28th and 29th

THE midget Phonophor is an achievement of a group of Europe's foremost scientists. Worn without headband . . . practically invisible . . . it has brought acute hearing to thousands of sufferers, among them the most stubborn cases. Men and women who have suffered from deafness for years have slipped this tiny but powerful aid in the ear and at once have heard subdued conversation, the soft strains of music—clearly and with perfect tone accuracy FORTY FEET AWAY.

A woman, extremely hard of hearing for twelve years, heard every note of a musical concert THE FIRST DAY SHE HAD THE PHONOPHOR.

YOU, TOO, will be convinced.

Monday and Tuesday
June 28th and 29th

An official from the American Phonophor Corporation will demonstrate this marvelous new invention for the deaf at our show rooms on the above dates. You are cordially invited.

Rose Fever Comes Before Hay Fever

Many people entirely escape the ravages of and misery incident to the rose fever and hay fever seasons by starting early to take Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever Remedy. It is sold and recommended by Carnahan's Drug Stores, East Liverpool, and by good druggists everywhere.

WEST COAST BOOTLEGGERS HIDE RUM IN FISH NETS HUNG OVER BOAT'S SIDE

LOS ANGELES—Airplanes and fish nets are the latest weapons to be employed by Los Angeles harbor bootleggers and off-shore rum-runners.

When a bootlegger's consignment recently was 15 days over-due, the enterprising retailer of rare liquor chartered a plane and went out to sea hunting his craft.

Many of the rum ships are now equipped with large fishing nets, officials of the coast guard discovered, and when the federal cutters come into sight the liquor supplies are lowered in the nets below the ship's waterline.

Harriman Zinc Deals Vigorously Opposed By Polish Premier

WARSAW.—Premier Bartel, of the new Polish government, is said to be strongly opposed to the Harriman zinc deals in Polish Upper-Silesia. He considers the Harriman contracts detrimental to the Polish state.

While negotiations between Harriman representatives and Upper Silesian firms are going on, American efforts to conclude a final agreement immediately after the revolution failed owing to strong opposition on the part of the new Polish government.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Stop a minute and think about this fact. You can ask The Review-Tribune Information Bureau any question of fact and get the answer back in a personal letter. It is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Get the habit of asking questions. Address your letter to The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Fredeic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q. When did Pullman cars change the lighting from lamps to electricity? T. H. C.

A. Candles were largely used from 1865 to 1874; oil from 1875 to 1890, and Pintsch gas from 1891 to 1909. The first electrically-lighted train was the Pennsylvania limited, June 1887, a dynamo engine being placed in the baggage car. Later, along about 1893, individual axle lighting generators were developed.

Q. What is the meaning of the word Ozark? J. G. McK.

A. It is a corruption of the French phrase "aux arcs," which means "with bows." The term is descriptive of the Indians who inhabited the country.

Q. In what form did "The Blessed Damozel" first appear? A. D. G.

A. Rossetti's poem was first published in his brother's magazine called "The Germ."

Q. I've heard that there is a cooking banana different from the ordinary "eating banana." Is this true? H. L.

A. The cooking banana is similar in appearance to the ordinary "eating banana," but usually is larger and has a more pronounced stem. Cooking bananas are sold on the market by the "hand." The cooking banana is not edible raw. When the skin has turned black, the whole banana (skin and meat) should be baked for 30 minutes. To serve split the skin with a fork and season the fruit with a little lemon juice and butter.

Q. Why were the Germans called "Huns?" S. K.

A. The word "Hun" was a term of reproach given to the Germans by their enemies from the beginning of the war. It seems to have first been associated by William II with his army as a term of praise. He used it in an address to his troops about to sail for China from Bremerhaven, July 27, 1900. For many years the German Socialists used the word "Hun" in attacking the militarists in that country.

Q. Give me the names of the important dynasties of China and the dates? F. L.

A. The early condition of China was tribal which before Christ merged into a vast feudal system nominally ruled by many contemporaeous dynasties dated from 2205 B. C. The king of Ts'in put down all other rulers and assumed the title of Hwang Ti or emperor. The principal dynasties from this period are Han, 206 B. C. to 220 A. D.; T'ang, 618 to 906; Sung, 960 to 1279; Yuan the Mongol, 1280 to 1367; The Ming, 1368 to 1643; The Chi'ng or Ts'ing Mancho Tartar, 1643 to fall of the empire and date of republic.

Q. Who was Joe Miller who wrote the Joke Book? L. E. M.

A. Joe Miller was an English comedian who lived from 1684 until 1738. So illiterate that he was unable to read, he married that he might have someone to read his parts to him. About this time it became the vogue to publish books of jokes, attributing them to some one person. A year after Miller's death John Mottley compiled a book of 72 pages containing 247 jests and called it Joe Miller's Jests. Only three were in any way connected with the actor. Many editions have been printed. In 1745 the number of jokes included had risen to 587 and by the middle of the nineteenth century to 1546.

Q. Is grapefruit more akin to oranges or to lemons? B. D.

A. All three belong to the citrus family, but the grapefruit more nearly approaches the orange in amount of sugar and citric acid it contains than the lemon.

Q. What size should a coat of arms be? E. E. M.

A. There is no standard size of coat of arms. The important feature of reproducing armorial bearings is the accuracy of the colors.

Q. How fast is the solar system moving? T. C. C.

A. The solar system is moving with a velocity of about 12 miles a second towards a point in the constellation Hercules whose approximate right ascension is 270 degree and declination 34 degrees north.

TWINS FLIP COIN FOR HONORS AS THEY TIE FOR SCHOOL VALEDICTORY

BOULDER, Colo.—The baffling problem of providing scholarships for twin brothers has been solved by a special meeting of the trustees of Colorado university, and as a result Keith and Kenneth Shields of Manitou, a suburb of Colorado Springs, will be able to continue together their pursuit of learning.

The Keith brothers, 18 years of age, have been "first in everything" scholastic in their high school work and when their perfect standings in the senior class in the Manitou high school was reviewed by the principal, he was unable to decide which of the two to recommend for a scholarship at the state university.

President Norlin of the University of Colorado here, submitted the question of whether a scholarship could be granted both youths to the university board of trustees, who, at a special meeting, decided favorably and both Keith and Kenneth will matriculate here next fall.

In disclosing the close scholastic standing of both boys at the Manitou high school, the principal of that institution informed President Norlin that it was necessary for the pair to flip a coin to decide who should deliver the valedictory at the commencement exercises. Keith won the toss.

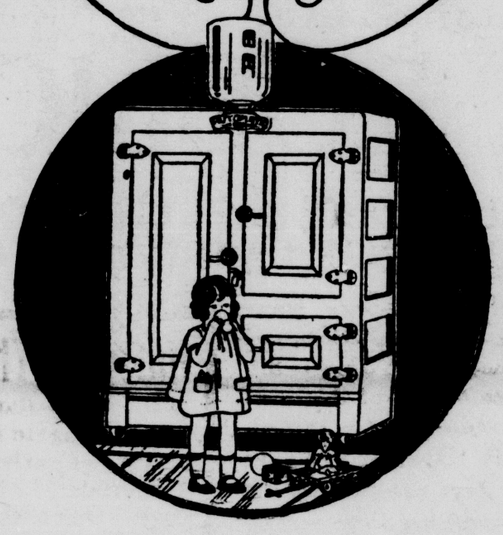
AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR WEEK

SPECIAL EASY PAYMENT PLAN THIS WEEK ONLY

NOW is the time to Buy Your REFRIGERATOR



$5.00 Down Delivers An Automatic

Just pay $5.00 and we'll deliver an Automatic to your home! Of course, this unusual offer is for a limited time — this week only. Don't let a remarkable opportunity like this pass you by: You have always wanted an up-to-date refrigerator. Now you can have one in your home for only $5. The balance can be paid in small, convenient amounts, which will be further reduced by the food and ice the Automatic will immediately save for you.

Buy Now; You'll Save All the More

The longer you put off buying that new refrigerator the more money it will cost you in wasted food and ice. The Automatic never lets foods spoil. And it does its work with practically half the ice used by an ordinary refrigerator. A combination of features found only in the Automatic convinced us that it is the most efficient refrigerator on the market. We feel that a demonstration will convince you. CALL AT OUR STORE NOW, DURING AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATOR WEEK.

All Foods — All Weather Alike to an Automatic $47.50

No matter how perishable the food, or how hot the weather, this Automatic keeps steadily circulating cold, dry, freshened air that keeps delightfully fresh and tasty the food that has been trusted to its care. And the built-in water cooler, exclusively Automatic, always provides pure, chilled water, untouched by ice. Just turn a faucet.

FREE ICE

With Each REFRIGERATOR Sold, We Will GIVE FREE A 500 LB. ICE BOOK

Don't Put Ice in Your Drinks — Automatic Cools Healthfully $63.50

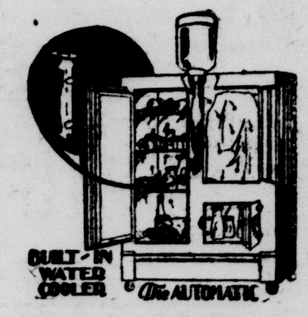
Do you know that many cases of serious illness, such as typhoid fever, have been traced to impurities in ice, dissolved in drinking water or beverages in ice, dissolved in drinking water or tem ends this menace. Water or beverages are kept cold in a porcelain lined tank, built into the center wall of the refrigerator. No ice can touch contents of tank.

Absolute Unfailing

Not a refrigerator that keeps food fresh most of the time—but ALL of the time! Whatever the nature of the food or weather, your Automatic can be depended upon. In addition has a built-in water cooir that you'll never want to be wthout, once you enjoy its usefulness $44

You're Not Limited

You have so much more free time with an Automatic. If you expect guests, put up your lunches beforehand. When your guests arrive your food will be as fresh as though you prepared it then.



Clear and Cold

The impurities of ice never enter into the drinks served from this Automatic's built-in water cooler. Just turn an outside faucet and the contents of the porcelain lined tank flows clear and cold.

Looks Its Part

This Automatic looks to be just what is it, a modern, up-to-the-minute unit of kitchen equipment. The white enamel lined food chambers, built oversize to afford maximum capacity, the solid ash case, in a golden finish, the handfitted doors and the tight-locking hardware—all make you proud of your refrigerator $37.50

Minerva

Clark Allen, of Columbus, spent the past week here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Allen, West Lincoln way.

Union fraternal memorial was held Sunday afternoon. The parade was headed by the local band followed by the Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, K. of P.'s and Pythian Sisters, who marched in a body to Eastlawn cemetery where the decoration took place. Invocation was offered by Rev. Charles Laruch. Talks were given by Rev. J. A. Waddell and Rev. S. S. Burnett. The benediction was offered by Rev. M. H. Woolf.

Mrs. Jennie Pugh is moving her household goods to Cleveland to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moony with whom she will reside.

Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Easey left for Philadelphia, Pa., where they will attend the centennial. From there they will go to Carlisle, Pa., where the doctor will be in training camp for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roudebush and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bond and children of Carrollton and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Simpson and children of Canton were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. George White.

Mrs. D. C. Cress spent the past week in Philadelphia, Pa., with friends and attended the centennial.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Goff and two children have returned from a visit with relatives in Marion.

Harold Clough, of Tennessee, is visiting at the Lyman Hudson home on West street.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beckman and daughter, Dorothy, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Snow at Windham.

Mrs. A. C. Hahn and son, Milton, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Grimes, in Bergholz.

Mrs. Don Pettibon and children have returned home from an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston, in Alliance.

Miss Alice Duff, of Darlington, Pa., and Miss Dorothy Duff, of Beaver Falls, Pa., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stemert.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Hughey, of East Liverpool, and Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Blackmer, of Canton, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Harris on East Line street.

Wilson Early has moved to Alliance to make his home with his son, Edward, and family.

Miss Carrie Haines has completed her school duties at the Lakewood school for the term and returned to her home here for the summer vacation.

Members of the missionary society of the Presbyterian church visited last Thursday at the country home of Mrs. Hawk, west of town.

Miss Etta Keitzer, of Portsmouth, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Keitzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baker and son, Richard, of Canton, were recent guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bailey. Mr. and Mrs. Baker expect to leave for their new home in Philadelphia, Pa., July 1.

At a recent meeting of the Rotary club several Malverns business men were guests of the club, as were Messrs. P. A. McCaskey and Arthur Coit of Cleveland and Rankin McCaskey, of the local Coated Paper Product company. Arthur Coit was the principal entertainer.

Thomas Close, aged 81 years, a resident of this vicinity for many years, died at the home of his son, E. B. Close, in East Sparta last Saturday of a complication of diseases.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Young, of Minerva, and five sons, E. B., at whose home he died; Emmet, of Magnolia; Herbert, of Dellroy; John, of Canton, and Joseph, of the Alliance-Minerva road; three brothers, Peter and William Close, of Dellroy, and Joseph, of Colorado; three sisters, Mrs. Highlan Marshall, of Dellroy; Mrs. James Griffin, of Canton, and Mrs. James Briceland, of Indiana. Funeral services were held at Sparta Monday afternoon and the body brought to Minerva to the Methodist church, where the services were held in charge of Rev. Marty, pastor of the Methodist church at East Rochester, and Rev. S. S. Burnett, of the local Methodist church. Interment at Eastlawn cemetery.

Resinol Soap
her favorite for fifteen years
Had despaired of having clear skin

Baltimore, Md., July 18:—"For the past fifteen years I have used your splendid soap, though I had given up in despair of having a good, clear skin, but after using Resinol Soap for one month I noticed a decided improvement. I have also two girls, age five and two, who boast of splendid skin, and they have always been washed with Resinol Soap.

I can assure you of my complete confidence in this soap as well as Resinol Ointment which my father uses constantly for his corns and callouses." (Signed) Vola M. Wheeler, 3443 Chestnut Ave.

WONDERFUL NEW REMEDY FOR YOUR ACHES AND PAINS

Liniment They Use on Big League Ball Players Like Coveleski

STOPS ACHES, PAINS, STIFFNESS QUICKLY

MIKE MARTIN, Trainer Washington Baseball Club

Big league baseball stars like Walter Johnson, Bucky Harris, Ty Cobb, George Sisler, Coveleskie and others cannot afford to be laid up with aches, pains, swollen joints or stiffness a single day, so they must use the best remedy money can buy.

The liniment they use at the ball park works like lightning and in a jiffy relieves aches, pains, stiffness or swollen joints due to sprains, rheumatic troubles, neuritis, neuralgia, etc. A thousand times each baseball season this wonderful liniment does its work in the big leagues, professional and amateur baseball circles and yet this liniment they use is so mild it would not harm a baby's skin and never blisters no matter how much you rub it in or bandage it up.

The liniment is named after the famous trainer, Mike Martin, the man who for years was trainer of the New York "Yankees," Cincinnati "Reds," Columbia University, and who now is trainer of Washington's 1924-25 American League champion baseball club.

It is called Mike Martin's Liniment. Local druggists are featuring it. Any person suffering with aches, pains, lame back, rheumatism, swollen joints, stiffness, neuralgia or neuritis should get a bottle. It is pleasant to use, never stains and by rubbing a little into the sore, stiff, achy parts you get almost magic relief.

Ball players often catch cold, get stiff, sore or bunged up and come to the ball park hardly able to walk, yet out they come from a good rub with Mike Martin's Liniment, as lively, full of pep and ginger as anybody could wish. Watch them scamper and prance in rain or shine. You'd never dream they ever had an ache or pain in their lives. Mike Martin by making this liniment available to the general public in drug stores is doing a great thing for those who suffer. If reader lives out of town and druggist hasn't it, write Mike Martin, Trainer "Senators," Washington, D. C., and he will send a large size bottle with full directions, parcel post, for $1. The Carnahan 3 Drug Stores and all good druggists sell smaller trial size bottles for a few cents.

FARMERS PLAN DEMONSTRATION AGAINST GERMAN TAXATION POLICY

BERLIN.—For the first time since the revolution, approximately 60,000 Brandenburg farmers, otherwise credited with being conservative, calm, and considerate, demonstrated in smaller country towns around Berlin to protest against the Government's taxation policy and to show the townsfolk that they are in a desperate plight. The demonstrations are interpreted as storm signals.

The bulk of the farmers is overloaded with debts. More than one billion gold marks have to be paid back this fall and the farmers simply do not know how to do it. They were granted credits and are being taxed too heavily, according to their own opinion. Their chief complaint is that the government never found the time to consider their wishes, but was too much tied up with politics to investigate the troubles of calm, never-complaining farmers.

This time is gone now. Farmers, during the demonstrations, were on the point of storming or looting the Revenue Offices, when their own leaders intervened and succeeded in restoring discipline.

Murderer Goes Scot Free!

"The jury decided that he had killed the man while temporarily insane! The murdered man had laughed at the defendant on account of his funny strut due to a mean corn and then deliberately kicked the corn of the defendant. The murder resulted." Endocorn would have saved a lot of trouble in a case like this.

A New Shampoo!

How to Perpetuate That Good Time!

A Kodak, big or little, is the finest and MOST IMPORTANT equipment for any sort of trip, vacation or outdoor adventure! Instead of having just ONE day of joy you can "live it over" time after time for years, if it's all pasted down smoothly in your ALBUM. Our service of "finishing" we believe to be the BEST in the County!

Police and Fountain News!

A Sodas's PEP doesn't last for long—
As an athlete it's sure all wrong.
But when it's fresh and new and fizzy—
It sure keeps lots of us folks busy.

For youth and age both like their tingle
For US they make the cash box jingle.
There's nothing better to build and nourish—
It also makes our business flourish!

The 'Fourth' Is Next Week!

Don't overlook NEXT week's ad on the FOURTH OF JULY! It's going to be very, very different and should be read by all members of the family for certainly they're all mentioned. THIS week we want you to dope out the things you're going to need on next week's trip. And THEN dash in here AT ONCE and get the several items we mity well know you're going to find HERE for sale. It isn't very often we use this space up here to do "selling" in, so we very naturally expect you to do as we say just THIS ONCE! Come in THIS week and get outfitted, then we in OUR turn agree that NEXT week we won't mention ONE WORD about you buying anything at all! Is that fair!

Now! All T-O-G-E-T-H-E-R!
B-U-Y T-H-I-S W-E-E-K!!

John Carnahan

Shorty Says:

In spite of the fact that there are 150 dern good reasons why Sunday week is a fine day to fire up and pop a bit, Jack hasn't said a word about ANY of them! He won't show me what he's going to say NEXT WEEK either, so don't look to ME for no information! As Amos says: "In the matrimonial race, it's the LAST lap that wins and when Eve bawled out Adam, it was the FIRST rib roast." Why Amos said that and what it's gotta do with 4th of July takes a lotta thought to figger out.

Fast Workers! There's a Penalty!

The proper method to collect a nice even bronze finish to your features is to SLOWLY allow the warm rays to "touch you up". Many of you thru forgetfulness get TOO MUCH sun all in one day with the result that the skin gets thoroughly scorched. A good cold cream thickly applied will give relief and should be carried with you.

No Wet Ideas!

In these days of competition, strife and hustle. No one can afford to get their IDEA dept. wet or dishevelled. Which is OUR reason for strongly recommending our Helmet bathing caps for pomps, bobs or permanents. These caps are not particularly beautiful but very efficient.

Do You Quarrel With Your Freckles?

Just the other day down in New York a 12-year-old won a $50.00 prize for having the MOST freckles of any kid in town! He had over 5000!! Flyte would have removed them at a very small cost but he would have been out the $50.00. Ever count YOUR freckles?

Leave a Dress or So for the Poor Moths!

Don't go away from home and leave nothing for the poor moths to eat! There are so many people nowadays who buy these MOTH PROOF Bags at 75c and put their cloths away and then the poor moths have nothing to eat.

And You Never Notice It Yourself!

Thats the bad thing about perspiration odors. And it takes quite a bit of courage on the part of your friends to TELL you! The safe way is to outfit yourself with some of the deodorants that we have in stock and use it daily during the summer weather. We have a wide selection of the better ones.

ALL-STAR CAST AT CERAMIC

Jack Holt and Esther Ralston in "Blind Goddess"

Justice, as it is dispensed in the criminal courts, comes in for a sound spanking, and the reliability of circumstantial evidence receives a knockout blow in Victor Fleming's thrilling romance-drama, "The Blind Goddess," which opened a three-day run at the Ceramic theatre last night.

This picture version of Arthur Train's exciting novel of the same name is a strong dramatic vehicle with a murder-mystery for its plot basis and with kaleidescopic New York for its colorful locale. The romance of young love, the pathos of self-sacrificing mother-love, the sinister side of politics, the smart social atmosphere of Fifth avenue, the blundering efforts of the law, symbolized by "the blind goddess"—all these are elements in the story that grips the interest, stirs the emotions and serves to provide an hour of rare entertainment.

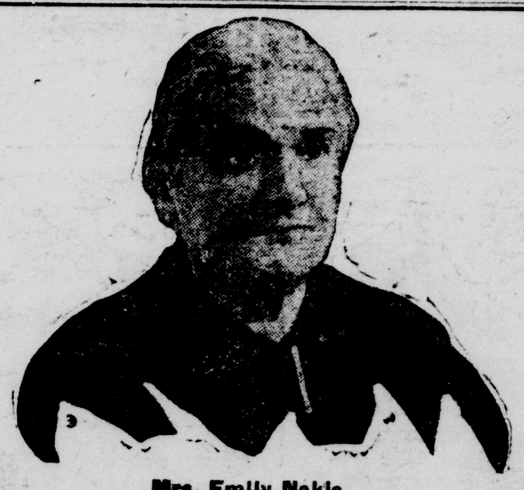
Victor Fleming has not only made a workmanlike job of the direction but he has provided a cast whose individual performances and collective acting emphasize and intensify the emotional power and dramatic sweep of the story.

Jack Holt, as the young lawyer who dares to sacrifice the girl he loves to remain true to his ideal of duty, plays in his usually capable fashion. Esther Ralston, the personification of feminine loveliness, give an excellent account of herself in a role that makes heavy demands of her histrionic ability. Ernest Torrence proves he can handle comedy and drama with equal deftness; and Louise Dresser adds to her laurels with her compelling portrayal of the pitiful mother.

FRENCH LIBRARY IS EXONERATED OF CHARGE OF SELLING RARE BOOKS

PARIS—Paul Vaillant Couturier, the Communist Deputy, charged the administrator of the National library of selling to rich Americans many rare books of which the library possessed more than one copy. The incident created a considerable stir and an investigation was at once begun. The accusation has been proven false. The administrator, Monsieur Roland Marcel testified the library never sells volumes of which it has but two copies. In cases where a sale does take place it is always necessary that the library possess at least three copies of the book and the sale must be approved by the Minister of Fine Arts.

Wherever the New York Public Library finds itself with several copies of the same rare work, it usually proposes one of the copies to the National Library and the price is agreed upon by the directors. This arrangement is reciprocal.



Mrs. Emily Nakis

So Crippled With Rheumatism She Couldn't Comb Her Hair

"I was as helpless as a baby and was only in the way," says grateful lady who tells how Dreco relieved all her pains.

"I often prayed that death might end my suffering but God in his mercy saw fit to send me Dreco and make me well instead," is the earnest statement made by Mrs. Emily Nakis, a lovable 52 year old lady living at Rankin, a suburb of Pittsburgh, while talking with the Dreco man.

"I was so crippled up with rheumatism I was about as helpless as an infant. I couldn't even comb my hair and had to be helped up and down the stairs. The pains through my back and sholders and legs were terrible and I sat down all day long brooding and worrying over my condition. I thought I was only in the way and, though the whole family were simply wonderful to me, I would have welcomed relief from my earthly suffering.

"My blood pressure was high and I had hot flashes through my head which almost made me fall out of my chair. I got very weak, had no appetite, was very nervous, slept very little at night and had lots of trouble with my stomach. I was in misery 24 hours a day.

"Although I spent over $2,000 it was all money wasted for not a thing brought me relief until my son read of Dreco and got some for me. That was just six weeks ago and today, thanks to this wonderful medicine, I am happy and healthy once more and haven't the least sign of a rheumatic pain. The hot flashes have ended, I feel stronger and am able to help my self as well as anyone my age. I eat wonderful and sleep just grand and feel so happy I could cry. While my condition was so bad I lost lots of weight and my clothes hung on me like bags but I am fast regaining all the lost weight. Dreco was certainly a blessing to me and I take great happiness in recommending it to others."

Mr. O'Connor, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Mathews' Medicine Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him. His advice is free.

Fat People Told To Eat Heartily

It is no longer necessary to deny yourself plenty of the foods you like. The new plan by which New York Society's fat persons are reducing is now available to the rest of the country. It consists of taking a certain harmless medicinal ingredient, purely vegetable, discovered by science, which dissolves the fat cells. It contains no thyroid or dangerous drugs. It acts quickest when well chewed and therefore it is embodied in a deliciously flavored fat-reducing chewing gum called "Slends." Local druggists are stocking a large supply in expectation of an enormous demand. They say that if you start today to "Slenderize with Slends" your fat will begin to go tomorrow.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain
How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Dry Cleaning is Thorough Cleaning

How quickly dust and dirt settle upon things is indicated by the frequency with which you must wash your face and hands. Dust settling upon clothing work its way into the fabric and takes away its "life" and color working increasing injury to the fabric. Frequent brushing does not clean clothing. Brushing merely removes a little surface dust. If you wish to get the utmost service out of your garments and keep them looking bright and new, have them cleaned thoroughly and frequently by

"MANY a mickle makes a muckle," and Uncle Sam realizes it, thanks to Secretary Mellon. To say that the Coolidge-Mellon program cuts $835,000,000 more from the public debt this year, means a saving every year hereafter of $33,000,000 in interest alone. That amount of money invested for a few years in national improvements would eliminate swamps, deserts, get rid of mosquitoes, and be worth to this country more than our total national debt.

The debt in August, 1919, was twenty-six and one-half billions. Since then the debt has been reduced to nineteen and a half billions.s

If we could find money for national improvements as easily as for war, this country would be much improved.

WEDNESDAY 60,000 students from Catholic parochial schools, academies and universities participated in Chicago's Eucharistic services. On the previous night 230,000 men, members of the Holy Name society, lighted simultaneously 230,000 candles, illuminating the great field.

The light of these candles, physically speaking, could not penetrate far into the night through which this planet is whirling.

But bearers of the candles could reasonably hope that each was identified and counted above, where each falling sparrow is noticed and the hairs are counted on the heads of all human beings, now numbering about 1,000,000,000, on the earth.

BYRD, brave and able young American flyer, returns to America from his flight over the north pole, and is nobly received by the public, the mayor of New York and a big committee.

"Aviation has pulled the teeth of the Arctic," Commander Byrd tells Mayor Walker. "Flying over the pole was no harder than flying anywhere else. In fact, it is easier, little wind in the cold regions."

The most beautiful thing about Commander Byrd's homecoming was the expression on his mother's face as she stood beside him on the ship that brought him home.

THIS morning at the Strangeway jail in Manchester, England, a woman will be hanged for murder. Thousands, in vain, signed a petition for mercy. The woman's three children, including a small baby boy, saw her in jail for the last time on Monday. Those children, destined to be pointed out through life, are punished more severely than their mother. But English law is thorough, relentless, and it does discourage murder—more than you can say for United States law.

A YOUNG man and his wife were found shot dead in their Long Island home yesterday and reporters were excited. It was a fashionable home in a fashionable neighborhood, and they were fashionable people. In addition, they were rich and, as a finishing touch, the husband had ancestors that came over in the Mayflower.

What did this couple, hurried from life, find in the other world? Is there aristocracy there? Did they wait, in line, for their turn?

WELLS DEFEATS MALLEY AT WESTWOOD

FORMER STATE GOLF CHAMPION WINS PLACE IN SEMI-FINALS

East Liverpool Man Downs Canton Foe, Four and Two.

HE IS FAVORITE

Bobby Jones Victor in British Open Tournament.

WESTWOOD COUNTRY CLUB., CLEVELAND, June 25.—J. M. Wells, of East Liverpool, twice former champion of Ohio amateur golfers, this morning defeated King Malley, of Canton and Delaware, 4 and 2, in the third round of the Buckeye tourney here and advanced to the semi-finals which will be played off this afternoon.

Malley, the 19-year-old flash and captain of the Ohio Wesleyan golf team, staged a brilliant attempt against the Ceramic City veteran, but Wells' machine-like golf followed an undeviating path to victory.

Going Like House Afire.

Wells got off to a good start, leading the college lad by a score of 3 up on the ninth hole and continued his sensational performance on the return route.

Malley yesterday defeated Sinclair Dean, the Lima bridegroom, 2 up, the inevitable jinx following Dean's medal play achievement.

Wells has been going like a house afire and in the opinion of many following his victory over Malley, is expected to pull through for the cup. He has shown a brand of super-golf especially on the greens, his sensational putting characterizing his conquest over Eli Ross, the Cleveland gardner. In that match Wells sank two 20-footers.

BOND IS FILED IN $890 DAMAGE SUIT BY CITY

Stay of Execution in East End Church Case.

FIGHT RESUMED

Presbyterian Congregation Sued When Storm Caused Havoc.

Bond for $2,500 to act as a stay of execution was filed today in common pleas court by the City of East Liverpool in the case filed against it by the trustees of the Second Presbyterian church, wherein judgment against the city was rendered for $890.90 and costs of $196.70. This is the first move in an effort to carry the case to the appellate court.

The trustees sued the city for damages done to the church property by the overflowing of a run during a storm. After judgment had been handed down on the verdict of a jury, Solicitor Frank Hoover gave notice of appeal, but the bill of exceptions was not filed within the time limit, it is claimed.

An execution on city property was then asked by Attorney J. H. Brookes, counsel for the trustees, and Sheriff George Wright levied on the Sixth street lot owned by the municipality.

Filing the bond prevents the sale of the property by Sheriff Wright to satisfy the judgment. The bond was signed by Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Service Director J. W. Moore and Water Works Clerk F. K. Robinson.

MOTORIST FINED $1 AND COSTS

Abraham Rabinowitz paid a fine of $1 and costs after he pleaded guilty to a traffic violation before Municipal Judge Hanley this morning. He was arrested by Patrolman Roth last night when his car was found parked in front of the Columbia theatre, Sixth street.

APPLE CREEK SITE FAVORED FOR HOME OF FEEBLE MINDED

Harper's Recommendation is Conditionally Accepted.

GREEN OPPOSES

Proviso That State is Able to Purchase "at Fair Price."

COLUMBUS, June 25—By a vote of 4 to 1, the state control board today conditionally accepted the recommendation of Welfare Director Harper that the Apple Creek site, Wayne county, be chosen for the proposed northern Ohio state institution for feeble minded.

Representative Perry Green, Portage county, Republican, voted against acceptance after making an unsuccessful effort to have the board favor the Freedom site, Portage county.

Acceptance of the Apple Creek site is conditioned upon the state being able to purchase the land "at a fair price."

Carpenter Favors Plan.

Those voting in favor of the Apple Creek site are: Finance Director Baker, Democrat chairman of the board; Attorney General Crabbe, State Auditor Tracy and Senator Harry L. Carpenter, Steubenville, Republicans.

The vote was preceded by Green's plea for acceptance of the Freedom site, which he declared could be purchased for more than $80,000 less than the Apple Creek site. He stated also that the Freedom site was best located to serve all the people most economically.

The board, it was announced, will confer with State Highway Director Schiessinger and a representative of the state welfare department at once and arrange plans for arriving at the total amount the state will be willing to pay for the Apple Creek site. According to law a purchase of a site must be made through the highway director.

TORONTO MAN PAYS $50 FINE

H. N. Garee, Toronto, who was fined $50 and costs and his automobile license suspended for a period of 60 days by Municipal Judge Hanley after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, was released from custody today after his fine was paid.

Police are still holding Garee's machine in a local garage. When he was released this morning he was notified to send for it. His license plates are to be retained by the police as a means of enforcing the license suspension. The automobile license division at Columbus is also to be notified to issue no other license for Garee's car during the suspension period.

Frederick Wagner, 50 Years Old Dies In El Paso, Texas

Word of the death of Frederick Wagner, 50 years old, owner of the former Wagner monument works, Third and Washington, who succumbed in El Paso, Texas, was received in a telegram this morning by Dr. J. G. Reinartz, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran church.

Wagner operated a monument works here for many years, leaving the city a little more than two years ago.

He was a member of the Lutheran church.

N. B. O. P. READY FOR TREK TO ANNUAL CONVENTION AT ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Thirty-Sixth Session Will Open in Seashore Resort Hall Next Friday Morning.

DELEGATES LEAVE ON EARLY TRAIN

Consideration of Proposed General Ware Agreement Will be Chief Business.

Officials of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters today completed arrangements for the thirty-sixth annual convention, which will open next Friday morning in Odd Fellows' hall in Atlantic City.

President John T. Wood, Secretary John D. McGillivrey and other members of the executive board will form the advance guard on the trek to the seashore, while delegates from the western district will leave East Liverpool early Thursday morning to board Baltimore and Ohio excursion trains at Pittsburgh.

A proposed new general ware agreement with the United States Potters' association to replace the present pact which expires on October 1, will be the most important business to be considered by the delegates who are expected to be in session 10 days or two weeks.

Resolutions Prepared.

For the first time in the history of the organization, officers will not be elected this year as in 1925, the present executive board members were chosen for two-year terms.

The time limit for resolutions to be presented this year expired on June 1. All proposals are now in the hands of the secretary and will be referred to the resolutions committee.

Brotherhood officers today directed attention to the fact that East Liverpool delegates will be required to board the 5 a. m. train from the Cleveland and Pittsburgh station or the 5:20 interurban car from the Broadway terminal to reach Pittsburgh on time July 1 to board the 8:20 B. & O. train for Atlantic City.

Train Scehdule.

The train schedule out of Pittsburgh on July 1, over the B. & O. Railroad follows:

Leave Pittsburgh 8:20 a. m., 5:10 p. m., 10:30 p. m., 11:55 p. m.

Arrive Philadelphia 8:04 p. m. 5:36 a. m., 10:17 a. m., 12:22 p. m.

Leave Philadelphia 8:45 p. m., 7:00 a. m., 12:00 noon, 1:00 p. m.

Arrive Atlantic City 10:00 p. m., 8:20 a. m., 1:15 p. m., 2:20 p. m.

It is necessary to change at Philadelphia on all trains and transfer to the Chestnut Street Ferry. In addition to that change, it is necessary to change at Washington on trains leaving Pittsburgh 10:30 and 11:55 p. m., direct connections being made for Philadelphia.

The train leaving Pittsburgh 11:55 p. m., Standard Time, June 30, can be used in connection with these excursion tickets.

The fare for the round trip from Pittsburgh will be $15.60 and the fare from East Liverpool to Pittsburg and return will be $3.20, bringing the total train fare cost from East Liverpool to Atlantic City and return to $18.80.

STOLEN TOURING CAR RECOVERED

Chevrolet touring car, belonging to Adrian Azdell, Maplewood, stolen while parked in Washington street, near the Moose temple, last night, was located near the Franklin school, five miles from Chester, this morning. The car had been stripped of its tires, battery, tools and everything else removable, police were told. No theft insurance was carried on the machine.

One Rifle Bullet Kills Rat, Then Wounds Ohioan

ZANESVILLE, O., June 25.—One bullet from a rifle killed a rat and seriously wounded a man in a local restaurant this morning. The bullet, fired by a patron named Murphy, passed through the body of the rat and then glanced upward from the floor and entered the abdomen of William Kazages, 44, Greek porter, 14 feet away. Kazages is seriously wounded and surgeons are probing for the bullet. He is in Good Samaritan hospital.

WATKIN FINED $300, CARRIES CASE HIGHER

Found Guilty of Dry Law Charge in City Court.

POSTS $600 BOND

Accused Denies he Furnished Half Pint of Whisky.

Decision of Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley in finding Albert Watkin, Ridgeway avenue potter, guilty upon a charge of furnishing liquor, for which he was fined $300 and costs yesterday afternoon, will be carried to the common pleas court in an effort to obtain a new trial.

Attorney W. A. O'Grady, who represented Watkin, has requested a bill of exceptions from the local court, indicating his intentions of carrying the case to the higher tribunal. No application for a new trial was made before Judge Hanley.

The fine, imposed by the local court, was not paid, but Watkins posted a $600 bond pending a ruling of the county tribunal. The bond was signed by the defendant's wife, Mrs. Albert Watkin, and John Hebron, Ravine street. Should the higher court decline to grant Watkin a new trial, he will be required to pay the fine.

Solicitor Frank Hoover, who represented the state at yesterday's hearing, said that Watkins had been convicted on liquor violations on two previous occasions.

Watkins was arrested Monday after he is alleged to have offered to sell a half pint of whisky to another man for $1. The transaction, it is alleged, was witnessed by Patrolman Norman McFarland who was hiding near the McNicol yellow ware plant in Ridgeway avenue where the violation is said to have occurred. The accused, in his defense, asserted that the officer had picked up the bottle containing the liquor from the ground and that it never had been in his possession.

Mail Clerk, Ill, Kills Himself in Hotel; Wife Invalid

COLUMBUS, June 25.—Burial arrangement were being made today for the body of the late Fred R. Hudson, 62, Chicago railway mail clerk, who committed suicide in his room at the Chittenden hotel here by cutting his throat and wrists. He had been suffering from a nervous breakdown. His widow is an invalid.

KLONDYKE LAD, 9, ARRESTED AS HE RIFLES SECOND DRAWER

Hall China Company's Postal Box is Ransacked.

LETTERS OPENED

Suspect, Police Say, Also Admits Theft of $34-500 Checks.

Robbery of the postoffice box of the Potters' National bank about two weeks ago, in which checks totaling approximately $34,500 were stolen, was solved today when a 9-year-old Klondyke boy, according to police, confessed.

Discarded Several Letters.

The confession followed the lad's arrest by Captain of Police Mason Conley last night after he is alleged to have rifled the Hall China company's postal drawer in the downtown post office.

The boy, who was permitted to return home pending an investigation by juvenile court officials, admitted both robberies, police said.

The suspect, according to the police claimed that he had found the mail drawer of the Hall China company unlocked. He said that he opened several letters, discarded some of the mail in a waste paper receptacle and left the remainder in the box which he closed. He is alleged to have been leaving the postoffice with a check in his hand when he attracted attention of a man who stopped him, took the check from him, turned it over to postoffice workers. It is then that the robbery of the box was discovered.

Find None of Missing Checks.

Police were immediately notified and a few minutes later Captain Conley, who had been given a description of the youngster, located him in the Diamond. He was taken to the city hall and, after a grilling, confessed, police asserted.

The boy at first said he had found the checks in the waste paper boxes but later admitted having rifled the mail drawers. He also said that he had opened the Potters' National bank box about two weeks ago, taking checks payable to the Homer Laughlin China company which he discarded near the doorway of the Newark shoe store, Sixth street, after he had made futile efforts to cash one of them at an automobile accessory establishment. None of the missing checks were found in the lad's possession at the time of his apprehension.

300 FARM GIRLS VISITORS HERE

Make Tour of Pottery and Stores During Forenoon.

Members of the Girls' club of the Agriculture Extension service, a branch of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau, came to East Liverpool today for a visit of the potteries and stores and a picnic.

The party, numbering more than 300, arrived from Lisbon about 10 o'clock this morning. The trip was made in automobiles. They were taken to Newell where they inspected the new No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company during the forenoon.

A basket dinner was served at Thompson park at noon. This was followed by a program of athletic events after which the visitors were to return to town where they were to visit the D. M. Ogilvie store for about an hour. They were to leave here at 4 o'clock.

The trip was arranged by Floyd Lower, county farm agent, with the local Chamber of Commerce. The visitors were mainly from the rural districts.

FRAME TABERNACLE IS ERECTED ON DIXONVILLE ROAD SITE FOR FREE METHODIST CAMP MEETING

When members of the dozen or more congregations in the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church gather at their camp meeting grounds in the Dixonville road, August 19-29, for their annual summer camp meeting, they will meet in a frame tabernacle, instead of a tent, which has been used in past years. The structure, which was started about six weeks ago, is nearing completion today.

The tabernacle, 105 feet in length and 70 feet in width, will have seating accommodations for 1,500 persons, while accommodations will be provided for an overflow crowd of 500.

The roof is now being shingled. The prime coat of paint has been applied, while the building will be given one more coat.

The structure is being erected almost entirely by volunteer help, and as a result about $1,500 has been saved. The lumber, hardware and other material cost about $3,500. It is so built that it can be closed during cool weather, the structure having 40 windows and 10 doors. It will be illuminated with electricity.

Part of the cost has been raised through public subscriptions. It is planned to liquidate the remainder of the deft during the camp meeting.

Five cottages have been erected on the grounds and others are contemplated. Approximately 100 tents will be pitched for the accommodation of the campers, who will attend the 10-day services.

Rev. J. P. Foy, of this city, superintendent of the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church, announced today that Rev. A. J. Beattie, Sharon, superintendent of the New Castle and Erie districts, will be the visiting evangelist. He will be assisted by Miss Adelaide Latshaw, New Brighton, who recently returned from Africa, where she has been engaged in missionary work.

If we could find money for national improvements as easily as for war, this country would be much improved.

WEDNESDAY 60,000 students from Catholic parochial schools, academies and universities participated in Chicago's Eucharistic services. On the previous night 230,000 men, members of the Holy Name society, lighted simuleaneously 230,000 candles, illuminating the great field.

The light of these candles, physically speaking, could not penetrate far into the night through which this planet is whirling.

But bearers of the candles could reasonably hope that each was identified and counted above, where each falling sparrow is noticed and the hairs are counted on the heads of all human beings, now numbering about 1,000,000,000, on this earth.

BYRD, brave and able young American flyer, returns to America from his flight over the north pole, and is nobly received by the public, the mayor of New York and a big committee.

"Aviation has pulled the teeth of the Arctic," Commander Byrd tells Mayor Walker. "Flying over the pole was no harder than flying anywhere else. In fact, it is easier, little wind in the cold regions."

The most beautiful thing about Commander Byrd's homecoming was the expression on his mother's face as she stood beside him on the ship that brought him home.

THIS morning at the Strangeway jail in Manchester, England, a woman will be hanged for murder. Thousands, in vain, signed a petition for mercy. The woman's three children, including a small baby boy, saw her in jail for the last time on Monday. Those children, destined to be pointed out through life, are punished more severely than their mother. But English law is thorough, relentless, and it does discourage murder — more than you can say for United States law.

A YOUNG man and his wife were found shot dead in their Long Island home yesterday and reporters were excited. It was a fashionable home in a fashionable neighborhood, and they were fashionable people. In addition, they were rich and, as a finishing touch, the husband had ancestors that came over in the Mayflower.

What did this couple, hurried from life, find in the other world? Is there aristocracy there? Did they wait, in line, for their turn?

WELLS DEFEATS MALLEY AT WESTWOOD

FORMER STATE GOLF CHAMPION WINS PLACE IN SEMI-FINALS

East Liverpool Man Downs Canton Foe, Four and Two.

HE IS FAVORITE

Bobby Jones Victor in British Open Tournament.

WESTWOOD COUNTRY CLUB., CLEVELAND, June 25.—J. M. Wells, of East Liverpool, twice former champion of Ohio amateur golfers, this morning defeated King Malley, of Canton and Delaware, 4 and 2, in the third round of the Buckeye tourney here and advanced to the semi-finals which will be played off this afternoon.

Malley, the 19-year-old flash and captain of the Ohio Wesleyan golf team, staged a brilliant attempt against the Ceramic City veteran, but Wells' machine-like golf followed an undeviating path to victory.

Going Like House Afire.

Wells got off to a good start, leading the college lad by a score of 3 up on the ninth hole and continued his sensational performance on the return route.

Malley yesterday defeated Sinclair Dean, the Lima bridegroom, 2 up, the inevitable jinx following Dean's medal play achievement.

Wells has been going like a house afire and in the opinion of many following his victory over Malley, is expected to pull through for the cup. He has shown a brand of super-golf especially on the greens, his sensational putting characterizing his conquest over Eli Ross, the Cleveland gardner. In that match Wells sank two 20-footers.

BOND IS FILED IN $890 DAMAGE SUIT BY CITY

Stay of Execution in East End Church Case.

FIGHT RESUMED

Presbyterian Congregation Sued When Storm Caused Havoc.

Bond for $2,500 to act as a stay of execution was filed today in common pleas court by the City of East Liverpool in the case filed against it by the trustees of the Second Presbyterian church, wherein judgment against the city was rendered for $890.90 and costs of $196.70. This is the first move in an effort to carry the case to the appellate court.

The trustees sued the city for damages done to the church property by the overflowing of a run during a storm. After judgment had been handed down on the verdict of a jury, Solicitor Frank Hoover gave notice of appeal, but the bill of exceptions was not filed within the time limit, it is claimed.

An execution on city property was then asked by Attorney J. H. Brookes, counsel for the trustees, and Sheriff George Wright levied on the Sixth street lot owned by the municipality.

Filing the bond prevents the sale of the property by Sheriff Wright to satisfy the judgment. The bond was signed by Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Service Director J. W. Moore and Water Works Clerk F. K. Robinson.

MOTORIST FINED $1 AND COSTS

Abraham Rabinowitz paid a fine of $1 and costs after he pleaded guilty to a traffic violation before Municipal Judge Hanley this morning. He was arrested by Patrolman Roth last night when his car was found parked in front of the Columbia theatre, Sixth street.

APPLE CREEK SITE FAVORED FOR HOME OF FEEBLE MINDED

Harper's Recommendation is Conditionally Accepted.

GREEN OPPOSES

Proviso That State is Able to Purchase "at Fair Price."

COLUMBUS, June 25—By a vote of 4 to 1, the state control board today conditionally accepted the recommendation of Welfare Director Harper that the Apple Creek site, Wayne county, be chosen for the proposed northern Ohio state institution for feeble minded.

Representative Perry Green, Portage county, Republican, voted against acceptance after making an unsuccessful effort to have the board favor the Freedom site, Portage county.

Acceptance of the Apple Creek site is conditioned upon the state being able to purchase the land "at a fair price."

Carpenter Favors Plan.

Those voting in favor of the Apple Creek site are: Finance Director Baker, Democrat chairman of the board; Attorney General Crabbe, State Auditor Tracy and Senator Harry L. Carpenter, Steubenville, Republicans.

The vote was preceded by Green's plea for acceptance of the Freedom site, which he declared could be purchased for more than $80,000 less than the Apple Creek site. He stated also that the Freedom site was best located to serve all the people most economically.

The board, it was announced, will confer with State Highway Director Schiessinger and a representative of the state welfare department at once and arrange plans for arriving at the total amount the state will be willing to pay for the Apple Creek site. According to law a purchase of a site must be made through the highway director.

TORONTO MAN PAYS $50 FINE

H. N. Garee, Toronto, who was fined $50 and costs and his automobile license suspended for a period of 60 days by Municipal Judge Hanley after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, was released from custody today after his fine was paid.

Police are still holding Garee's machine in a local garage. When he was released this morning he was notified to send for it. His license plates are to be retained by the police as a means of enforcing the license suspension. The automobile license division at Columbus is also to be notified to issue no other license for Garee's car during the suspension period.

Wagner operated a monument works here for many years, leaving the city a little more than two years ago.

He was a member of the Lutheran church.

N. B. O. P. READY FOR TREK TO ANNUAL CONVENTION AT ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Thirty-Sixth Session Will Open in Seashore Resort Hall Next Friday Morning.

DELEGATES LEAVE ON EARLY TRAIN

Consideration of Proposed General Ware Agreement Will be Chief Business.

Officials of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters today completed arrangements for the thirty-sixth annual convention, which will open next Friday morning in Odd Fellows' hall in Atlantic City.

President John T. Wood, Secretary John D. McGillivrey and other members of the executive board will form the advance guard on the trek to the seashore, while delegates from the western district will leave East Liverpool early Thursday morning to board Baltimore and Ohio excursion trains at Pittsburgh.

A proposed new general ware agreement with the United States Potters' association to replace the present pact which expires on October 1, will be the most important business to be considered by the delegates who are expected to be in session 10 days or two weeks.

Resolutions Prepared.

For the first time in the history of the organization, officers will not be elected this year as in 1925, the present executive board members were chosen for two-year terms.

The time limit for resolutions to be presented this year expired on June 1. All proposals are now in the hands of the secretary and will be referred to the resolutions committee.

Brotherhood officers today directed attention to the fact that East Liverpool delegates will be required to board the 5 a. m. train from the Cleveland and Pittsburgh station or the 5:20 interurban car from the Broadway terminal to reach Pittsburgh on time July 1 to board the 8:20 B. & O. train for Atlantic City.

Train Scehdule.

The train schedule out of Pittsburgh on July 1, over the B. & O. Railroad follows:

Leave Pittsburgh 8:20 a. m., 5:10 p. m., 10:30 p. m., 11:55 p. m.

Arrive Philadelphia 8:04 p. m. 5:35 a. m., 10:17 a. m., 12:22 p. m.

Leave Philadelphia 8:45 p. m., 7:00 a. m., 12:00 noon, 1:00 p. m.

Arrive Atlantic City 10:00 p. m., 8:20 a. m., 1:15 p. m., 2:20 p. m.

It is necessary to change at Philadelphia on all trains and transfer to the Chestnut Street Ferry. In addition to that change, it is necessary to change at Washington on trains leaving Pittsburgh 10:30 and 11:55 p. m., direct connections being made for Philadelphia.

The train leaving Pittsburgh 11:55 p. m., Standard Time, June 30, can be used in connection with these excursion tickets.

The fare for the round trip from Pittsburgh will be $15.60 and the fare from East Liverpool to Pittsburg and return will be $3.20, bringing the total train fare cost from East Liverpool to Atlantic City and return to $18.80.

STOLEN TOURING CAR RECOVERED

Chevrolet touring car, belonging to Adrian Azdell, Maplewood, stolen while parked in Washington street, near the Moose temple, last night, was located near the Franklin school, five miles from Chester, this morning. The car had been stripped of its tires, battery, tools and everything else removable, police were told. No theft insurance was carried on the machine.

One Rifle Bullet Kills Rat, Then Wounds Ohioan

ZANESVILLE, O., June 25—One bullet from a rifle killed a rat and seriously wounded a man in a local restaurant this morning. The bullet, fired by a patron named Murphy, passed through the body of the rat and then glanced upward from the floor and entered the abdomen of William Kazages, 44, Greek porter, 14 feet away. Kazages is seriously wounded and surgeons are probing for the bullet. He is in Good Samaritan hospital.

WATKIN FINED $300, CARRIES CASE HIGHER

Found Guilty of Dry Law Charge in City Court.

POSTS $600 BOND

Accused Denies he Furnished Half Pint of Whisky.

Decision of Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley in finding Albert Watkin, Ridgeway avenue potter, guilty upon a charge of furnishing liquor, for which he was fined $300 and costs yesterday afternoon, will be carried to the common pleas court in an effort to obtain a new trial.

Attorney W. A. O'Grady, who represented Watkin, has requested a bill of exceptions from the local court, indicating his intentions of carrying the case to the higher tribunal. No application for a new trial was made before Judge Hanley.

The fine, imposed by the local court, was not paid, but Watkins posted a $600 bond pending a ruling of the county tribunal. The bond was signed by the defendant's wife, Mrs. Albert Watkin, and John Hebron, Ravine street. Should the higher court decline to grant Watkin a new trial, he will be required to pay the fine.

Solicitor Frank Hoover, who represented the state at yesterday's hearing, said that Watkins had been convicted on liquor violations on two previous occasions.

Watkins was arrested Monday after he is alleged to have offered to sell a half pint of whisky to another man for $1. The transaction, it is alleged, was witnessed by Patrolman Norman McFarland who was hiding near the McNicol yellow ware plant in Ridgeway avenue where the violation is said to have occurred. The accused, in his defense, asserted that the officer had picked up the bottle containing the liquor from the ground and that it never had been in his possession.

Mail Clerk, Ill, Kills Himself in Hotel; Wife Invalid

COLUMBUS, June 25—Burial arrangement were being made today for the body of the late Fred R. Hudson, 62, Chicago railway mail clerk, who committed suicide in his room at the Chittenden hotel here by cutting his throat and wrists. He had been suffering from a nervous breakdown. His widow is an invalid.

KLONDYKE LAD, 9, ARRESTED AS HE RIFLES SECOND DRAWER

Hall China Company's Postal Box is Ransacked.

LETTERS OPENED

Suspect, Police Say, Also Admits Theft of $34-500 Checks.

Robbery of the postoffice box of the Potters' National bank about two weeks ago, in which checks totaling approximately $34,500 were stolen, was solved today when a 9-year-old Klondyke boy, according to police, confessed.

Discarded Several Letters.

The confession followed the lad's arrest by Captain of Police Mason Conley last night after he is alleged to have rifled the Hall China company's postal drawer in the downtown post office.

The boy, who was permitted to return home pending an investigation by juvenile court officials, admitted both robberies, police said.

The suspect, according to the police claimed that he had found the mail drawer of the Hall China company unlocked. He said that he opened several letters, discarded some of the mail in a waste paper receptacle and left the remainder in the box which he closed. He is alleged to have been leaving the postofffice with a check in his hand when he attracted attention of a man who stopped him, took the check from him, turned it over to postoffice workers. It is then that the robbery of the box was discovered.

Find None of Missing Checks.

Police were immediately notified and a few minutes later Captain Conley, who had been given a description of the youngster, located him in the Diamond. He was taken to the city hall and, after a grilling, confessed, police asserted.

The boy at first said he had found the checks in the waste paper boxes but later admitted having rifled the mail drawers. He also said that he had opened the Potters' National bank box about two weeks ago, taking checks payable to the Homer Laughlin China company which he discarded near the doorway of the Newark shoe store, Sixth street, after he had made futile efforts to cash one of them at an automobile accessory establishment. None of the missing checks were found in the lad's possession at the time of his apprehension.

300 FARM GIRLS VISITORS HERE

Make Tour of Pottery and Stores During Forenoon.

Members of the Girls' club of the Agriculture Extension service, a branch of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau, came to East Liverpool today for a visit of the potteries and stores and a picnic.

The party, numbering more than 300, arrived from Lisbon about 10 o'clock this morning. The trip was made in automobiles. They were taken to Newell where they inspected the new No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company during the forenoon.

A basket dinner was served at Thompson park at noon. This was followed by a program of athletic events after which the visitors were to return to town where they were to visit the D. M. Ogilvie store for about an hour. They were to leave here at 4 o'clock.

The trip was arranged by Floyd Lower, county farm agent, with the local Chamber of Commerce. The visitors were mainly from the rural districts.

FRAME TABERNACLE IS ERECTED ON DIXONVILLE ROAD SITE FOR FREE METHODIST CAMP MEETING

When members of the dozen or more congregations in the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church gather at their camp meeting grounds in the Dixonville road, August 19-29, for their annual summer camp meeting, they will meet in a frame tabernacle, instead of a tent, which has been used in past years. The structure, which was started about six weeks ago, is nearing completion today.

The tabernacle, 105 feet in length and 70 feet in width, will have seating accommodations for 1,500 persons, while accommodations will be provided for an overflow crowd of 500.

The roof is now being shingled. The prime coat of paint has been applied, while the building will be given one more coat.

The structure is being erected almost entirely by volunteer help, and as a result about $1,500 has been saved. The lumber, hardware and other material cost about $3,500. It is so built that it can be closed during cool weather, the structure having 40 windows and 10 doors. It will be illuminated with electricity.

Part of the cost has been raised through public subscriptions. It is planned to liquidate the remainder of the deft during the camp meeting.

Five cottages have been erected on the grounds and others are contemplated. Approximately 100 tents will be pitched for the accommodation of the campers, who will attend the 10-day services.

Rev. J. P. Foy, of this city, superintendent of the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church, announced today that Rev. A. J. Beattie, Sharon, superintendent of the New Castle and Erie districts, will be the visiting evangelist. He will be assisted by Miss Adelaide Latshaw, New Brighton, who recently returned from Africa, where she has been engaged in missionary work.

"MANY a mickle makes a muckle," and Uncle Sam realizes it, thanks to Secretary Mellon. To say that the Coolidge-Mellon program cuts $835,000,000 more from the public debt this year, means a saving every year hereafter of $33,000,000 in interest alone. That amount of money invested for a few years in national improvements would eliminate swamps, deserts, get rid of mosquitoes, and be worth to this country more than our total national debt.

The debt in August, 1919, was twenty-six and one-half billions. Since then the debt has been reduced to nineteen and a half billions.s

If we could find money for national improvements as easily as for war, this country would be much improved.

N. B. O. P. READY FOR TREK TO ANNUAL CONVENTION AT ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Thirty-Sixth Session Will Open in Seashore Resort Hall Next Friday Morning.

DELEGATES LEAVE ON EARLY TRAIN

Consideration of Proposed General Ware Agreement Will be Chief Business.

Officials of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters today completed arrangements for the thirty-sixth annual convention, which will open next Friday morning in Odd Fellows' hall in Atlantic City.

President John T. Wood, Secretary John D. McGillivrey and other members of the executive board will form the advance guard on the trek to the seashore, while delegates from the western district will leave East Liverpool early Thursday morning to board Baltimore and Ohio excursion trains at Pittsburgh.

A proposed new general ware agreement with the United States Potters' association to replace the present pact which expires on October 1, will be the most important business to be considered by the delegates who are expected to be in session 10 days or two weeks.

Resolutions Prepared.

For the first time in the history of the organization, officers will not be elected this year as in 1925, the present executive board members were chosen for two-year terms.

The time limit for resolutions to be presented this year expired on June 1. All proposals are now in the hands of the secretary and will be referred to the resolutions committee.

Brotherhood officers today directed attention to the fact that East Liverpool delegates will be required to board the 5 a. m. train from the Cleveland and Pittsburgh station or the 5:20 interurban car from the Broadway terminal to reach Pittsburgh on time July 1 to board the 8:20 B. & O. train for Atlantic City.

Train Scehdule.

The train schedule out of Pittsburgh on July 1, over the B. & O. Railroad follows:

Leave Pittsburgh 8:20 a. m., 5:10 p. m., 10:30 p. m., 11:55 p. m.

Arrive Philadelphia 8:04 p. m. 5:36 a. m., 10:17 a. m., 12:22 p. m.

Leave Philadelphia 8:45 p. m., 7:00 a. m., 12:00 noon, 1:00 p. m.

Arrive Atlantic City 10:00 p. m., 8:20 a. m., 1:15 p. m., 2:20 p. m.

It is necessary to change at Philadelphia on all trains and transfer to the Chestnut Street Ferry. In addition to that change, it is necessary to change at Washington on trains leaving Pittsburgh 10:30 and 11:55 p. m., direct connections being made for Philadelphia.

The train leaving Pittsburgh 11:55 p. m., Standard Time, June 30, can be used in connection with these excursion tickets.

The fare for the round trip from Pittsburgh will be $15.60 and the fare from East Liverpool to Pittsburg and return will be $3.20, bringing the total train fare cost from East Liverpool to Atlantic City and return to $18.80.

STOLEN TOURING CAR RECOVERED

Chevrolet touring car, belonging to Adrian Azdell, Maplewood, stolen while parked in Washington street, near the Moose temple, last night, was located near the Franklin school, five miles from Chester, this morning. The car had been stripped of its tires, battery, tools and everything else removable, police were told. No theft insurance was carried on the machine.

One Rifle Bullet Kills Rat, Then Wounds Ohioan

ZANESVILLE, O., June 25.—One bullet from a rifle killed a rat and seriously wounded a man in a local restaurant this morning. The bullet, fired by a patron named Murphy, passed through the body of the rat and then glanced upward from the floor and entered the abdomen of William Kazages, 44, Greek porter, 14 feet away. Kazages is seriously wounded and surgeons are probing for the bullet. He is in Good Samaritan hospital.

WATKIN FINED $300, CARRIES CASE HIGHER

Found Guilty of Dry Law Charge in City Court.

POSTS $600 BOND

Accused Denies he Furnished Half Pint of Whisky.

Decision of Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley in finding Albert Watkin, Ridgeway avenue potter, guilty upon a charge of furnishing liquor, for which he was fined $300 and costs yesterday afternoon, will be carried to the common pleas court in an effort to obtain a new trial.

Attorney W. A. O'Grady, who represented Watkin, has requested a bill of exceptions from the local court, indicating his intentions of carrying the case to the higher tribunal. No application for a new trial was made before Judge Hanley.

The fine, imposed by the local court, was not paid, but Watkins posted a $600 bond pending a ruling of the county tribunal. The bond was signed by the defendant's wife, Mrs. Albert Watkin, and John Hebron, Ravine street. Should the higher court decline to grant Watkin a new trial, he will be required to pay the fine.

Solicitor Frank Hoover, who represented the state at yesterday's hearing, said that Watkins had been convicted on liquor violations on two previous occasions.

Watkins was arrested Monday after he is alleged to have offered to sell a half pint of whisky to another man for $1. The transaction, it is alleged, was witnessed by Patrolman Norman McFarland who was hiding near the McNicol yellow ware plant in Ridgeway avenue where the violation is said to have occurred. The accused, in his defense, asserted that the officer had picked up the bottle containing the liquor from the ground and that it never had been in his possession.

Mail Clerk, Ill, Kills Himself in Hotel; Wife Invalid

COLUMBUS, June 25.—Burial arrangement were being made today for the body of the late Fred R. Hudson, 62, Chicago railway mail clerk, who committed suicide in his room at the Chittenden hotel here by cutting his throat and wrists. He had been suffering from a nervous breakdown. His widow is an invalid.

KLONDYKE LAD, 9, ARRESTED AS HE RIFLES SECOND DRAWER

Hall China Company's Postal Box is Ransacked.

LETTERS OPENED

Suspect, Police Say, Also Admits Theft of $34-500 Checks.

Robbery of the postoffice box of the Potters' National bank about two weeks ago, in which checks totaling approximately $34,500 were stolen, was solved today when a 9-year-old Klondyke boy, according to police, confessed.

Discarded Several Letters.

The confession followed the lad's arrest by Captain of Police Mason Conley last night after he is alleged to have rifled the Hall China company's postal drawer in the downtown post office.

The boy, who was permitted to return home pending an investigation by juvenile court officials, admitted both robberies, police said.

The suspect, according to the police claimed that he had found the mail drawer of the Hall China company unlocked. He said that he opened several letters, discarded some of the mail in a waste paper receptacle and left the remainder in the box which he closed. He is alleged to have been leaving the postoffice with a check in his hand when he attracted attention of a man who stopped him, took the check from him, turned it over to postoffice workers. It is then that the robbery of the box was discovered.

Find None of Missing Checks.

Police were immediately notified and a few minutes later Captain Conley, who had been given a description of the youngster, located him in the Diamond. He was taken to the city hall and, after a grilling, confessed, police asserted.

The boy at first said he had found the checks in the waste paper boxes but later admitted having rifled the mail drawers. He also said that he had opened the Potters' National bank box about two weeks ago, taking checks payable to the Homer Laughlin China company which he discarded near the doorway of the Newark shoe store, Sixth street, after he had made futile efforts to cash one of them at an automobile accessory establishment. None of the missing checks were found in the lad's possession at the time of his apprehension.

300 FARM GIRLS VISITORS HERE

Make Tour of Pottery and Stores During Forenoon.

Members of the Girls' club of the Agriculture Extension service, a branch of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau, came to East Liverpool today for a visit of the potteries and stores and a picnic.

The party, numbering more than 300, arrived from Lisbon about 10 o'clock this morning. The trip was made in automobiles. They were taken to Newell where they inspected the new No. 6 plant of the Homer Laughlin China company during the forenoon.

A basket dinner was served at Thompson park at noon. This was followed by a program of athletic events after which the visitors were to return to town where they were to visit the D. M. Ogilvie store for about an hour. They were to leave here at 4 o'clock.

The trip was arranged by Floyd Lower, county farm agent, with the Local Chamber of Commerce. The visitors were mainly from the rural districts.

One Man Killed, Another Injured In Plane Crash

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., June 25.—Frank Palmer, 20, a pugilist, was killed and Ralph Pabon, amateur aviator, was injured when their airplane crashed 300 feet to the ground here.

FRAME TABERNACLE IS ERECTED ON DIXONVILLE ROAD SITE FOR FREE METHODIST CAMP MEETING

When members of the dozen or more congregations in the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church gather at their camp meeting grounds in the Dixonville road, August 19-29, for their annual summer camp meeting, they will meet in a frame tabernacle, instead of a tent, which has been used in past years. The structure, which was started about six weeks ago, is nearing completion today.

The tabernacle, 105 feet in length and 70 feet in width, will have seating accommodations for 1,500 persons, while accommodations will be provided for an overflow crowd of 500.

The roof is now being shingled. The prime coat of paint has been applied, while the building will be given one more coat.

The structure is being erected almost entirely by volunteer help, and as a result about $1,500 has been saved. The lumber, hardware and other material cost about $3,500. It is so built that it can be closed during cool weather, the structure having 40 windows and 10 doors. It will be illuminated with electricity.

Part of the cost has been raised through public subscriptions. It is planned to liquidate the remainder of the deft during the camp meeting.

Five cottages have been erected on the grounds and others are contemplated. Approximately 100 tents will be pitched for the accommodation of the campers, who will attend the 10-day services.

Rev. J. P. Foy, of this city, superintendent of the Rochester district of the Free Methodist church, announced today that Rev. A. J. Beattie, Sharon, superintendent of the New Castle and Erie districts, will be the visiting evangelist. He will be assisted by Miss Adelaide Latshaw, New Brighton, who recently returned from Africa, where she has been engaged in missionary work.

FILM ACTRESSES IN U. S. BEST DRESSED IS FRENCH EDICT

PARIS—Paul Poiret, the world's arbiter of female elegance, believes American women the best dressed of all cinema actresses.

"You want to know in what films I have found the women the best dressed? I'll reply without hesitating, in the American film. American women seem to have a certain audacity in carrying off startling creations which are never in contradistinction to good taste. They have exquisite figures and it is the greatest pleasure for me when I am commissioned to make costumes for an American screen artist."

Monsieur Poiret does not believe in the "garconne" style. "I am the firm opponent of any movement to masculanize 'la femme.' I repudiate bobbed hair and abhor that montrosity, the dinner jacket. Woman is most charming when she is most woman."

Isn't it how well we do our work, rather than how much work we do that counts? To our minds "quantity production" is not half so important as quality production! Using part of our time to keep fit for good work is better than spending all of our time at work not so good.

Did you read the message of Edward W. Edwards, industrial executive, in the American magazine? "As pleasure gives you a new edge for your work, the time devoted to it can no more be called idle than can the time a good workman gives to sharpening his tools."

British Royal Clothes Okay But Greatest Men Are Slovens

King's and Prince's Coats Superbly Cut—Premier is no Beau Brummel.

LONDON—The dress of British statesmen and novelists is attacked with the bitter and acrid pen of the editor of the "Tailor and Cutter," a trade journal devoted exclusively to tailoring and also to cutting.

His big wail is the sloveliness of the chief names in British politics and letters. True loyalist that he is, he has nothing but good to say of the way the royal family turn out, but as to the statesmen and writers, he has many hard words.

"Public men have duties as well as privileges," he says, "and one of their obligations is to make a good appearance—to cut a fine figure before the world."

"In other words," this sage of the waistline declares, "a good mental outfit may be somewhat discounted by an inferior sartorial one. A good sartorial outfit may not get man to the winning post or the achievement of his most ambitious projects, yet it will not prove a hindrance."

The King's Clothes.

"It is very gratifying to say," says this true kings-man and arbiter elegantiarum, "that our royal family reach a high standard. His majesty the king pays close attention to attire, favoring for the most part frock (Prince Alberts) or lounge suits and is rarely seen in the morning (or walking) suit.

"The king's suits are moderate, suave, and beautifully tailored. Personal notes are the side creases to the trousers and the tie passed through a ring."

"The Prince of Wales in formal dress is irreproachable," continues this sage of Old Burlington street, "his morning coats being superbly cut. In sporting clothes, he is more adventurous; he set the fashion for Fair Isle pull-overs.

"His royal highness is also noted for an attractive jauntiness which expresses itself in many ways. His clothes convey his personality.

Duke of York Correct.

"The Duke of York is always correctly dressed, but never indulges in his brother's originality. His upright figure is an excellent model. The Duke of Connaught and Lord Lascelles are invariably well-groomed and wear their clothes with distinction."

Having put royalty on their very proper sartorial pedestal, the editor starts out to flay the lower beings in the shape of cabinet ministers and the lesser breed of politicians.

"Although Mr. Baldwin is better dressed than formerly," he writes, "he still falls far short of being a Beau Brummell. There is nothing exactly the matter with his clothes, but he just does not know how to wear them.

"Sir Austin Chamberlain possesses the grand manner and wears his clothes with an air.

Birkenhead Best Dressed.

"Lord Birkenhead is classed as one of the best dressed men, either in formal or lounge dress. Mr. Amery, the colonial secretary, is slick, smart and dapper."

"Lord Balfour," he says, "has the tidiest mind, but the untidiest of clothes. He is well within the Salisbury tradition. His uncle, the famous Lord Salisbury, was the despair—sartorially—of the late king. His nephews, Lord Cecil of Charnwood and Lord Hugh Cecil, are the despair of everyone.

"Lord Balfour is never braced up; his coats always 'wing' away; he wears an old-fashioned collar and tie on every possible occasion. His neckwear suggests a country Methodist preacher."

The fashion joke of the cabinet apparently is Winston Churchill.

"His hats have become a legend. His astrachan trimmed fur coat suggests the vaudeville booking agent rather than the statesman. Although his finance may not be Gladstonian, his collars are.

Lloyd George's Faults.

"Lloyd George is well tailored, but there are too many creases. Perhaps this is due to his Celtic temperament and his arm-waving gesticulations when he is making a speech.

"Ramsey MacDonald sometimes is very circumspect and sometimes very dowdy. He is a compound—as far as clothes are concerned—of Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde.

"J. H. Thomas, the railwaymen's leader, sometimes looks like a young guards Ensign coming from his Sunday morning stroll in the park and sometimes looks as though he has just been called up from the engine room.

"Of the other Labor men, Mr. Oswald Moseley is the Beau Brummel, but J. H. Clyne and Sydney Webb are the limit of untidiness.

"George Bernard Shaw's dress, like his opinions, is distinctly unconventional. Yet despite his 70 years, his figure is still upright and he carries off a rough tweed suit with distinction.

"Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the last time I saw him, was wearing a black waistcoat with a navy blue jacket and trousers; Arnold Bennett dresses like a true society man. H. G. Wells is always neatly and correctly attired."

Ankle Competition Passes.

At the annual Hounslow hospital fete in London a feature for years has been the dainty ankle competition, but it was eliminated this year. A. J. Luto, chairman of the demonstration committee, has announced that due to the vigorous outdoor sports indulged in by women and the new ara wherein women work and walk in competition with men, the dainty ankle is passing. In fact, he said it already had passed, generally speaking.

Balloon Pants Bring Trouble to Young Gotham Collegiate

NEW YORK.—It is dangerous at times to be "collegiate" in New York.

Isadore Tanenbaum, 18, walked his bell-bottomed trousers through a Brooklyn street.

A gang of boys, took a deep interest in Isadore's sartorial makeup.

"Get hep to the balloon tires," shouted one.

Isadore walked over to the gang and demanded an apology.

When the fight was over Isadore was lying on the sidewalk with a stab wound. He will recover.

Pastor Refuses Raise.

During his pastorate of only five months, Rev. J. Earle Edwards, pastor of the Queens Baptist church in Queens Village, Long Island, increased his church membership from 89 to 252, and when the church offered to increase his salary $500 he refused it.

First Arctic Expedition to Carry U. S. Women Is On Way

For the first time three American women are on their way into the far north. They are members of the new MacMillan-Field Museum expedition which is on its way to Greenland to study the strange life of the far north. Above are the three feminine members of the party, left to right: Mrs. Rose Metcalf, Miss Marion Smith and Miss Maude Fisher. Below, Stanley Field bids bon voyage to Captain Donald F. MacMillan, head of the expedition, and Captain John Crowley.

British Royal Clothes Okay But Greatest Men Are Slovens

King's and Prince's Coats Superbly Cut—Premier is no Beau Brummel.

LONDON—The dress of British statesmen and novelists is attacked with the bitter and acrid pen of the editor of the "Tailor and Cutter," a trade journal devoted exclusively to tailoring and also to cutting.

His big wail is the slovenliness of the chief names in British politics and letters. True loyalist that he is, he has nothing but good to say of the way the royal family turn out, but as to the statesmen and writers, he has many hard words.

"Public men have duties as well as privileges," he says, "and one of their obligations is to make a good appearance—to cut a fine figure before the world."

"In other words," this sage of the waistline declares, "a good mental outfit may be somewhat discounted by an inferior sartorial one. A good sartorial outfit may not get man to the winning post or the achievement of his most ambitious projects, yet it will not prove a hindrance."

The King's Clothes.

"It is very gratifying to say," says this true kings-man and arbiter elegantiarum, "that our royal family reach a high standard. His majesty the king pays close attention to attire, favoring for the most part frock (Prince Alberts) or lounge suits and is rarely seen in the morning (or walking) suit.

"The king's suits are moderate, suave, and beautifully tailored. Personal notes are the side creases to the trousers and the tie passed through a ring."

"The Prince of Wales in formal dress is irreproachable," continues this sage of Old Burlington street, "his morning coats being superbly cut. In sporting clothes, he is more adventurous; he set the fashion for Fair Isle pull-overs.

"His royal highness is also noted for an attractive jauntiness which expresses itself in many ways. His clothes convey his personality.

Duke of York Correct.

"The Duke of York is always correctly dressed, but never indulges in his brother's originality. His upright figure is an excellent model. The Duke of Connaught and Lord Lascelles are invariably well-groomed and wear their clothes with distinction."

Having put royalty on their very proper sartorial pedestal, the editor starts out to flay the lower beings in the shape of cabinet ministers and the lesser breed of politicians.

"Although Mr. Baldwin is better dressed than formerly," he writes, "he still falls far short of being a Beau Brummell. There is nothing exactly the matter with his clothes, but he just does not know how to wear them.

"Sir Austin Chamberlain possesses the grand manner and wears his clothes with an air.

Birkenhead Best Dressed.

"Lord Birkenhead is classed as one of the best dressed men, either in formal or lounge dress. Mr. Amery, the colonial secretary, is slick, smart and dapper."

"Lord Balfour," he says, "has the tidiest mind, but the untidiest of clothes. He is well within the Salisbury tradition. His uncle, the famous Lord Salisbury, was the despair—sartorially—of the late king. His nephews, Lord Cecil of Charnwood and Lord Hugh Cecil, are the despair of everyone.

"Lord Balfour is never braced up; his coats always 'wing' away; he wears an old-fashioned collar and tie on every possible occasion. His neckwear suggests a country Methodist preacher."

The fashion joke of the cabinet apparently is Winston Churchill.

"His hats have become a legend. His astrachan trimmed fur coat suggests the vaudeville booking agent rather than the statesman. Although his finance may not be Gladstonian, his collars are.

Lloyd George's Faults.

"Lloyd George is well tailored, but there are too many creases. Perhaps this is due to his Celtic temperament and his arm-waving gesticulations when he is making a speech.

"Ramsey MacDonald sometimes is very circumspect and sometimes very dowdy. He is a compound—as far as clothes are concerned—of Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde.

"J. H. Thomas, the railwaymen's leader, sometimes looks like a young guards Ensign coming from his Sunday morning stroll in the park and sometimes looks as though he has just been called up from the engine room.

"Of the other Labor men, Mr. Oswald Moseley is the Beau Brummel, but J. H. Clyne and Sydney Webb are the limit of untidiness.

"George Bernard Shaw's dress, like his opinions, is distinctly unconventional. Yet despite his 70 years, his figure is still upright and he carries off a rough tweed suit with distinction.

"Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the last time I saw him, was wearing a black waistcoat with a navy blue jacket and trousers; Arnold Bennett dresses like a true society man. H. G. Wells is always neatly and correctly attired."

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1926.

Come On, Joe Wells!

For the third time in five years, laurels in the Ohio amateur golf championship may rest upon the brow of an East Liverpool district man.

Joseph M. Wells, a Ceramic City product and twice state title holder by reason of his sensational victories in 1922 and 1924, is a favorite in the 1926 tournament now under way on the Westwood Country club course at Cleveland.

Going like a house afire, the youthful pottery manager whose ability on the links has kept the clay-making center on the golf map for many years, was the winner in the first and second rounds yesterday, when he put Art Johnson and Eli Ross, both of the Forest City, out of the running.

Wells faces a hard test today, for this morning he will oppose King Malley, 19-year-old Canton boy, who yesterday defeated Sinclair Dean, 20-year-old Lima bridegroom and medalist of the Westwood matches.

And although the ability of Eddie Hasmann, of Cleveland, to whom Wells surrendered the championship at the Portage Country club, Akron, last year, and Jack Munro, of Zanesville, also a former champion, who are still in running, is recognized, the scores of golfers who have watched the remarkable performance of the East Liverpool man, cannot see how he can lose. They base their judgment upon his steady, consistent putting and approaching that has characterized his playing so far in the qualifying rounds and match play. And this on a course, with its hazardous routes over ravines, lakes and gulleys which account for the many high scores made in the qualifying rounds by adepts at the game. In fact, so difficult is the course that no golfer, especially Wells' fellow East Liverpool entrants, should be ashamed of their cards.

East Liverpool eyes will be centered on the Cleveland links today, for if former Champion Joe Wells is successful in his matches during the forenoon and afternoon he will enter the finals tomorrow for the title. And thousands of Ceramic City friends will be rooting for him.

The Golden Tide

The most striking business fact in the country today is its vast volume of credit. That means much, in cause and effect.

Besides all the billions in gold piled up in American treasury and bank vaults since the war, there is a golden tide still rolling in. A financial observer says we receive a billion dollars a year from abroad, to pay principal and interest on foreign loans, public and private. Along with this, there is a big excess of current income at home.

Both of these great funds are calling for new employment. Money has to be put to work. Not long ago Americans were reinvesting a great deal of the national income abroad. But now, with foreign affairs so uncertain, and with more money than ever available for investment, cautious Americans are afraid to send it abroad. So the big, growing surplus is being reinvested at home.

That, doubtless, is one of the important factors in the new rise of American securities. It tends to lower interest rates. It makes money "easier" than money usually is in this favored land, and immensely easier than money is in any other land today. Hardly any legitimate enterprise need go now without necessary funds, if its case is properly presented in the right quarters.

The strange thing about it all is that with this enormous volume of money and credit, there is, so far, little inflation. Also, oddly enough, what inflation exists seems to be found mainly at the bottom of the economic system rather than the top; it is the great expansion of installment buying.

Gains In Cheese

Did you get your half a pound of cheese in 1925? Imported cheese, that is. You probably had more than a half pound of cottage cheese and locally made cream cheese and cooking cheese with macaroni and in rarebits and souffles. But the United States, which ranks third as an importer of cheese, took in from without its borders 62,404,000 pounds, from Italy, Switzerland, France, the Netherlands and Greece.

The whole world consumed some 50,000,000 pounds more in 1925 than in 1924. What this means is hard to tell. Perhaps people are eating less meat. Perhaps they are coming back to normal after the war, and can afford to buy more cheese. Both are cheerful thoughts. Less meat, more green vegetables and dairy products mean less of the degenerate diseases in later life.

And now, if we can believe some of our enterprising publicity people, what America needs is a car for every member of the family.

We hate to seem over-suspicious; but it doesn't seem altogether preposterous that this prophecy that next winter is to be the coldest ever was inspired by the coal industry.

Somebody who has been counting American illiterates finds there are 5,000,000 of them. That seems to account for the way drivers ignore traffic signs.

"Customs Collections Breaking All Records," showing that Americans are so devoted to home industries that they'll pay any price for foreign goods.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 25. — Thoughts while strolling: The odd sparkle of a beauty salon. A policeman carries two children across the street. The frantic red of hastily rouged lips. Why does a Spanish dancer carry a flower between her teeth?

Prim ladies who act as decoys for sight-seeing wagons. Sitting with hands folded in their laps. Whatever became of the boys who wore flat-crowned derbies down to their ears? Movies seem to have taken the place of nurseries. The cloying hot blasts from subway kiosks.

Ladies seem to be picking Argentine corespondents this summer. A bird of prey look appeals to women. The jovial poet—Don Marquis. Pink cheeked and tubby. Fifty Avenue's flow of fashion—the extremes of imagination and banality.

A bank window smashed. Marilyn Miller in Fauntleroy costume. The florist who wears white gloves and heliotrope shirts. Lizard skin shoes. Capacious monogrammed bags. Face parasols with foot long handles. About as big as a pie pan.

A five minute shower and then the sun pops out again. Scarves woven with New York views. Wonder what a fur shop clerk thinks about in the summer time? A curio window and the usual mysterious aura about pieces of jade, crystal and lapis lazuli.

More side street garages made over into concrete homes. A former bank burglar who reformed and opened a book shop—the evolution of a hard boiled egg. Knots of traffic with their medleys of crowing auto horns.

A woman winks, a man joins her and they saunter toward the park. Such is romance in a big city. Shadows unfurl arabesque patterns. And here I am on a hospital street. Faint iodoform fumes. And those sexless white-shrouded figures moving from window to window.

I wouldn't have believed it, so you don't have to, but it's true. Along Park Avenue near 49th street a lady had a dog on a leash. The dog's collar was of leather with a celluloid trimming which formed a wing collar and a black bow tie like men wear with dinner clothes. "She fixes him up that way every evening," said the policeman on the corner. Evening clothes for dogs, gosh! Still many of the dog shops display kiyoodle blankets with tiny pockets carrying handkerchiefs, and rubber dog boots have been on sale for years although I have never seen them worn.

The Lambs is perhaps the best known social club in New York. It was formed by five lonely actors in 1874. Before that players had no club, and gathered along the sidewalk around Union Square. The name—The Lambs'—came from England. Players in England when things were dull used to say: "Let's drop around and see the Lambs"—meaning Charles and Mary Lamb, noted for their pleasant hospitality and especial fondness for people of the stage. The Lambs is used more perhaps by members than any club in town. The Players—founded by Edwin Booth—is a little off the beaten path, and seems to have more writers and artists as members than actors. The Lambs is on West 44th street, in the heart of the Rialto. There is always a gay group on the stoop or inside.

The crook with the royal gestures of a court courtier is as common as orange-hued taxis in Manhattan, but the pinnacle of elegance has been reached by one who quitted a smart hotel dining room at breakfast because a waiter served his eggs slightly overboiled. That afternoon he was arrested for snatching a crippled lady's purse on West 36th street.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A Defender of France.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—While Congress, having settled all of the other war debts of large size due this country, keeps the French debt before it for argument and debate, a unique contest has arisen in the house of representatives because out of the 435 members of that body there is but one man who earnestly, consistently, and emphatically upholds the French viewpoint whenever the subject of the war debt is raised.

Scores of members have from time to time arisen to hurl verbal rocks at France and at the French debt settlement as proposed by the debt commission. These members seldom fail to assert that France is very prosperous, or that France is not being taxed to any great extent, or that France is maintaining an enormous standing army with money she might use to pay her debts, or that the United States had to "pay for the trenches our boys fought in," or that France is guilty of some other serious shortcomings which make it necessary for us to squeeze down harder for the four billion dollars France borrowed from us in 1917-18.

To all of these attacks on France, representative A. Piatt Andrew, of Massachusetts, quietly arises to reply. Others may be ready to vote for the debt settlement and get it over with, but apparently Mr. Andrew alone is concerned in having the case of France favorably presented to the congress and to the public of the United States.

Mr. Andrew has made quite a lot of speeches about France. Sometimes he does not bother to deliver his speeches in answer to attacks on France; but merely gets permission to print them in the record. When he does speak he does not do so with any degree of violence, but it is noted that he has been to a great deal of trouble to assemble a great many facts for what he has to say.

The oratorial contest on the French question in the house has become one of Andrew against the field, and Mr. Andrew goes smilingly along on this basis, and while the odds are fairly heavy against him, he is gradually attracting a good deal of attention by his persistent advocacy of what he terms a fair understanding of the problems of France.

Mr. Andrew was once an assistant secretary of the treasury, and he likes to deal with precise facts and figures. He is a man of method. He was an officer of the A. E. F. and has traveled abroad on other occasions, and he knows where to find the facts he wants about foreign affairs. Thus while he plays a rather lone hand in defending France, he has some advantage over those representatives who repeat allegations about French affairs which they have read in the papers or heard somebody else say.

What France's Army Costs.

Thus it happened that after a good many members of the house had talked about the militarism of France and the great army she maintains, Mr. Andrew produced a lot of figures on the subject. His figures showed that France spent in the current year for her armed forces just $192,000,000, whereas prior to the War she spent $349,000,000, or nearly twice as much. He also offered figures to show that the army of France is now 646,000 strong, whereas her former peace-time army was 934,000 strong. He asserted that while France has cut her military expenses below pre-war figures, the United States has doubled her per-war military costs, and we are presumed to be a peaceable people.

Allegations of this sort have not apparently made a deep or lasting impression on the congressional critics of France. Every day or two finds another member telling his colleagues that France is all wrong, and nobody quotes Mr. Andrew's statistics except Mr. Andrew. But the quiet gentleman from Massachusetts keeps plugging right along with his facts and figures.

When it is stated that France alone of European countries has no unemployment, Mr. Andrew replies that France had 893,000 buildings and their contents destroyed by the war, and 6,000 bridges smashed, and 8,000,000 acres of land upheaved, and that the able-bodied men she had left after the war have been very much employed trying to patch up some of these things, but that the employment has not enriched them any more than a man can get prosperous by rebuilding his house after it burns down.

After sitting by a number of times while it is asserted that the people of France are not taxed and will not be taxed and ought to be taxed, Mr. Andrew brought in some figures to show that they are now taxed 18.3 per cent of their pre-war income, which is less than post-war income, and are being taxed more each year and more than twice as much as Americans are taxed. And then he adds some figures compiled in Italy, whose debt was settled on a much easier basis than the proposed French settlement, to show that France is the only country in Europe whose present wealth is actually less than that of 1914.

Who Paid for the Trenches?

Several times in the course of debates Mr. Andrew has moved his opponents to a statement that the trouble with France is not with her people, but that her politicians are militaristic. After this happened now and again Mr. Andrew came forward with the statement that no military man, no hero of the war, had been in a high political office in France since the war. He suggested that Premier Herriott was a writer and a socialist, M. Painleve a professor and a radical and was accused of pacifism during the war, M. Doumer lost three sons in the war and was anything but a militarist today, and M. Briand is one of the leading radicals of France.

After the story that the United States paid for the trenches our boys fought in had been denied a score of times by the secretary of war and others, opponents of things French brought out the fact that even if we didn't rent the trenches, we rented the billets where our soldiers slept in the town and farm houses of France.

This set Mr. Andrew on another statistical search, and presently he reported that this was true, at least some times. He said we paid the people with whom soldiers were quartered, and that we paid them the same rate the French army paid them. This rate was fixed in 1877 by law, and was 20 centimes—about four cents at that time—if the soldier had a bed, and five centimes, one cent, if the soldier had shelter but no bed. Even this charge was seldom collected, usually only where private property was occupied regularly for some time.

So long as the French debt is before congress the debates of most everybody versus Andrew are likely to go on. Mr. Andrew says that since there are millions of formal Germans and their children in this country who are voters, and practically no French vote extant here, it is quite likely that attacks on the way France is governed and financed will continue in congress, and that the defense of France will not be so popular. He recently expressed his suspicion that the large number of former Italians who are now American voters has something to do with getting a more favorable debt settlement for Italy than is proposed for France.

So he goes along with his single handed fight for what he terms a fair understanding of the problems of France, and while he commands few votes in the house, he gains some respect for his perseverance.

That great numbers of Americans strongly favor making France pay to the last penny, no matter what any other country pays on the war debt, is well understood in congress, and Mr. Andrew is probably not making himself many votes by upholding her cause. This does not seem to disturb his quest for facts and figures. Whatever happens to the debt settlement, he will have made his case in the record, and he thinks that sooner or later his facts and figures will get attention. Besides which he fought in France, and frankly admires the country and its courageous people.

Articles made in this country are more popular in the Orient than ever before.

AND WORTH THE MONEY, TOO!

A noted lawyer down in Texas, who labored under the defects of having a high temper and of being deaf, was trying a case in a court-room presided over by a younger man, for whom the older practitioner had a small opinion.

Presently in an argument over a motion there was a clash between the lawyer and the judge. The judge ordered the lawyer to sit down, and as the lawyer, being deaf, didn't hear him and went on talking, the judge fined him $10 for contempt of court.

The lawyer leaned toward the clerk and cupped his hand behind his ear.

"What did he say?" he inquired.

"He find you $10," explained the clerk.

"For what?"

"For contempt of this court," said the clerk.

The lawyer shot a poisonous look toward the bench and reached a hand into his pocket.

"I'll pay it now," he said. "It's just a debt!"

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1926.

Come On, Joe Wells!

For the third time in five years, laurels in the Ohio amateur golf championship may rest upon the brow of an East Liverpool district man.

Joseph M. Wells, a Ceramic City product and twice state title holder by reason of his sensational victories in 1922 and 1924, is a favorite in the 1926 tournament now under way on the Westwood Country club course at Cleveland.

Going like a house afire, the youthful pottery manager whose ability on the links has kept the clay-making center on the golf map for many years, was the winner in the first and second rounds yesterday, when he put Art Johnson and Eli Ross, both of the Forest City, out of the running.

Wells faces a hard test today, for this morning he will oppose King Mailey, 19-year-old Canton boy, who yesterday defeated Sinclair Dean, 20-year-old Lima bridegroom and medalist of the Westwood matches.

And although the ability of Eddie Hasmann, of Cleveland, to whom Wells surrendered the championship at the Portage Country club, Akron, last year, and Jack Munro, of Zanesville, also a former champion, who are still in running, is recognized, the scores of golfers who have watched the remarkable performance of the East Liverpool man, cannot see how he can lose. They base their judgment upon his steady, consistent putting and approaching that has characterized his playing so far in the qualifying rounds and match play. And this on a course, with its hazardous routes over ravines, lakes and gulleys which account for the many high scores made in the qualifying rounds by adepts at the game. In fact, so difficult is the course that no golfer, especially Wells' fellow East Liverpool entrants, should be ashamed of their cards.

East Liverpool eyes will be centered on the Cleveland links today, for if former Champion Joe Wells is successful in his matches during the forenoon and afternoon he will enter the finals tomorrow for the title. And thousands of Ceramic City friends will be rooting for him.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A Defender of France.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—While Congress, having settled all of the other war debts of large size due this country, keeps the French debt before it for argument and debate, a unique contest has arisen in the house of representatives because out of the 435 members of that body there is but one man who earnestly, consistently, and emphatically upholds the French viewpoint whenever the subject of the war debt is raised.

Scores of members have from time to time arisen to hurl verbal rocks at France and at the French debt settlement as proposed by the debt commission. These members seldom fail to assert that France is very prosperous, or that France is not being taxed to any great extent, or that France is maintaining an enormous standing army with money she might use to pay her debts, or that the United States had to "pay for the trenches our boys fought in," or that France is guilty of some other serious shortcomings which make it necessary for us to squeeze down harder for the four billion dollars France borrowed from us in 1917-18.

Thus while he plays a rather lone hand in defending France, he has some advantage over those representatives who repeat allegations about French affairs which they have read in the papers or heard somebody else say.

What France's Army Costs.

Thus it happened that after a good many members of the house had talked about the militarism of France and the great army she maintains, Mr. Andrew produced a lot of figures on the subject. His figures showed that France spent in the current year for her armed forces just $192,000,000, whereas prior to the War she spent $349,000,000, or nearly twice as much. He also offered figures to show that the army of France is now 646,000 strong, whereas her former peacetime army was 934,000 strong. He asserted that while France has cut her military expenses below pre-war figures, the United States has doubled her per-war military costs, and we are presumed to be a peaceable people.

Allegations of this sort have not apparently made a deep or lasting impression on the congressional critics of France. Every day or two finds another member telling his colleagues that France is all wrong, and nobody quotes Mr. Andrew's statistics except Mr. Andrew. But the quiet gentleman from Massachusetts keeps plugging right along with his facts and figures.

When it is stated that France alone of European countries has no unemployment, Mr. Andrew replies that France had 893,000 buildings and their contents destroyed by the war, and 6,000 bridges smashed, and 8,000,000 acres of land upheaved, and that the able-bodied men she had left after the war have been very much employed trying to patch up some of these things, but that the employment has not enriched them any more than a man can get prosperous by rebuilding his house after it burns down.

After sitting by a number of times while it is asserted that the people of France are not taxed and will not be taxed and ought to be taxed, Mr. Andrew brought in some figures to show that they are now taxed 18.3 per cent of their pre-war income, which is less than post-war income, and are being taxed more each year and more than twice as much as Americans are taxed. And then he adds some figures compiled in Italy, whose debt was settled on a much easier basis than the proposed French settlement, to show that France is the only country in Europe whose present wealth is actually less than that of 1914.

Who Paid for the Trenches?

Several times in the course of debates Mr. Andrew has moved his opponents to a statement that the trouble with France is not with her people, but that her politicians are militaristic. After this happened now and again Mr. Andrew came forward with the statement that no military man, no hero of the war, had been in a high political office in France since the war. He suggested that Premier Herriott was a writer and a socialist, M. Painleve a professor and a radical and was accused of pacifism during the war, M. Doumer lost three sons in the war and was anything but a militarist today, and M. Briand is one of the leading radicals of France.

After the story that the United States paid for the trenches our boys fought in had been denied a score of times by the secretary of war and others, opponents of things French brought out the fact that even if we didn't rent the trenches, we rented the billets where our soldiers slept in the town and farm houses of France.

This set Mr. Andrew on another statistical search, and presently he reported that this was true, at least some times. He said we paid the people with whom soldiers were quartered, and that we paid them the same rate the French army paid them. This rate was fixed in 1877 by law, and was 20 centimes—about four cents at that time—if the soldier had a bed, and five centimes, one cent, if the soldier had shelter but no bed. Even this charge was seldom collected, usually only where private property was occupied regularly for some time.

So long as the French debt is before congress the debates of most everybody versus Andrew are likely to go on. Mr. Andrew says that since there are millions of formal Germans and their children in this country who are voters, and practically no French vote extant here, it is quite likely that attacks on the way France is governed and financed will continue in congress, and that the defense of France will not be so popular. He recently expressed his suspicion that the large number of former Italians who are now American voters has something to do with getting a more favorable debt settlement for Italy than is proposed for France.

So he goes along with his single handed fight for what he terms a fair understanding of the problems of France, and while he commands few votes in the house, he gains some respect for his perseverance.

That great numbers of Americans strongly favor making France pay to the last penny, no matter what any other country pays on the war debt, is well understood in congress, and Mr. Andrew is probably not making himself many votes by upholding her cause. This does not seem to disturb his quest for facts and figures. Whatever happens to the debt settlement, he will have made his case in the record, and he thinks that sooner or later his facts and figures will get attention. Besides which he fought in France, and frankly admires the country and its courageous people.

AND WORTH THE MONEY, TOO!

A noted lawyer down in Texas, who labored under the defects of having a high temper and of being deaf, was trying a case in a courtroom presided over by a younger man, for whom the older practitioner had a small opinion.

Presently in an argument over a motion there was a clash between the lawyer and the judge. The judge ordered the lawyer to sit down, and as the lawyer, being deaf, didn't hear him and went on talking, the judge fined him $10 for contempt of court.

The lawyer leaned toward the clerk and cupped his hand behind his ear.

"What did he say?" he inquired.

"He find you $10," explained the clerk.

"For what?"

"For contempt of this court," said the clerk.

The lawyer shot a poisonous look toward the bench and reached a hand into his pocket.

"I'll pay it now," he said. "It's just a debt!"

GERMANY SAYS GAIN IS MADE BY INDUSTRIES

Favorable Indications in Increase in Exports.

TAXES ARE CUT

New Commercial Treaties, Too, are Booming Business.

WASHINGTON.—Frequent statements by high officials of the American government that German industry has passed the turning point and is on the upward road to recovery, apparently are borne out by the tentative proposals to France that the reparations bill will be settled in cash, and by advices to Secretary of Commerce Hoover from Commercial Attache F. W. Allport, of Berlin.

Allport reported that "a relaxation of industrial depression in Germany is evidenced by the continued decline in bankruptcy, receiverships, protested drafts and other business indicators."

Among the favorable indicators are general prospects for increased exports resulting from the program of trade promotion launched by the government. This includes federal and state guarantees on export credits to Russia, totaling 300,000,000 marks, federal insurance on export credits in general and the stimulation of industrial reorganization to permit lower production costs.

International Agreements.

Official approval is given to international agreements along the lines of the potash pact, lessening the dangers of price-cutting and over-production in export industries.

"The marked reduction in taxation on industry, and trade, together with vigorous negotiations for favorable commercial treaties, is expected to stimulate foreign trade," Allport said.

The conclusion of the treaty with Spain on May 7, is a notable example of this policy.

"During the past year, when provisional agreements were in effect with Spain, Germany's exports to that country had already exceeded pre-war figures.

"Further measures are planned toward a stricter control of the chartel price-fixing system, in order to permit a lower price level on the domestic market. The revival of German bonds with German residents abroad is being effected through the centralization of German chambers of commerce abroad into one association, through the numerous German business delegations traveling in foreign countries."

Improvement Announced.

Reports issued in Berlin by chambers of commerce, announces some improvement in industrial production, chiefly in textiles, electrical products, leather, shoes, lignite, chemicals and fertilizers, although a large part of this change is seasonal.

Total sales of automobiles are increasing. American interest in the market is shown by the opening of a new American assembling plant in Berlin with a daily production of about ten cars and an ultimate capacity of 50 cars.

The German dye trust has declared a 10 per cent dividend on its capital of 640,000,000 marks, according to Allport.

It was pointed out, however, that there are still unfavorable conditions in the various phases of German industry. The basis of the past year's depression, restricted markets, and lack of capital still remain. Unemployment remained widespread at 784,000 on May 1, though registering a 5 per cent decline in two weeks prior thereto.

Installment Buying Huge.

In 1925 the American public bought more than $5,000,000 worth of merchandise on the installment plan. Fully 75 per cent of automobiles and washing machines are bought on time payments while 80 per cent of the phonographs sold and 60 per cent of the vacuum cleaners purchased are acquired in that way.

U. S. DRY AGENTS SLAIN ON RUM SHIPS, BELIEF

Prohibition Officials Advised of Men's Disappearance.

BURIED AT SEA

Shipped as Members of Crew on Vessels of Smugglers.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—A number of government secret agents, employed in the higher phase of prohibition work, are mysteriously missing after "under cover" operations against the rum smugglers off the Atlantic coast, it was learned here today.

Prohibition officials have launched a quiet, but widespread investigation, to ascertain the truth of reports that have reached them that the agents were slain after they had shipped from the Bahamas and Cuba as members of the crews of rum-running ships and their bodies thrown overboard.

The plan of having these agents contrive to get aboard the rum runners as members of the crew at the ports of departure for the United States was conceived some months ago, and it has resulted in a number of ships being run directly into the arms of the coast guardsmen along the Atlantic seaboard. The work was voluntary, for it was realized that it involved great risk.

The main supply bases for the smugglers lie to the southeast, in the Bahamas, Cuba and the West Indies. It was to these points that the dry agents were dispatched.

Prohibition officials are confident that several of these agents have been detected. How many they do not know.

Seek Agreement With Britain.

This hazardous method of getting on the inside of the smuggling rings was made necessary, officials said, by the fact the United States is not yet permitted to place special agents openly in the principal supply bases to report on the activities of the rum runners.

It is this situation that Gen. L. C. Andrews hopes to remedy when he goes to London next month to negotiate a special agreement with the British government whereby this government would be permitted to place special agents in the Bahamas and other British possessions to check the movement of liquor to the United States.

The Mexican, Cuban and Canadian treaties, already negotiated, permit American agents to enter ports of these countries in the war against smugglers. It was said that a number of dry agents have hidden on rum runners to capture them after they entered the territorial waters of the United States.

Scores of rum running ships have been captured by the coast guard in the last few months. Officials admitted that the problem of storage space for the confiscated ships is giving considerable concern.

Ships sold at auction invariable go back into the smuggling business. Failure of congress to enact legislation to correct this evil will handicap the authorities in suppressing smuggling, according to officials.

WOMAN SLAYS BROTHER-IN-LAW

"He Threatened to Give Love Potion," She Says.

CLEVELAND, June 25.—"He threatened to give me a love potion. I couldn't stand him. That's why I shot him."

This was the explanation today Mrs. Rose Demettio, 19, at liberty on a $10,000 bond effered for the fatal shooting last night of her brother-in-law, Joseph Stresso, 38.

Police said Mrs. Demettio related to them that Stresso had been making advances to her which were unwelcome. Early last night, according to her story, police said, Stresso went to the Demettio home and tried to get in. Mrs. Demettio locked the doors. Later when she thought he was gone, she told officers, she went outside but took a gun with her. Stresso had been hiding nearby, she claimed, and as he grabbed her she shot him.

Stresso was the father of five children. Mrs. Demettio has two children. She was released on a $10,000 bond furnished by her father, pending action of the grand jury.

WILSON SAYS HE DECLINED FEDERAL POST

Pennsylvania Democrat Tells of Offer of Appointment.

SPENT ONLY $88

Senatorial Nominee Witness in Slush Fund Quiz.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—William B. Wilson, who served as secretary of labor in the Wilson administrations, and who is now the Democratic nominess for the senate from Pennsylvania, created something of a sensation today when he took the witness stand before the Reed committee and testified that he had been offered an appointment on the new railroad mediation board since winning the senate nomination.

Wilson said the offer came to him "confidentially," and that he had rejected it. He declined to say who made the offer.

President Coolidge completed the personnel of the new board only a few days ago, after maintaining one vacancy for several days after originally naming of the five members of the new board.

Tells of Campaign Fund.

Wilson surprised the committee by saying he had spent only $88.81 to win the Democratic nomination. He added that his campaign committee, which also conducted the race of William E. Porter for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, spent only $10,000.

This statement brought smiles to members of the committee, who have heard of campaign funds ranging from the $195,000 of Governor Gifford Pinchot, to the $1,250,000 of Senator George Wharton Pepper.

The revelation that an effort had been made to get Wilson out of the Pennsylvania senatorial race created excitement at the hearing. It was brought out by Senator LaFollette, R., of Wisconsin.

"Was any effort made to get you to withdraw from this race?" asked Senator LaFollette.

"No."

"Were you offered a position?"

"Yes."

"What was it?"

"A position on the railroad mediation board," Wilson replied.

"That offer came following your nomination?"

"Yes."

"Did you accept the nomination?"

"I did not."

Produces Statement.

Wilson said he would not have mentioned the offer at all "if I had not been asked about it and been placed under oath to answer all questions."

When Senator Reed (D.) of Missouri, asked who had made the offer to him, Wilson said: "It came to me confidentially and I wish you wouldn't ask me that question."

"Very well it's none of our business," Reed agreed.

Senator King (D.) of Utah, declared Wilson would be "eminently fitted" for the post and that the selection would be a "very good one."

Wilson took the stand while Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, waited. Wheeler was to have taken the stand.

"My personal expenses were $88.81," said Wilson, producing an itemized statement to "show how the money was expended."

Gives Cost of Meals.

"I was associated in the campaign with a candidate for governor, William E. Porter, as running mate," Wilson added. "I am advised the campaign committee spent $10,000, some $4,000 of which has been paid and the remainder obligated."

Porter lost out to Judge Eugene Bonniwell, of Philadelphia, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, Wilson added.

"Did you contribute anything to the campaign?" asked Senator Reed.

"Not one cent except my personal expenses."

Reed read the items on Wilson's return. They consisted of railroad fares, meals, hotel bills and telegrams.

"I see your meals at the Penn Harris hotel (Harrisburg) are rather startling," said Reed. "I see meals at this hotel for 90 cents, 90 cents, 70 cents, 70 cents and there is one for 60 cents at a restaurant. Yes, you do go higher—here is $1.50 for one meal."

"Yes, senator, but they are correct," Wilson continued.

No Opposition In Primary.

Wilson said he had no opposition in the Democratic primary.

Wilson admitted he could have "stayed at home and been nominated without spending a cent."

Wilson told the committee that Vance McCormick, the Harrisburg publisher and a former Democratic national committee chairman, had assumed "the Democratic obligations" arising out of the campaign.

A. Nevin, Detrich, a former cashier at the Pennsylvania state treasury, told the committee about leaving a wallet, containing $1,200 or $1,300 in a safe deposit box in the treasury on May 13, five days before the primary. There was only one $1,000 bill in the wallet, he said.

Their unusual craft is of authentic Chinese make, constructed of bamboo. It's sails are gaily colored.

MAN STRICKEN IN HIS AUTO

Joseph Sojka, Salem, Dies Suddenly of Apoplexy.

Joseph Sojka, 39, Arch street, Salem, is dead today as the result of apoplexy, with which he was stricken while driving an automobile along the Lisbon-Salem road.

Sojka, accompanied by his daughter and three sons, was returning from a ride to Lisbon when the man fell limp in his seat and his head dropped over on the shoulder of his daughter, who was seated beside him. The girl stopped the car with the emergency brake.

Unable to revive her father the girl halted a passing machine, in which a physician from Dayton was riding. After an examination he pronounced the man dead. The body was removed to Salem in an ambulance.

In addition to his four children, Sojka is survived by one sister and an uncle.

Funeral services will be conducted in the late home tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be made in Salem.

Orchestra Leader Charged With Death In Auto Accident

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Warrants charging Meyer Davis, the capital's "jazz king" and well known orchestra leader, with manslaughter and reckless driving were in the hands of Maryland constables today for service.

The warrants were issued by Hyattsville, Md., authorities as a result of a fatal automobile accident on the Baltimore-Washington pike, in which Bernard Booker, assistant general counsel for the Philadelphia Traction company, was killed. Booker was a passenger in Davis' machine which witnesses said was traveling at a rate of 60 miles an hour when it sideswiped another machine.

Y. M. C. A.'s Camp Pine Ridge, North of City, Opens Monday

Six Tents for Accommodation of First Group of Boys Are Erected in Madison Township.

Camp Pine Ridge, owned by the East Liverpool Y. M. C. A. and located in Madison township about eight miles north of this city, is in readiness today for the summer campaign season which will open Monday.

Six sleeping tents, each accommodating eight persons, have been erected for the first group of campers who will spend 12 days there. These tents will occupy a site on the hill just above the lodge.

Harvey Price, boys' work director at the Y, will be camp director, being assisted by three or four high school youths.

The first camp group will consist of boys between the ages of 10 and 12 years. The next 12-day period will be for a party of girls, after which the Junior boys, 12 to 15 years, will make the trip. Choir boys of St. Stephen's Episcopal church will use the camp from August 9 until August 21. The intermediate group of boys, from 15 to 19 years of age, will visit there from August 23 to September 4.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 25.—After a firm opening in which the speculative leaders sold from 1 to 2 points higher, stock prices declined sharply in the early trading today as the result of professional selling, directed chiefly against the motor and oil stocks at 5 per cent gain in the reserves of the New York federal reserve bank and a one per cent gain in the system as a whole emphasized the concentration of funds in the big central reservoirs of credit and the abundance of money at the financial centers. Call money was unchanged at 4¼ per cent.

Heavy offerings of Hudson motor and General Motors depressed prices for these stocks about 2 points, Hudson declining to the year's lowest price of 50¼, equivalent to about 59 on the old basis. Efforts to push down United States Steel and General Electric were not so successful, while Cast Iron Pipe, another speculative favorite, moved against the trend and rose 5 points to 192.

The market was largely professional, and supporters of the leading stocks provided good buying demand for the offerings. Skelly Oil resumed its advance and reached a new high at 36¾, while the General Petroleum-Standard Oil of New York combination also made a bid for higher values.

Commodities and foreign exchange markets were also unsettled.

U. S. DRY AGENTS SLAIN ON RUM SHIPS, BELIEF

Prohibition Officials Advised of Men's Disappearance.

BURIED AT SEA

Shipped as Members of Crew on Vessels of Smugglers.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—A number of government secret agents, employed in the higher phase of prohibition work, are mysteriously missing after "under cover" operations against the rum smugglers off the Atlantic coast, it was learned here today.

Prohibition officials have launched a quiet, but widespread investigation, to ascertain the truth of reports that have reached them that the agents were slain after they had shipped from the Bahamas and Cuba as members of the crews of rum-running ships and their bodies thrown overboard.

The plan of having these agents contrive to get aboard the rum runners as members of the crew at the ports of departure for the United States was conceived some months ago, and it has resulted in a number of ships being run directly into the arms of the coast guardsmen along the Atlantic seaboard. The work was voluntary, for it was realized that it involved great risk.

The main supply bases for the smugglers lie to the southeast, in the Bahamas, Cuba and the West Indies. It was to these points that the dry agents were dispatched.

Prohibition officials are confident that several of these agents have been detected. How many they do not know.

Seek Agreement With Britain.

This hazardous method of getting on the inside of the smuggling rings was made necessary, officials said, by the fact the United States is not yet permitted to place special agents openly in the principal supply bases to report on the activities of the rum runners.

It is this situation that Gen. L. C. Andrews hopes to remedy when he goes to London next month to negotiate a special agreement with the British government whereby this government would be permitted to place special agents in the Bahamas and other British possessions to check the movement of liquor to the United States.

The Mexican, Cuban and Canadian treaties, already negotiated, permit American agents to enter ports of these countries in the war against smugglers. It was said that a number of dry agents have hidden on rum runners to explore them after they entered the territorial waters of the United States.

Scores of rum running ships have been captured by the coast guard in the last few months. Officials admitted that the problem of storage space for the confiscated ships is giving considerable concern.

Ships sold at auction invariable go back into the smuggling business. Failure of congress to enact legislation to correct this evil will handicap the authorities in suppressing smuggling, according to officials.

WOMAN SLAYS BROTHER-IN-LAW

"He Threatened to Give Love Potion," She Says.

CLEVELAND, June 25.—"He threatened to give me a love potion. I couldn't stand him. That's why I shot him."

This was the explanation today Mrs. Rose Demettio, 19, at liberty on a $10,000 bond offered for the fatal shooting last night of her brother-in-law, Joseph Stresso, 38.

Police said Mrs. Demettio related to them that Stresso had been making advances to her which were unwelcome. Early last night, according to her story, police said, Stresso went to the Demettio home and tried to get in. Mrs. Demettio locked the doors. Later when she thought he was gone, she told officers, she went outside but took a gun with her. Stresso had been hiding nearby, she claimed, and as he grabbed her she shot him.

Stresso was the father of five children. Mrs. Demettio has two children. She was released on a $10,000 bond furnished by her father, pending action of the grand jury.

WILSON SAYS HE DECLINED FEDERAL POST

Pennsylvania Democrat Tells of Offer of Appointment.

SPENT ONLY $88

Senatorial Nominee Witness in Slush Fund Quiz.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—William B. Wilson, who served as secretary of labor in the Wilson administrations, and who is now the Democratic nominess for the senate from Pennsylvania, created something of a sensation today when he took the witness stand before the Reed committee and testified that he had been offered an appointment on the new railroad mediation board since winning the senate nomination.

Wilson said the offer came to him "confidentially," and that he had rejected it. He declined to say who made the offer.

President Coolidge completed the personnel of the new board only a few days ago, after maintaining one vacancy for several days after originally naming of the five members of the new board.

Tells of Campaign Fund.

Wilson surprised the committee by saying he had spent only $88.81 to win the Democratic nomination. He added that his campaign committee, which also conducted the race of William E. Porter for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, spent only $10,000.

This statement brought smiles to members of the committee, who have heard of campaign funds ranging from the $195,000 of Governor Gifford Pinchot, to the $1,250,000 of Senator George Wharton Pepper.

The revelation that an effort had been made to get Wilson out of the Pennsylvania senatorial race created excitement at the hearing. It was brought out by Senator LaFollette, R., of Wisconsin.

"Was any effort made to get you to withdraw from this race?" asked Senator LaFollette.

"No."

"Were you offered a position?"

"Yes."

"What was it?"

"A position on the railroad mediation board," Wilson replied.

"That offer came following your nomination?"

"Yes."

"Did you accept the nomination?"

"I did not."

Produces Statement.

Wilson said he would not have mentioned the offer at all "if I had not been asked about it and been placed under oath to answer all questions."

When Senator Reed (D.) of Missouri, asked who had made the offer to him, Wilson said: "It came to me confidentially and I wish you wouldn't ask me that question."

"Very well it's none of our business," Reed agreed.

Senator King (D.) of Utah, declared Wilson would be "eminently fitted" for the post and that the selection would be a "very good one."

Wilson took the stand while Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, waited. Wheeler was to have taken the stand.

"My personal expenses were $88.81," said Wilson, producing an itemized statement to "show how the money was expended."

Gives Cost of Meals.

"I was associated in the campaign with a candidate for governor, William E. Porter, as running mate," Wilson added. "I am advised the campaign committee spent $10,000, some $4,000 of which has been paid and the remainder obligated."

Porter lost out to Judge Eugene Bonniwell, of Philadelphia, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, Wilson added.

"Did you contribute anything to the campaign?" asked Senator Reed.

"Not one cent except my personal expenses."

Reed read the items on Wilson's return. They consisted of railroad fares, meals, hotel bills and telegrams.

"I see your meals at the Penn Harris hotel (Harrisburg) are rather startling," said Reed. "I see meals at this hotel for 90 cents, 90 cents, 70 cents, 70 cents and there is one for 60 cents at a restaurant. Yes, you do go higher—here is $1.50 for one meal."

"Yes, senator, but they are correct," Wilson continued.

No Opposition In Primary.

Wilson said he had no opposition in the Democratic primary.

Wilson admitted he could have "stayed at home and been nominated without spending a cent."

Wilson told the committee that Vance McCormick, the Harrisburg publisher and a former Democratic national committee chairman, had assumed "the Democratic obligations" arising out of the campaign.

A. Nevin, Detrich, a former cashier at the Pennsylvania state treasury, told the committee about leaving a wallet, containing $1,200 or $1,300 in a safe deposit box in the treasury on May 13, five days before the primary. There was only one $1,000 bill in the wallet, he said.

MAN STRICKEN IN HIS AUTO

Joseph Sojka, Salem, Dies Suddenly of Apoplexy.

Joseph Sojka, 39, Arch street, Salem, is dead today as the result of apoplexy, with which he was stricken while driving an automobile along the Lisbon-Salem road.

Sojka, accompanied by his daughter and three sons, was returning from a ride to Lisbon when the man fell limp in his seat and his head dropped over on the shoulder of his daughter, who was seated beside him. The girl stopped the car with the emergency brake.

Unable to revive her father the girl halted a passing machine, in which a physician from Dayton was riding. After an examination he pronounced the man dead. The body was removed to Salem in an ambulance.

In addition to his four children, Sojka is survived by one sister and an uncle.

Funeral services will be conducted in the late home tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be made in Salem.

MR. WHEELER tells Senator Reed that the Anti-Saloon league has spent $35,000,000 to pass the dry law. The trouble is, the country is not dry. Since the Anti-Saloon league spent the $35,000,000, the bootleggers have taken in more than a thousand millions.

LADY ASTOR, whom this country provided to be the first first woman member of parliament, demands an end of soft coal smoke nuisance in British cities. It would end in all cities if the people could realize that black smoke, shutting out the health-giving rays of the sun, shortens life, prevents recovery from sickness and, indirectly, commits murder.

Two Slayers Pay Death Penalty; One Is Cleveland Man

COLUMBUS, June 25.—Frank Liska, 42, Cleveland, wife murderer, met death early this morning in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary. Governor Donahey late Thursday refused the request of Liska's attorneys for a 30-day stay of execution. Liska was convicted of choking his wife to death and burning her body in a chicken coop which he fired after pouring kerosene on it.

OSSINING, N. Y., June 25.—Frank Daly, gangster, paid the penalty in the electric chair at Sing Sing shortly before midnight for the murder of two street railroad employes.

Love Letter Goads Man to Kill His Wife and Himself

GLEN HEAD, N. Y., June 25.—The name of the admirer in Mexico whose love letter goaded Sidney E. Brewster to slay his pretty young wife and himself in their home remained unrevealed today, although relatives of the family admitted they knew his identity.

The sender of the love letter is "old enough to be the father of Mrs. Brewster," it was said.

District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards absolved the dead woman of all blame at the coroner's inquest.

Ohio Salesman Dies In Illinois When Taxi Hits Train

DAYTON, June 25.—E. C. Pridy, 45, of West Milton, Ohio, was killed last night at Hoopston, Ill., near Chicago, when a taxicab in which he was an occupant crashed into a Nickle Plate frieght train, local police were informed early this morning.

Pridy was a salesman covering a route in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

New York Man Kills Pretty Wife, Then Ends His Own Life

NEW YORK, June 25.—Jacob Garcia, 40, shot and killed his pretty 26-year-old wife because she refused to return to him, then ended his own life.

Spending Money for Byrd's Crew.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Hearing that members of the crew of Lieutenant Commander Richard E. Byrd's ship, the Chantier, were without spending money, an unknown woman came aboard and distributed 50 white envelopes among the men, each containing three dollars.

BUMPER APPLE CROP PREDICTED

With a heavy crop of apples forecast for West Virginia and neighboring states, it would seem that only apples of the highest quality and best grade will find a ready and profitable sale this fall, states Doctor H. E. Knowlton, of the department of horticulture of the West Virginia college of agriculture. Because of the heavy set of fruit it will be very difficult to get size and color, he asserts. Trees that seem to have too much fruit should be thinned just after the June drop. This drop is occurring at the present time.

The results from five years' work in apple thinning at the West Virginia agricultural experiment station showed conclusively that for heavily laden trees thinning paid in the increased size and color of the fruit as well as helping to maintain the vigor and the shape of the tree. Limb breakage was eliminated also. On trees bearing good crops thinning in many cases doubled the net returns per tree. For most varieties thinning to a distance of six or seven inches apart gave the best results.

The investigations also showed that only a small portion of the cost of thinning should be charged against the actual operation, for the fruit removed would have to be removed anyway, with the cost of removal not much different in either case.

PRE-COMMUNION SERVICES HERE

Preparatory services will be held this evening in the First United Presbyterian church. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Ross Wilson, pastor of the Salineville United Presbyterian church. Sacrament of the Lord's supper will be observed at the morning services Sunday.

Communion services will be held Sunday morning in the First Presbyterian church, according to an announcement made today by the pastor, Rev. William T. McKee.

STATE BANKERS ELECT OFFICERS

A Fletcher, vice-president and treasurer of the Fairmont Trust company of Fairmont, was elected president of the West Virginia Bankers' association at the closing session of the annual convention at Huntington. He succeeds W. C. Given of Bluefield.

Other officers elected are: Charles M. Gohen, Huntington; vice-president; L. W. Boley, Oakhill, treasurer; Joseph H. Hill, Charleston, secretary, re-elected.

The association voted to meet at Clarksburg in 1927.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER RESIGNS

Dr. John B. Ahouse, county health physician, has tendered his resignation to the state health department to take effect July 1.

Dr. Ahouse has accepted a position in Dr. Emmett Holt's hospital in New York where he will specialize in the diseases of children.

REV. EHRHEART TO GIVE SERMON

Rev. R. C. Ehrheart, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will preach at the union service of the First Presbyterian, United Presbyterian and First Methodist Episcopal churches Sunday evening in the former church.

Music will be furnished by the choir of the First Presbyterian church.

To Attend Convention.

Miss Ruth Roberts, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Roberts, Florida avenue, left today for Mackinac Island, Mich., where she will represent the Delta Gamma chapter of Morgantown at the convention which opens Monday at that place.

Bebout Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Bebout, who died in Toledo, O., were held this afternoon in the First United Presbyterian church, in charge of Rev. W. J. H. McKnight. Burial was made in Riverview cemetery.

Game Here Tomorrow.

Manager Frank Riley's team of the Industrial league will cross bats here tomorrow afternoon with the strong Salineville club. The contest will be staged on Smith field beginning at 3:15.

Exposition Continues.

Exposition under the auspices of the Chester baseball team and Volunteer fire department at Gardner's bottom will come to a close tomorrow night. Large crowds have been attending.

Weiner Sizzle Tonight.

Members of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church will hold a weiner sizzle this evening. They will meet at the church at 6:30.

Mill To Resume Monday.

American Sheet and Tin Plate mill will resume operations Monday morning at 8 o'clock. The plant shut down for the week-end today.

Missionary Society Meets.

Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church met last night with Mrs. Harvey. Regular program was carried out during the evening.

Mexico is organizing a baseball league and soon the people may be expected to work off their enthusiasm on umpires, instead of starting revolutions.—Indianapolis Star.

Japanese Residents Face Famine During Next 30 Year Period

TOKIO.—Thirty years from now famine will stare the Japanese people in the face, according to T. Koyama, under-secretary of the department of agriculture and forestry.

If the present birthrate keeps up, Koyama declares, Japan will have a population of 85,000,000 people and the present food resources of the country will be inadequate to supply so great a population.

Koyama's solution is the expenditure of approximately $20,000,000 annually for the next thirty years in the development of the nation's agricultural resources.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement in the death of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Normanda J. Brooks.

COMMUNITY CLUB GROWING

Hillcrest Organization Plans Erection of House.

"We desided that we needed a place where we could send our children to Sunday school and hold church and other services and that is why we formed the Hillcrest Community club and obtaind a state charter," declared R. J. Stern, of Yellow Creek township, in explaining the growth of this community organization.

"Our community is growing," Mr. Stern went on to relate, "and through the efforts of the club we expect to accomplish many things for the good of the township at large a little later. We are growing, as a club, and we want to work out every problem that may come up in the future."

This club received its state charter late in March. There were 25 names affixed to the application, and, as it was stated in the application, the club was formed for "religious and social purposes."

Soon after the charter was received, the charter members met and elected a board of trustees, these being G. H. Crawford, Clarence Fogo, Mrs. Mary Arb, Gus Klavun, Pearl Perry and J. W. Hodge. The trustees organized by electing these officers: President R. J. Stern; vice president, Henry McIntire; secretary, Mrs. R. J. Stern: treasurer, Mrs. Rose Hill.

Mrs. Frank Kiddy was named chairman of a social committee, while Pearl Perry was placed at the head of the entertainment committee. It is through the efforts of these two committees that the club has made so much progress in one of its objects—that of erecting a community house.

The club purchased a lot, 100 by 250 feet, at a cost of $700, upon which it is proposed to erect the Yellow Creek township community house. This site fronts on the Wellsville-Lisbon road in what is known as the Hillcrest district. Of the purchase price, all has been paid with the exception of $100, and this is expected to be cleared off within the next few weeks.

The Community club has been active in giving a number of socials and entertainments this season, and others are proposed. A minstrel team has been garnered from the membership, and numerous shows have been given in neighboring townships, and the receipts from these events have gone toward the building up of the property fund. This "troupe" will give another of its shows at Gavers in Wayne township soon, upon invitation from the folks of that district.

Plans for the community house are being worked out, but no details have been decided upon, according to Mr. Stern. However, it has been proposed to erect a commodious building with basement and dining hall and also an auditorium. As soon as the lot is paid off, then an effort will be put forward to obtain funds to erect the building, and some of the members hope that this building will be completed and ready to dedicate late next fall.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT OAK RIDGE

Arrangements are nearing completion for the Children's day exercises which will be held on Sunday afternoon in the Oak Ridge Presbyterian church.

The program will center around the theme, "The Book Divine." Recitations, music and talks will be included.

DICKEY-ZEARLEY WEDDING HERE

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Edith Dickey to Clarence Lee Zearley, which was solemnized last evening at 7 o'clock in the parsonage of the First Christian church by the pastor, Rev. L. E. Lee.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dickey, of 526 Washington avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Zearley, of Fourteenth street.

They were attended by Walter Dickey, brother of the bride, and Miss Goldie Johnson. The bridal party also was accompanied by Miss Roxie McCauley and John Eddy.

The bridegroom is employed at the Adams grocery store here. The bride formerly was employed at Laughlin No. 6 plant in Newell.

Following a week's honeymoon trip, they will make their home here.

500 TO ATTEND C. & P. PICNIC

Local Railroaders Prepare for Summit Beach Outing.

Approximately 500 Wellsville railroaders and their families are expected to attend the annual outing of Cleveland & Pittsburgh workers to be held tomorrow at Summit Beach Park, Akron, under joint auspices of the veterans' and the athletic associations.

Special trains will be operated from Beaver, Cambridge and Cleveland, each of the specials stopping at points enroute.

The train which leaves Beaver will stop at the Third street station at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning and will make a second stop at the shops at 7:06.

Athletic contests of all kinds have been arranged. Valuable prizes will be awarded to the winners of first and second places.

Free tickets will be distributed to children for park rides and other amusements.

Tickets will be distributed by committeemen on the train. The children's tickets will also be given out at that time.

MIZPAH CLASS IS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. A. B. Murdock was hostess to members of the Mizpah Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church last evening at her home in Broadway. Thirty-five were present.

Miss Irene Ward, whose engagement was recently announced, was presented with a beautiful Dresden china lamp by the class, the presentation being made by Miss Mabel Hickman.

Vocal selections were given by Mrs. Eva Snediker during the social hour which followed the business session.

The home was attractively decorated with pink roses. Mrs. Murdock was assisted by Mrs. Grant Smith, Miss Grace Russell and Miss Byrd Wilcoxen.

Kessell Funeral Today

Funeral services for Mrs. May Smith Kessell were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of a sister, Mrs. Thomas E. Thorne, Tenth street. Burial was made in Spring Hill cemetery.

P. H. C. Meet Tonight.

Members of Fidelity Circle, No. 43, Protected Home Circle, will convene this evening at 8 o'clock in the lodge rooms, Fourth and Main streets.

Ben F. Hodge, 109 years old, is living by himself in a little log cabin 10 miles from Poplar Bluff, Mo. He bought the land it sets on four years ago and has cleared it up so he can "rent it out and live on the returns" when he gets older. He's shown in front of his cabin.

MRS. G. CARNEY CLASS HOSTESS

Members of Sunday school class No. 13 of the First Methodist Protestant church were entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. G. Carney in Eighteenth street.

Mrs. O. H. Mann presided during the business session, which was followed by a social hour.

At the close of the affair a two-course luncheon was served by Mrs. Carney assisted by her daughter, Miss Agatha Carney, and Miss Vashti Wilkinson.

Yellow Creek Church Services.

Preaching services will be held in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. The pastor's evening theme will be "The Sins of Church Members." Sunday school at 10 a. m. Young People's meeting at 7:30 p. m. Leader, John McCormick.

Children's day will be celebrated in the Long's Run Presbyterian church next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with a good program. The offering will be devoted to Sunday school missions. Everybody welcome. Sunday school at 1:30 p. m.

Class No. 12 to Convene.

Mrs. David Quayle will entertain members of Sunday school class No. 12 of the First Methodist Protestant church this evening at her home in Tenth and Commerce streets.

Return from Pennsboro.

Dan D. Duty and son, M. K. Duty, of this city, have returned from Pennsboro, W. Va., where they attended funeral services for the former's brother, ex-Senator M. K. Duty.

Betty Murdock Ill.

Fisherman, 84, Holds Record.

Horace Fish, of Temple, N. H., who has passed his eighty-fourth birthday, holds the record of his community for fishing and thereby lives up to his name. He is an ardent angler and frequently catches 25 to 30 fish in a day. Recently he took 31 trout at one sitting.

Japan Still Flapperless.

Although Japan is changing rapidly the Japanese girl still does not compare with the American girl in the exercise of her individuality. She has no "boy friends" in the sense of the American girl's young acquaintances, still has no chance to chose her husband, and no freedom outside the home. One of her accomplishments besides the usual domestic services, however, is that of performing the tea ceremony. They are not accustomed to social life and when in public or with grown ups are noticeably shy. A Girl Scout movement has been started there.

Construction of speedways directly connecting large cities of Germany and reserved for high speed cars is being discussed.

Cebula-Deshler In Great Mound Battle

MAJOR league baseball was dispensed some 2,000 City Industrial league fans as Chester and Turk-Nash, fighting for the top round on the former's diamond, Smith field, yesterday, battled to a near tie, the one run finally produced in the sixth frame giving the West Virginians the game by a count of 1 to 0.

As Roosevelt characterized the Santiago naval fight of the Spanish-American war as one "with glory for all involved," so the losers on this occasion by their tremendous endeavor emerged with honors on a parity with the victors in this diamond classic of the season. Two great teams clashed. Both played top-notch ball.

The winning run was made in the second half of the sixth and next to last inning when M. Cebula, first up, lined to J. Watson, who muffed the ball. Then L. McMath sacrificed, Deshler to Alcock. Evans singled to middle, but the fast fielding of A. Bayley held the pitcher at third base. Bayley heaved to Deshler and Cebula was unable to pass the hot corner at that moment. Then he threw the ball to E. Bayley to catch Evans, who was delaying his arrival at second as Cebula dashed for the plate. The Chester pitcher slid in safely as the ball, lost in the sun for an instant, got by Schneidmiller. Evans held up at third and on P. Cebula's drive to Deshler he was caught in a ziz-zag play by which the second sacker, rushing in, made the putout. P. Cebula reached second, but died there as Greene struck out.

Although he lost his contest, "Sonny" Deshler, brilliant Turk-Nash player, who, when not pitching, is in the garden or inner works by reason of his fielding and hitting propensities, never played better than he did in this important contest. Elected to deliver the slants for his team he came through as he never has done before. He pitched airtight ball for the entire six innings that he was engaged. He held his heavy hitting opponents to two safe blows and walked but one, which did not prove costly.

He was all over the infield and his executions indicated quick thinking. With L. McMath keyed up like a race horse on first and gesturing for second in the opening frame, he broke up Evans' plan to sacrifice by rushing in, catching the popfly that resulted, and snapping it to Alcock on the initial bag before the Chester captain could get back.

The play dazzled all alike. Then, momentarily, he lost control for the only time during the game and passed P. Cebula. The latter stole second and a setting for a run had been made.

Greene, third sacker, was up. But Deshler bore down and in a moment struck him out as bedlum arose from all parts of the field.

With the self-same Greene on third base after he had poled a triple through A. Bayley in middle and two men had been retired, he went after the wily Wilde, who, with bludgeon waving ominously, was fretting to drive the hot corner custodian in. But Deshler offered him on which came back to the pitcher's own hands, and Alcock got the putout.

Mike Cebula, the old reliable, also was on the job. Stolid, imperturbable, uttering no protest amid the clamor about him, he paid no attention to anyone save "Connie Mack" Riley, who, coatless, vestless and hatless, wigwagged signals to the big pitcher, the inner and outer defenses.

The mental liason between pitcher and manager was perfect.

In the fifth after R. Pollock, leading off, had fanned, Alcock singled to right, a poky blow just over the infielders' heads. This time J. Watson got on by forcing Alcock, P. Cebula to L. McMath. The responsibility was passed to Deshler, whom M. Cebula caused to drive to Greene, who assisted with a high throw to Wilde. The latter leaped into the air, descended with the ball and by rapid footwork touched the bag before the pitcher arrived.

After Chester had made its only run in the sixth, Mike retired his opponents in a row in the final seventh.

The support accorded the two pitchers was consistent throughout the game.

Walker Receives Terrible Lacing In Dundee Bout

By George Barry.

NEW YORK, June 25.—One of the inevitable tragedies of the ring occurred in Madison Square Garden last night.

It was the decisive and bloody defeat of the once great Mickey Walker, who a few months ago was welterweight champion of the world. He was hammered from pillar to post by Joe Dundee, a slashing scrapper from Baltimore, who hit the ex-champion so hard and so often and cut him up to unmercifully that Referee Eddie Forbes stopped the battle after two minutes and fifty three seconds of the eighth round.

Today even Walker's most loyal admirers admit that the smiling Irishman's pugilistic star has set.

It was to have been Mickey's "comeback." He was to have demonstrated that his loss of the title in a close decision at Scranton, Pa., some time back to Pete Latzo was an accident.

But, except for a flash here and there, it wasn't the great Mickey of his champion days. It was, however a game, fighting Mickey that went down to a disastrous defeat.

Wanted Walker to Win.

The twelve thousand fans wanted to see Mickey win, at least most of them did. He was given a rousing ovation when he smilingly crawled through the ropes and nodded to the crowd. Even when he was going bad the fans cheered him, hoping he would by some chance put over a knockout.

Walker was his old, ripping, smashing self in the first round and nailed Dundee with rights and left and had his opponent backing all around the ring.

But from then on, it was all Dundee—every round. Dundee became more confident as the fight progressed and when, in the fourth round, he knocked a piece of plaster from over Walker's left eye and started the blood running, there was no stopping him.

Dundee drove Mickey around the ring repeatedly, pinned him in the corners and shellacked him vigorously in the body and in the face. In the sixth and seventh rounds, Mickey's face was a sight. The blood was streaming down it from the cut over the left eye. It was evident Mickey could hardly see, as time and again he vainly tried to wipe the blood out of his eyes while in the clinches.

Finally, McKey's defense became so feeble and Dundee's offense to furious that it was only a question of how long Mickey could last and whether Dundee would actually blind him.

Stopped in Eighth.

In the eighth, the blood bothering Mickey so badly he couldn't see his opponent and missed half a dozen lefts and rights by yards. Then, with the round almost over and as Dundee sunk another spongy right into the bleeding left socket, the referee humanely stopped it.

Though Mickey Walker's head was blood, it was unbowed. He insisted he wanted to go on. But even his manager, Jack Kearns, saw he had enough and made no protest. And Dundee was given credit for a technical knockout. Only once previously had Walker failed to respond to the final bell. That was in 1919, when he was a beginner, and Phil Delmont knocked him out in one round.

DE MOLAYS DOWN ALL STARS, 7 TO 2

Harding chapter, DeMolay, defeated the Morey All-Stars, 7 to 2, last evening at Columbian park.

The tilt was the first of a three-game series between the two club. No date has been set for the second engagement.

Hildritch pitched winning ball for the DeMolays throughout the game and his offerings were well handled by Dawson behind the plate.

The All-Stars' battery was composed of Boso and Maley.

CHESTER BOOKS SALINEVILLE

"Mike" Cebula, Chester City Industrial league pitching ace, will probably take a day off following his 1-0 conquest over Turk-Nash last night, when the West Virginians tackle Salineville tomorrow afternoon at Smith field.

The Salineville club has been booked in by Manager Riley as a special attraction. Hostilities are scheduled to begin promptly at 3:15.

HARVARD WINS FRESHMAN RACE

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 25.—Harvard won the freshman's race, the first event in the Yale-Harvard regatta here today over the picturesque Thames river. The crews rowed two miles down stream.

It was an exciting race. Thousands lined the banks of the river and cheered the oarsmen. The observation trains which ran along the river bank while the race was in progress was filled with a colorful crowd, the feminine members of which were mostly in gala attire.

Harvard won by four lengths.

The Red Sox landed on Pennock and Hoyt and trimmed the Yankees, 6 to 5, in 11 innings. Tony Lazzeri pushed the ball all around the lot for a single, triple and homer, making as many hits as the rest of the Yanks combined.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

Play the midiron for all shots within what is called a midiron distance. This varies with different players—from 170 to 190 yards. In this connection here is a fact that should be impressed upon every golfer. It is only throught practice that one learns the carrying power of each club, and when once learned consistent use should be made of the knowledge. Many a shot has been spoiled by a man who stood hesitating beside his ball. Make a practice of sizing up the position of the ball while walking up to it, and before you reach it have an idea which club you are going to use. Here is a brassie and midiron. Use the square stance for full shots. The short swing gives greater accuracy. Accuracy, not distance, is to be striven for.

HAGEN-SMITH IN $10,000 BATTLE

DETROIT, June 25. — MacDonald Smith, professional at Lakeview, N. J., and Walter Hagen will clash next month in a match which will carry with it the greatest amount of money ever wagered on a similar event, it was announced today.

A. W. Wallace, a Detroiter, has agreed to cover $10,000 offered in a pool made by wealthy members of the Jersey club on Smith, according to announcement here. The match will be 72 holes; 36 holes at Lakeview and the other 36 on a course to be decided later.

Wells Clashes With Canton Youth Today

WESTWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, Cleveland, O., June 25. — Eight men will fight through 36 holes of golf in a drizzling rain today to decide which two will meet tomorrow in another 36-hole battle to determine the 1926 Ohio state amateur golf championship and incidentally win the coveted cup.

These eight are the survivors of a field of 200 who entered in the annual sport classic last Tuesday.

Upsets again marked the playing of the first two rounds of match play. Youth which had made such fine showing in the qualifying play and in the first round of match play, took a tumble in the second round.

Sinclair Dean, 20-year-old Lima bridegroom, was eliminated in the second round by King Malley, of Canton and Delaware.

Malley was apparently beaten when at the end of the first nine holes Dean was three up on him, but by plucky, persevering playing the towheaded boy overcame the Lima youth's lead and finally won two up.

The Malley-Dean battle was replete with tense situations that kept the gallery in excitement.

Leading at the ninth hole, three up, Dean hooked and sliced into the rough for three holes—to a tie. They halved the seventeenth in par threes. Dean had to win the next hole or drop out of the tournament. Malley hit a safe drive down the alley but overshot the green on his next. Dean hooked into the rough off the tee and came out strong, his ball near Malley's. A downhill pitch for the latter stymied Dean who had one shot to hole out in, but topped his ball and it rolled across the green carrying with it Dean's cup aspirations.

Malley today faces Joe Wells, the East Liverpool golf star.

Through a curious quirk of fate, Eddie Hasmann, Cleveland titleholder, will fight out the third round with Ralph Lee, Columbus veteran. The same pair last year fought a 20-hole battle in the third round. Hasmann was the victor.

Survivors of the second round were:
King Malley, Canton.
Joe Wells, East Liverpool.
Dave Ogilvie, Jr., Cleveland.
Jack Munro, Zanesville.
Parker Campbell, Toledo.
Harry Sweitzer, Cleveland.
Eddie Hasmann, Cleveland.
Raleigh Lee, Columbus.

Walker Receives Terrible Lacing In Dundee Bout

By George Barry.

NEW YORK, June 25.—One of the inevitable tragedies of the ring occurred in Madison Square Garden last night.

It was the decisive and bloody defeat of the once great Mickey Walker, who a few months ago was welterweight champion of the world. He was hammered from pillar to post by Joe Dundee, a slashing scrapper from Baltimore, who hit the ex-champion so hard and so often and cut him up to unmercifully that Referee Eddie Forbes stopped the battle after two minutes and fifty three seconds of the eighth round.

Today even Walker's most loyal admirers admit that the smiling Irishman's pugilistic star has set.

It was to have been Mickey's "comeback." He was to have demonstrated that his loss of the title in a close decision at Scranton, Pa., some time back to Pete Latzo was an accident.

But, except for a flash here and there, it wasn't the great Mickey of his champion days. It was, however a game, fighting Mickey that went down to a disastrous defeat.

Wanted Walker to Win.

The twelve thousand fans wanted to see Mickey win, at least most of them did. He was given a rousing ovation when he smilingly crawled through the ropes and nodded to the crowd. Even when he was going bad the fans cheered him, hoping he would by some chance put over a knockout.

Walker was his old, ripping, smashing self in the first round and nailed Dundee with rights and left and had his opponent backing all around the ring.

But from then on, it was all Dundee—every round. Dundee became more confident as the fight progressed and when, in the fourth round, he knocked a piece of plaster from over Walker's left eye and started the blood running, there was no stopping him.

Dundee drove Mickey around the ring repeatedly, pinned him in the corners and shellacked him vigorously in the body and in the face. In the sixth and seventh rounds, Mickey's face was a sight. The blood was streaming down it from the cut over the left eye. It was evident Mickey could hardly see, as time and again he vainly tried to wipe the blood out of his eyes while in the clinches.

Finally, McKey's defense became so feeble and Dundee's offense to furious that it was only a question of how long Mickey could last and whether Dundee would actually blind him.

Stopped in Eighth.

In the eighth, the blood bothering Mickey so badly he couldn't see his opponent and missed half a dozen lefts and rights by yards. Then, with the round almost over and as Dundee sunk another spongy right into the bleeding left socket, the referee humanely stopped it.

Though Mickey Walker's head was blood, it was unbowed. He insisted he wanted to go on. But even his manager, Jack Kearns, saw he had enough and made no protest. And Dundee was given credit for a technical knockout. Only once previously had Walker failed to respond to the final bell. That was in 1919, when he was a beginner, and Phil Delmont knocked him out in one round.

DE MOLAYS DOWN ALL STARS, 7 TO 2

Harding chapter, DeMolay, defeated the Morey All-Stars, 7 to 2, last evening at Columbian park.

The tilt was the first of a three-game series between the two club. No date has been set for the second engagement.

Hildritch pitched winning ball for the DeMolays throughout the game and his offerings were well handled by Dawson behind the plate.

The All-Stars' battery was composed of Boso and Maley.

CHESTER BOOKS SALINEVILLE

"Mike" Cebula, Chester City Industrial league pitching ace, will probably take a day off following his 1-0 conquest over Turk-Nash last night, when the West Virginians tackle Salineville tomorrow afternoon at Smith field.

The Salineville club has been booked in by Manager Riley as a special attraction. Hostilities are scheduled to begin promptly at 3:15.

HARVARD WINS FRESHMAN RACE

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 25.—Harvard won the freshman's race, the first event in the Yale-Harvard regatta here today over the picturesque Thames river. The crews rowed two miles down stream.

It was an exciting race. Thousands lined the banks of the river and cheered the oarsmen. The observation trains which ran along the river bank while the race was in progress was filled with a colorful crowd, the feminine members of which were mostly in gala attire.

Harvard won by four lengths.

The Red Sox landed on Pennock and Hoyt and trimmed the Yankees, 6 to 5, in 11 innings. Tony Lazzeri pushed the ball all around the lot for a single, triple and homer, making as many hits as the rest of the Yanks combined.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

Play the midiron for all shots within what is called a midiron distance. This varies with different players—from 170 to 190 yards. In this connection here is a fact that should be impressed upon every golfer. It is only throught practice that one learns the carrying power of each club, and when once learned consistent use should be made of the knowledge. Many a shot has been spoiled by a man who stood hesitating beside his ball. Make a practice of sizing up the position of the ball while walking up to it, and before you reach it have an idea which club you are going to use. Here is a brassie and midiron. Use the square stance for full shots. The short swing gives greater accuracy. Accuracy, not distance, is to be striven for.

HAGEN-SMITH IN $10,000 BATTLE

DETROIT, June 25. — MacDonald Smith, professional at Lakeview, N. J., and Walter Hagen will clash next month in a match which will carry with it the greatest amount of money ever wagered on a similar event, it was announced today.

A. W. Wallace, a Detroiter, has agreed to cover $10,000 offered in a pool made by wealthy members of the Jersey club on Smith, according to announcement here. The match will be 72 holes; 36 holes at Lakeview and the other 36 on a course to be decided later.

Wells Clashes With Canton Youth Today

WESTWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, Cleveland, O., June 25. — Eight men will fight through 36 holes of golf in a drizzling rain today to decide which two will meet tomorrow in another 36-hole battle to determine the 1926 Ohio state amateur golf championship and incidentally win the coveted cup.

These eight are the survivors of a field of 200 who entered in the annual sport classic last Tuesday.

Upsets again marked the playing of the first two rounds of match play. Youth which had made such fine showing in the qualifying play and in the first round of match play, took a tumble in the second round.

Sinclair Dean, 20-year-old Lima bridegroom, was eliminated in the second round by King Malley, of Canton and Delaware.

Malley was apparently beaten when at the end of the first nine holes Dean was three up on him, but by plucky, persevering playing the towheaded boy overcame the Lima youth's lead and finally won two up.

The Malley-Dean battle was replete with tense situations that kept the gallery in excitement.

Leading at the ninth hole, three up, Dean hooked and sliced into the rough for three holes—to a tie. They halved the seventeenth in par threes. Dean had to win the next hole or drop out of the tournament. Malley hit a safe drive down the alley but overshot the green on his next. Dean hooked into the rough off the tee and came out strong, his ball near Malley's. A downhill pitch for the latter stymied Dean who had one shot to hole out in, but topped his ball and it rolled across the green carrying with it Dean's cup aspirations.

Malley today faces Joe Wells, the East Liverpool golf star.

Through a curious quirk of fate, Eddie Hasmann, Cleveland titleholder, will fight out the third round with Ralph Lee, Columbus veteran. The same pair last year fought a 20-hole battle in the third round. Hasmann was the victor.

Survivors of the second round were:
King Malley, Canton.
Joe Wells, East Liverpool.
Dave-Ogilvie, Jr., Cleveland.
Jack Munro, Zanesville.
Parker Campbell, Toledo.
Harry Sweitzer, Cleveland.
Eddie Hasmann, Cleveland.
Raleigh Lee, Columbus.

LAUGHLIN COPS 7 TO 1 CONTEST

Briggle Holds Wellsville Club to Three Hits.

LAUGHLIN, outhitting Wellsville, defeated the down-river aggregation in a City Industrial league contest at Newell, last evening, 7 to 1.

After retiring two men in the first inning Patterson was touched for two singles, a double and a triple that netted three runs. He then gave way to Vess, who finished the game.

In the fourth Buben opened with a home run to deep right. Babb went out, Hancock to Dustman. W. Watson made his second hit of the game. Hunselman went out, Morris to Dustman. Briggle tripled, scoring Watson and the latter finished on Parson's double to left. Aufderheide went out Morris to Dustman.

Pelley, walking in the third, stole second and made third on a wild throw. Deemer fanned. Vess walked. On an attempted double steal, Pelley was caught at the plate, W. Watson to Hunselman. James doubled to right, scoring Vess.

Despite the big attendance at the Chester-Turk-Nash game in Chester a fair sized crowd was in attendance.

Fight Results

AT NEW YORK—Joe Dundee, Baltimore welterweight, scored a technical knockout over Mickey Walker in the eighth round.

Benny Bass, Philadelphia, knocked out Billy Kennedy, New Orleans, in the seventh round.

Harry Cook, Buffalo, outpointed Boots Antley, Florida, 10 rounds.

BOSTON—Babe Herman, California, outpointed Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion, 10 rounds. The title was not at stake.

Johnny Hilly, Filipino boxer, knocked out Kid Silvers, Ansonia, Conn., in the second round.

TAGGING ALL --BASES--

Pittsburgh and St. Louis stood up and slugged nine innings to a draw, 3 to 3. Blanked by Kremer for seven frames, the Cards came back like an echo, shelling Kremer off the mound and tying the score.

Looking like a new team with Jackson back at short, the Giants thrashed the Phils twice, 12 to 7 and 7 to 2. Frisch collecting seven hits. Two homers by Pitcher Jack Knight failed to win the opener for the Phils and the Quakers were held to five hits by McQuillan in the nightcap.

The Athletics lost two games to Washington, 8 to 6 and 3 to 1. Sam Rice got seven hits, the Senators pulled a triple play, and about $300,000 worth of Connie Mack's half-million dollar pitching staff went up in smoke.

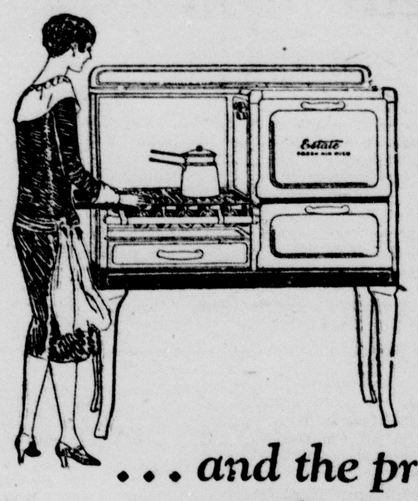
No question about its beauty



... and the price speaks for itself

NO question about the beauty of the new Estate Gas Range. Enameled inside and out; smooth rounded surfaces; no bolts or nuts showing—even the door hinges concealed.

And "performance"! The wide-spread oven burner saves gas, gives more heat; the Fresh-Air Oven makes baking success certain.

But perhaps the most remarkable thing about this new Estate is the price. No range of anything like the Estate's quality has been offered at prices so surprisingly low.

The famous "14 points" in the new Estate:

1 The Estate Fresh-Air Bake Oven—"built like a double boiler."
2 The ThermEstate Oven Heat Control.
3 The Copyrighted Cooking Chart.
4 One-Piece Oven and Broiler Side Linings.
5 Two-Section Oven Bottom.
6 Enameled Oven Linings.
7 Concealed-Spring Door Suspension.
8 Double-Wall Body.
9 Complete Concealment of All Hinges, Nuts and Bolts.
10 Wide-Spread Oven Burner.
11 Hollow-Pressed Door Handles
12 Handy Utensil Drawer.
13 Free Membership in Estate Cookery Club.
14 Unusual Beauty of Design.

LAUGHLIN COPS 7 TO 1 CONTEST

Briggle Holds Wellsville Club to Three Hits.

LAUGHLIN, outhitting Wellsville, defeated the down-river aggregation in a City Industrial league contest at Newell, last evening, 7 to 1.

After retiring two men in the first inning Patterson was touched for two singles, a double and a triple that netted three runs. He then gave way to Vess, who finished the game.

In the fourth Buben opened with a home run to deep right. Babb went out, Hancock to Dustman. W. Watson made his second hit of the game. Hunselman went out, Morris to Dustman. Briggle tripled, scoring Watson and the latter finished on Parson's double to left. Aufderheide went out Morris to Dustman.

Pelley, walking in the third, stole second and made third on a wild throw. Deemer fanned. Vess walked. On an attempted double steal, Pelley was caught at the plate, W. Watson to Hunselman. James doubled to right, scoring Vess.

Despite the big attendance at the Chester-Turk-Nash game in Chester a fair sized crowd was in attendance.

Fight Results

AT NEW YORK—Joe Dundee, Baltimore welterweight, scored a technical knockout over Mickey Walker in the eighth round.

Benny Bass, Philadelphia, knocked out Billy Kennedy, New Orleans, in the seventh round.

Harry Cook, Buffalo, outpointed Boots Antley, Florida, 10 rounds.

BOSTON—Babe Herman, California, outpointed Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion, 10 rounds. The title was not at stake.

Johnny Hilly, Filipino boxer, knocked out Kid Silvers, Ansonia, Conn., in the second round.

TAGGING ALL --BASES--

Pittsburgh and St. Louis stood up and slugged nine innings to a draw, 3 to 3. Blanked by Kremer for seven frames, the Cards came back like an echo, shelling Kremer off the mound and tying the score.

Looking like a new team with Jackson back at short, the Giants thrashed the Phils twice, 12 to 7 and 7 to 2, Frisch collecting seven hits. Two homers by Pitcher Jack Knight failed to win the opener for the Phils and the Quakers were held to five hits by McQuillan in the nightcap.

The Athletics lost two games to Washington, 8 to 6 and 3 to 1. Sam Rice got seven hits, the Senators pulled a triple play, and about $300,000 worth of Connie Mack's half-million dollar pitching staff went up in smoke.

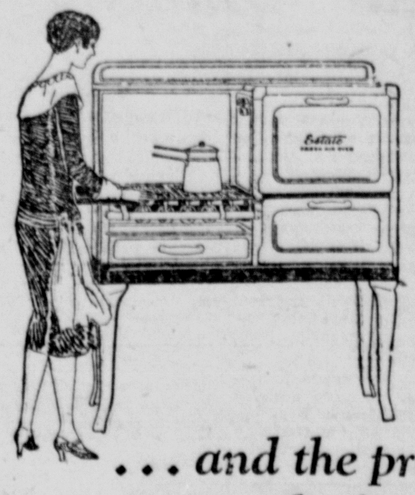
No question about its beauty



... and the price speaks for itself

NO question about the beauty of the new Estate Gas Range. Enameled inside and out; smooth rounded surfaces; no bolts or nuts showing—even the door hinges concealed.

And "performance"! The wide-spread oven burner saves gas, gives more heat; the Fresh-Air Oven makes baking success certain.

But perhaps the most remarkable thing about this new Estate is the price. No range of anything like the Estate's quality has been offered at prices so surprisingly low.

The famous "14 points" in the new Estate:

1 The Estate Fresh-Air Bake Oven—"built like a double boiler."
2 The ThermEstate Oven Heat Control.
3 The Copyrighted Cooking Chart.
4 One-Piece Oven and Broiler Side Linings.
5 Two-Section Oven Bottom.
6 Enameled Oven Linings.
7 Concealed-Spring Door Suspension.
8 Double-Wall Body.
9 Complete Concealment of All Hinges, Nuts and Bolts.
10 Wide-Spread Oven Burner.
11 Hollow-Pressed Door Handles
12 Handy Utensil Drawer.
13 Free Membership in Estate Cookery Club.

Donaldson, Daniel M. Smith and ALL OTHERS WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

You and each of you are hereby notified that the estimated assessment has been made by the County Surveyor of Columbiana County, Ohio, upon the real estate to be charged therewith for the improvement of the following described part of the Wellsville-Salineville Road, I. C. H. 381, Sections A-1 and B-3, Washington and Yellow Creek townships, Columbiana County, Ohio, to wit:

Known as and being the Wellsville-Salineville Public Road, I. C. H. 381, Sections A-1 and B-3, in Washington and Yellow Creek townships, Columbiana County, Ohio, and is described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the village of Highlandtown, section 6, Washington township where the center line of the Wellsville-Salineville road, Section "B-2" intersects the center line of Lisbon Street, said point of intersection being the end of section "B-2" and designated as station 267-30 of said survey of said road; thence easterly with the center line of said survey through section 6 of Washington township and southeasterly through sections 36-30-29 and 23, Yellow Creek township to a point in said section 23 at the westerly end of the present brick pavement as now laid on the Wellsville-Salineville road and designated as station 466-72 of said survey and total length of 19849 feet or 3.76 miles.

Said assessment is now on file in the office of the County Commissioners at their office in the Court House at Lisbon, Ohio, for the inspection and examination of all persons interested therein.

The day when objections, if any, will be heard, shall be Monday, July 12, 1926, at 9 o'clock a. m. Central Standard Time, at the office of the County Commissioners in the Court House at Lisbon, Ohio.

If any such owner of property affected by said assessment desires to make objections to such assessment, such objections must be made in writing and filed with the County Commissioners on or before the time set for hearing said objections.

DAIRY SURVEY IS BEING CONDUCTED

Announcement has just been made by James V. Hopkins, extension dairy specialist of the West Virginia college of agriculture, that a survey is being made of the dairy herds of the state to determine the number of herds that average 300 pounds or more of butterfat per cow yearly.

The survey is also being made throughout the country. It is generally agreed that an average production of 300 pounds, which is about twice the average of all dairy cows, indicates a profitable herd.

The names of all eligible dairymen, as determined by the state supervisors of test associations and state superintendents of advanced registry. Diplomas will be awarded.

LODGE OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED

Class of candidates will be given the third degree and officers elected tonight at the homecoming meeting of Clark lodge No. 447, I. O. O. F. to be held in the Aaron building, Fifth street.

Lunch will be served at the close of the business session by the social committee of the lodge.

To Attend Dance.

Number of local people plan to attend the dance tonight at Rock Springs park. Music will be furnished by Tom Care's West Virginians.

Services to Close.

Evangelistic services which have been in progress for two weeks will close Sunday evening in the Church of the Nazarene. The sermons are being delivered by the pastor, Rev. F. F. Freese.

PLANS ARRANGED FOR LAWN FETE

Plans have been completed for a lawn fete to be held Monday evening under the auspices of the Ladies Aid and Missionary societies of the First Presbyterian church on the ground in Washington street between Fourth and Fifth streets.

Laughlin Plays Tonight.

Homer Laughlin China team is scheduled to meet Turk-Nash this evening in an Industrial league game at Columbian park, East Liverpool. This will be the second meeting of the week with the auto tossers.

Road Bids Opened.

Members of the state road commission opened bids this week at Charleston for 13 road contracts. Total estimate of the cost is approximately $660,000. It is probable that another contract letting will be held later in the summer.

The Business Man's Shirt

ASIDE from their smart and trig appearance, these colored Manhattan Shirts have a point of advantage to the business man which will afford him welcome relief.

No matter how careful he may be, the all-pervading smoke and soot of the city work their way unobserved to his desk, as a ten o'clock inspection of his cuffs will reveal.

But with these colored Manhattans, he finishes the day as immaculate as at its beginning.

We have a wide variety of designs, colors, and fabrics for you to choose from, with or without collar.

DAIRY SURVEY IS BEING CONDUCTED

Announcement has just been made by James V. Hopkins, extension dairy specialist of the West Virginia college of agriculture, that a survey is being made of the dairy herds of the state to determine the number of herds that average 300 pounds or more of butterfat per cow yearly.

The survey is also being made throughout the country. It is generally agreed that an average production of 300 pounds, which is about twice the average of all dairy cows, indicates a profitable herd.

The names of all eligible dairymen, as determined by the state supervisors of test associations and state superintendents of advanced registry. Diplomas will be awarded.

LODGE OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED

Sheriff Wright is Commended by State Inspector.

"Of all the jails I have investigated in the state, I have never been in one where so much improvement has been accomplished in so short a time as in Columbiana county," declared Stanley C. Griffin, of Columbus, social investigator of the department of welfare, division of charities.

Griffin completed an inspection of the county jail Thursday afternoon, it being the sixth time that he has been assigned to make such a report to the division of charities.

"There is a total absence of vermin in the jail," Griffin said. "Dampness has also been eliminated, and due credit should be given Sheriff George Wright for what he has accomplished in such a brief period of time and at such low cost.

"Our department knows what the former conditions were, and the change that has been made by Sheriff Wright has not been unnoticed. The sheriff should be commended for putting the jail in its present shape, and it proves to us that he has been rendering the county a real service."

Heretofore the department of charities has been recommending a bond issue for a new jail, but no such recommendation is to be made this year because of the present condition of the institution.

Divorce Action Filed.

In the petition for divorce filed in common pleas court by Viola M. Percy, aged 17 years, of Columbiana, by her next friend, M. F. Bricker, and against her husband, Jesse G. Percy, residing on the Elkton road, one-half mile south of Columbiana, it is related that she was induced to enter into the marriage by undue influence.

JURY NAMED TO VALUE PROPERTY

The names of 12 jurors have been drawn from the jury wheel on application of Judge Riddle in probate court by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine and Sheriff George Wright to sit in the case having to do with the improvement of intercounty highway No. 384 in Hanover township, or the Hanover-Salem road. The names are the first to be taken from the wheel since the selection of 700 names by the jury commission, which completed its work a few weeks ago.

Those drawn are: Florence Russi and Henry Ashbaugh, Salem; W. M. Hall, Damascus; Alex Rankin, Leetonia; Frank Crawford, Lisbon; J. C. Bower, New Waterford; Mildred Ankrim, W. H. Gass, Ira A. Burbick, Grace Thompson, John E. Johnston and Wilbur J. Starkey, all of East Liverpool.

The jury will determine the value of certain property along this road which is now being graded for surfacing. The hearing will take place in common pleas court No. 1 next Monday, June 28.

COMMUNITY BANK INSTITUTES SUIT

The Community bank of East Liverpool, through its cashier, Millard Blythe, and its counsel, Brookes & Thompson, have filed an action in common pleas court against Minta Campbell and others to recover judgment on a claim for $288.05 and interest at eight per cent from June 9, 1926, on a note for $300, and upon which part has been paid. Other parties have been named as defendants.

The petition relates that after James P. Campbell died, nothing has been paid on the note, and that he gave a mortgage deed to secure the paper.

Marriage License.

A marriage license has been granted to Charles L. Warner, of Warren, and Laura Driscoll, a teacher, residing at Leetonia, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Driscoll, of Leetonia. They are to be married by the Rev. Harrold.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC TOMORROW

Knox township union Sunday school picnic will be held tomorrow at Lake Placentia. Sport program will be followed by a basket picnic dinner. Principal address will be given by Rev. S. W. Seeman, pastor of the Homeworth Presbyterian church. Officers of the association who were elected at a meeting Monday night at Homeworth are: President, B. E. Saffell; vice president, Frank Stanley; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Inez Baker.

SEEK TO CLEAR TERMS OF WILL

C. F. Cope, of Alliance, as executor of the estate of the late Anna M. Cope, who died June 26, 1898, has joined with John C. Cope, of Kensington; Dora Cope Bell, of Salem, and Lloyd Fultz, guardian of Frank Fultz, a minor, of Hanoverton, in a suit just filed in common pleas court against John Murray and Lesta Murray, residing on R. F. D. No. 6, East Rochester, to have the court place a construction upon the will of the deceased.

According to the terms of the will of the deceased, the plaintiffs claim there is doubt as to its construction, and in order to clear title to certain property the court action has been brought.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to extend our sincere appreciation for the many kindnesses, words of sympathy and expression of condolence from the numerous friends and neighbors, in our recent bereavement in the death of our daughter and sister, Erma George. We wish to thank all who helped in any way, and those who furnished cars, and for the many beautiful floral offerings, and to Rev. Ross Wilson of the United Presbyterian church, for his words of sympathy and his Christian message. Also to those who brought comfort and hope in song to our burdened hearts in the great loss we have sustained.

MR. AND MRS. R. W. GEORGE AND MERYL WALKER.

NATURALIZATION HEARING FIXED

At the next session of naturalization court, which has been scheduled to be held in common pleas court room No. 1 September 17, 83 applicants for final papers will submit themselves for final examination. This is a record class for this county.

There were 15 cases held over from the April court for the fall hearing, and 73 new applications are eligible for final hearing.

The time limit has been passed where others may be added to the list for the September term of this court.

No word has been received from the department of labor at Pittsburgh, Pa., by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine, who will be assigned from that office to conduct the hearing.

FACES CHARGE OF NON SUPPORT

Harry Montgomery, formerly residing in the Locust Grove section of Lisbon, and who recently located in Youngstown, was arrested there Wednesday night on a warrant issued in the court of Probate Judge Lodge Riddle on an affidavit filed by his wife charging him with non-support.

Montgomery was returned to Lisbon Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter and Constable Clarence Wetzel, of Centre township, and when arraigned entered a plea of not guilty.

In default of $500 bail, he was committed to the county jail for a hearing later.

Homeworth

Mrs. Elizabeth Stoller, 81 years old, died last Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Homer Greenisen, North Georgetown.

There were 15 cases held over from the April court for the fall hearing, and 73 new applications are eligible for final hearing.

The time limit has been passed where others may be added to the list for the September term of this court.

No word has been received from the department of labor at Pittsburgh, Pa., by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine, who will be assigned from that office to conduct the hearing.

FACES CHARGE OF NON SUPPORT

Harry Montgomery, formerly residing in the Locust Grove section of Lisbon, and who recently located in Youngstown, was arrested there Wednesday night on a warrant issued in the court of Probate Judge Lodge Riddle on an affidavit filed by his wife charging him with non-support.

Montgomery was returned to Lisbon Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter and Constable Clarence Wetzel, of Centre township, and when arraigned entered a plea of not guilty.

In default of $500 bail, he was committed to the county jail for a hearing later.

BRITISH ADOPT CHINESE STUDENT PLAN TO PAY $55,000,000 INDEMNITY

PEKING—American precedent in the distribution of the $55,000,000 remitted British Boxer indemnity will be followed if the recommendation of the Commission, which has completed its investigations, is accepted.

Headed by Lord Willingdon, this mixed British-Chinese Commission has for several months travelled around China considering the hundreds of schemes proposed. As the commission left England, it was intimated that the proposal of Dr. Hu Shih, graduate of Columbia University, one of the members of the commission, would in all likelihood be accepted for the final report to the British Government.

It was Dr. Hu Shih's plan that a Board of Trustees should be formed with a preponderance of Chinese over British members, which should report both to the British and Chinese governments on its work of distributing the fund, which will amount to approximately $2,000,000 yearly.

It was of outstanding interest that in appointing the commission, the British government named two American-educated Chinese. The other Chinese member was a British-returned student.

"I REDUCED 50 POUNDS with SILPH"

MISS MABLE SEARS

Do You Need to Lose FAT?

Why not give a chance to SILPH?
—See what it can do for you—
You chew SILPH like ordinary Gum!

Safe — Easy — Pleasant

No diets—No exercises—
No dangerous drugs.

Miss Mable Sears, from Ohio writes, "I have already reduced 50 pounds—I think SILPH is wonderful—there is not any excuse for anyone being overweight now, with this easy, pleasing way to reduce."

NOTE:—SILPH will not work any overnight miracle, neither will it take off twenty pounds in one week, but chew it regularly and see for yourself how much you can take off—SILPH sells at all good drug or dept. stores for 50c a box. If your druggist is out of it send direct to the SILPH CO., 9 West 60th Street, New York City.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Silph is the name of the original and genuine. The only one we personally guarantee to be safe and harmless.

YOUR HEALTH

Quick Fatigue Warns You to Revise Your Habits

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.
United States Senator from New York,

DR. COPELAND

THERE is no more unnecessary human experience than the chronic state of tiredness which is the experience of so many individuals. Every day I meet friends who give evidence of fatigue. They are uncommonly touchy, they are fidgetty and nervous, they are fussy and fault-finding, they are unable to concentrate on their daily duties.

Life is intended to proceed without friction. All the things we do should be done easily. Our everyday tasks should not get on our nerves. They should be taken care of patiently and good-naturedly.

Many a mother has seemed cross to her children when as a matter of fact she has a heart of gold and the most loving nature in the world. Her true feelings are smothered by her tiredness and fagged-out condition.

Many a man goes to his office to drive his stenographer and clerks to distraction because of his uppishness and irritability. Nothing pleases him. He growls at the waiter who serves his lunch and finds fault with the street car that takes him swiftly home at night.

Unfortunately, life is so constituted that everybody has daily experiences that seem to demand some form of resentment. If you happen to get out of bed on the wrong side in the morning, these disturbing experiences appear to have been multiplied by the million. This is because you are tired, you are worn out, your nervous system has not recuperated over-night.

When you feel this way, don't send for a doctor or buy a bottle of nerve tonic. What you need is to revise your way of living so that you will have more rest and more sleep. Just exactly the amount of sleep you must have depends upon your own nature, but knowing the number of hours you require, you should religiously give yourself this much time in bed.

If for any reason you do not sleep well, do not toss around in the bed as if you were a disturbed alligator. Keep quiet and give nature a chance to send sleep to your eyelids.

Sometimes as a result of indigestion or intestional fermentation there are formed in the body poisons which seem to have a stimulating effect and result in the prevention of sleep. Every person who suffers from sleeplessness should be governed by this hint. Perhaps by the correction of the constipation or of the intestional fermentation or whatever it may be, you may suddenly find that the cause for your sleeplessness has disappeared.

Fatigue is fatal to effective accomplishment. You may fight off the need of sleep for a few months, but unless you are sensible about it, trouble is in store for you. Nature's demands must be met, or disaster is sure to follow. You can add materially to your happiness if you will avoid the causes of fatigue.

Answers to Health Questions

BLONDIE H. Q.—The lid of one of my eyes will not open as widely as the other. What causes this and what can be done about it?

A.—There is probably some injury to the nerve in one eye. You should consult a nerve specialist to see what can be done aobut it.

• • •

BLONDE. Q.—My cheeks become very red when called upon in the classroom or out in company. It makes me very uncomfortable. How can I overcome it?

2—I am fourteen, 5 feet 1 inch tall—what should I weigh?

A.—You are probably self-conscious. This must be overcome by using your will power. Go out and mingle more with young persons of your own age and join in their pleasure and amusements. Forget yourself and you will soon find that you have gained poise and confidence.

2—You should weight about 103 pounds.

• • •

MRS. W. G. Q.—What can I do to cure very large pores?

A.—Apply alternately hot and cold compresses for ten minutes night and morning.

• • •

A WORRIED MOTHER. Q.—What can be done for sore eyes in a baby seven weeks old?

A.—I suggest that you consult a competent baby specialist and he will advise you as to treatment. Without a personal examination it is impossible to diagnose the trouble.

• • •

MRS. O. R. T. Q.—Will you kindly tell me whether yellow oxide of mercury ointment will increase the growth of eye lashes.

A.—Yes; one per cent yellow oxide of mercury will.

• • •

V. H. K. Q.—Is it dangerous to sleep on a screened porch this time of year?

2—Should a person cover his head while sleeping outdoors.

A.—It is quite all right if you have the proper coverings.

2—You may if you care to, providing the mouth and nose is left uncovered.

• • •

S. D. Q.—I am bothered with a soreness in my groin that seems to come and go. Violent exercise seems to bring it on. There is no swelling.

A.—This condition may be due to a hernia or severe strain. Have your doctor give you a personal examination and suggest treatment.

• • •

MISS M. H. R. Q.—Would soap have a tendency to darken light hair? I wash my hair once every two weeks. Is it injurious to use a lemon with this soap?

A.—It might have a tendency to darken extremely light hair. The hair should be washed about once every two weeks with a good soap and warm water and then thoroughly rinsed. It should not be necessary to use anything else. The lemon juice might prove too drying to the scalp if used frequently.

MOTHERS LOOK TO LAURELS AS CHICAGO BOYS ARE TAUGHT TO COOK

CHICAGO—Mothers are looking to their laurels here as a result of the inauguration in the public school of food classes for boys.

It's now, "Ma, I brought you home some cake I baked," instead of a request for bread, butter and jam. There's no trouble at all about keeping the cookie jar filled with Willie aiding with the baking.

The new food classes are a forward step in health education. Authorities are working on the theory that the matter of better food will have a wide beneficial effect on the well-being of the children. Knowledge of what to eat and how to prepare it will be an aid, school officials say, not only to better health, but in making children less susceptible to disease.

Money with which to buy the ingredients is furnished by the pupils. After they prepare the dishes, the students are given the food. Prizes are awarded the boys who make the best progress, as an aid in popularizing the classes.

Death Thwarts Reunion.

In July, 1894, two friends carved the name of one, H. H. Morgan, on a rock on Tunnel mountain near Banff, Canada. More than 30 years later one of them returned. Thoughts of his friend urged him to climb the mountain to see if the name was still visible. He then wrote Mr. Morgan. The reply came from Mr. Morgan's widow with the information that on the day the original letter was written her husband, thinking of the episode, started to pack his auto with the intention of making the trip to the old rock, but dropped dead while he was packing.

The hard part is to find a girl attractive enough to please you and yet dumb enuogh to like you.—Mansfield Journal.

Rose Fever Comes Before Hay Fever

Many people entirely escape the ravages of and misery incident to the rose fever and hay fever seasons by starting early to take Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever Remedy. It is sold and recommended by Carnahan's Drug Stores, East Liverpool, and by good druggists everywhere.

WEST COAST BOOTLEGGERS HIDE RUM IN FISH NETS HUNG OVER BOAT'S SIDE

LOS ANGELES—Airplanes and fish nets are the latest weapons to be employed by Los Angeles harbor bootleggers and off-shore rum-runners.

When a bootlegger's consignment recently was 15 days over-due, the enterprising retailer of rare liquor chartered a plane and went out to sea hunting his craft.

Many of the rum ships are now equipped with large fishing nets, officials of the coast guard discovered, and when the federal cutters come into sight the liquor supplies are lowered in the nets below the ship's waterline.

Rose Fever Comes Before Hay Fever

Many people entirely escape the ravages of and misery incident to the rose fever and hay fever seasons by starting early to take Kerker's Asthma and Hay Fever Remedy. It is sold and recommended by Carnahan's Drug Stores, East Liverpool, and by good druggists everywhere.

WEST COAST BOOTLEGGERS HIDE RUM IN FISH NETS HUNG OVER BOAT'S SIDE

LOS ANGELES—Airplanes and fish nets are the latest weapons to be employed by Los Angeles harbor bootleggers and off-shore rum-runners.

When a bootlegger's consignment recently was 15 days over-due, the enterprising retailer of rare liquor chartered a plane and went out to sea hunting his craft.

Many of the rum ships are now equipped with large fishing nets, officials of the coast guard discovered, and when the federal cutters come into sight the liquor supplies are lowered in the nets below the ship's waterline.

Harriman Zinc Deals Vigorously Opposed By Polish Premier

WARSAW.—Premier Bartel, of the new Polish government, is said to be strongly opposed to the Harriman zinc deals in Polish Upper-Silesia. He considers the Harriman contracts detrimental to the Polish state.

While negotiations between Harriman representatives and Upper Silesian firms are going on, American efforts to conclude a final agreement immediately after the revolution failed owing to strong opposition on the part of the new Polish government.

Harriman Zinc Deals Vigorously Opposed By Polish Premier

WARSAW.—Premier Bartel, of the new Polish government, is said to be strongly opposed to the Harriman zinc deals in Polish Upper Silesia. He considers the Harriman contracts detrimental to the Polish state.

While negotiations between Harriman representatives and Upper Silesian firms are going on, American efforts to conclude a final agreement immediately after the revolution failed owing to strong opposition on the part of the new Polish government.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Stop a minute and think about this fact. You can ask The Review-Tribune Information Bureau any question of fact and get the answer back in a personal letter. It is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Get the habit of asking questions. Address your letter to The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Fredeic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q. When did Pullman cars change the lighting from lamps to electricity? T. H. C.

A. Candles were largely used from 1865 to 1874; oil from 1875 to 1890, and Pintsch gas from 1891 to 1909. The first electrically-lighted train was the Pennsylvania limited, June 1887, a dynamo engine being placed in the baggage car. Later, along about 1898, individual axle lighting generators were developed.

Q. What is the meaning of the word Ozark? J. G. McK.

A. It is a corruption of the French phrase "aux arcs," which means "with bows." The term is descriptive of the Indians who inhabited the country.

Q. In what form did "The Blessed Damozel" first appear? A. D. G.

A. Rossetti's poem was first published in his brother's magazine called "The Germ."

Q. I've heard that there is a cooking banana different from the ordinary "eating banana." Is this true? H. L.

A. The cooking banana is similar in appearance to the ordinary "eating banana," but usually is larger and has a more pronounced stem. Cooking bananas are sold on the market by the "hand." The cooking banana is not edible raw. When the skin has turned black, the whole banana (skin and meat) should be baked for 30 minutes. To serve split the skin with a fork and season the fruit with a little lemon juice and butter.

Q. Why were the Germans called "Huns?" S. K.

A. The word "Hun" was a term of reproach given to the Germans by their enemies from the beginning of the war. It seems to have first been associated by William II with his army as a term of praise. He used it in an address to his troops about to sail for China from Bremerhaven, July 27, 1900. For many years the German Socialists used the word "Hun" in attacking the militarists in that country.

Q. Give me the names of the important dynasties of China and the dates? F. L.

A. The early condition of China was tribal which before Christ merged into a vast feudal system nominally ruled by many contemporaeous dynasties dated from 2205 B. C. The king of Ts'in put down all other rulers and assumed the title of Hwang Ti or emperor. The principal dynasties from this period are Han, 206 B. C. to 220 A. D.; T'ang, 618 to 906; Sung, 960 to 1279; Yuan the Mongol, 1280 to 1367; The Ming, 1368 to 1643; The Chi'ng or Ts'ing Mancho Tartar, 1643 to fall of the empire and date of republic.

Q. Who was Joe Miller who wrote the Joke Book? L. E. M.

A. Joe Miller was an English comedian who lived from 1684 until 1738. So illiterate that he was unable to read, he married that he might have someone to read his parts to him. About this time it became the vogue to publish books of jokes, attributing them to some one person. A year after Miller's death John Mottley compiled a book of 72 pages containing 247 jests and called it Joe Miller's Jests. Only three were in any way connected with the actor. Many editions have been printed. In 1745 the number of jokes included had risen to 587 and by the middle of the nineteenth century to 1546.

Q. Is grapefruit more akin to oranges or to lemons? B. D.

A. All three belong to the citrus family, but the grapefruit more nearly approaches the orange in amount of sugar and citric acid it contains than the lemon.

Q. What size should a coat of arms be? E. E. M.

A. There is no standard size of coat of arms. The important feature of reproducing armorial bearings is the accuracy of the colors.

Q. How fast is the solar system moving? T. C. C.

A. The solar system is moving with a velocity of about 12 miles a second towards a point in the constellation Hercules whose approximate right ascension is 270 degree and declination 34 degrees north.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Stop a minute and think about this fact. You can ask The Review-Tribune Information Bureau any question of fact and get the answer back in a personal letter. It is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Get the habit of asking questions. Address your letter to The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Fredeic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q. When did Pullman cars change the lighting from lamps to electricity? T. H. C.

A. Candles were largely used from 1865 to 1874; oil from 1875 to 1890, and Pintsch gas from 1891 to 1909. The first electrically-lighted train was the Pennsylvania limited, June 1887, a dynamo engine being placed in the baggage car. Later, along about 1898, individual axle lighting generators were developed.

Q. What is the meaning of the word Ozark? J. G. McK.

A. It is a corruption of the French phrase "aux arcs," which means "with bows." The term is descriptive of the Indians who inhabited the country.

Q. In what form did "The Blessed Damozel" first appear? A. D. G.

A. Rossetti's poem was first published in his brother's magazine called "The Germ."

Q. I've heard that there is a cooking banana different from the ordinary "eating banana." Is this true? H. L.

A. The cooking banana is similar in appearance to the ordinary "eating banana," but usually is larger and has a more pronounced stem. Cooking bananas are sold on the market by the "hand." The cooking banana is not edible raw. When the skin has turned black, the whole banana (skin and meat) should be baked for 30 minutes. To serve split the skin with a fork and season the fruit with a little lemon juice and butter.

Q. Why were the Germans called "Huns?" S. K.

A. The word "Hun" was a term of reproach given to the Germans by their enemies from the beginning of the war. It seems to have first been associated by William II with his army as a term of praise. He used it in an address to his troops about to sail for China from Bremerhaven, July 27, 1900. For many years the German Socialists used the word "Hun" in attacking the militarists in that country.

Q. Give me the names of the important dynasties of China and the dates? F. L.

A. The early condition of China was tribal which before Christ merged into a vast feudal system nominally ruled by many contemporaeous dynasties dated from 2205 B. C. The king of Ts'in put down all other rulers and assumed the title of Hwang Ti or emperor. The principal dynasties from this period are Han, 206 B. C. to 220 A. D.; T'ang, 618 to 906; Sung, 960 to 1279; Yuan the Mongol, 1280 to 1367; The Ming, 1368 to 1643; The Ch'ing or Ts'ing Mancho Tartar, 1643 to fall of the empire and date of republic.

Q. Who was Joe Miller who wrote the Joke Book? L. E. M.

A. Joe Miller was an English comedian who lived from 1684 until 1738. So illiterate that he was unable to read, he married that he might have someone to read his parts to him. About this time it became the vogue to publish books of jokes, attributing them to some one person. A year after Miller's death John Mottley compiled a book of 72 pages containing 247 jests and called it Joe Miller's Jests. Only three were in any way connected with the actor. Many editions have been printed. In 1745 the number of jokes included had risen to 587 and by the middle of the nineteenth century to 1546.

Q. Is grapefruit more akin to oranges or to lemons? B. D.

A. All three belong to the citrus family, but the grapefruit more nearly approaches the orange in amount of sugar and citric acid it contains than the lemon.

Q. What size should a coat of arms be? E. E. M.

A. There is no standard size of coat of arms. The important feature of reproducing armorial bearings is the accuracy of the colors.

Q. How fast is the solar system moving? T. C. C.

A. The solar system is moving with a velocity of about 12 miles a second towards a point in the constellation Hercules whose approximate right ascension is 270 degree and declination 34 degrees north.

If the chairs are bright green and there are freak pictures on the wall, it's a tea room, instead of a restaurant. —Youngstown Vindicator.

TWINS FLIP COIN FOR HONORS AS THEY TIE FOR SCHOOL VALEDICTORY

BOULDER, Colo.—The baffling problem of providing scholarships for twin brothers has been solved by a special meeting of the trustees of Colorado university, and as a result Keith and Kenneth Shields of Manitou, a suburb of Colorado Springs, will be able to continue together their pursuit of learning.

The Keith brothers, 18 years of age, have been "first in everything" scholastic in their high school work and when their perfect standings in the senior class in the Manitou high school was reviewed by the principal, he was unable to decide which of the two to recommend for a scholarship at the state university.

President Norlin of the University of Colorado here, submitted the question of whether a scholarship could be granted both youths to the university board of trustees, who, at a special meeting, decided favorably and both Keith and Kenneth will matriculate here next fall.

In disclosing the close scholastic standing of both boys at the Manitou high school, the principal of that institution informed President Norlin that it was necessary for the pair to flip a coin to decide who should deliver the valedictory at the commencement exercises. Keith won the toss.

Resinol Soap
her favorite for fifteen years
Had despaired of having clear skin

Baltimore, Md., July 18:—"For the past fifteen years I have used your splendid soap, though I had given up in despair of having a good, clear skin, but after using Resinol Soap for one month I noticed a decided improvement. I have also two girls, age five and two, who boast of splendid skin, and they have always been washed with Resinol Soap.

I can assure you of my complete confidence in this soap as well as Resinol Ointment which my father uses constantly for his corns and callouses." (Signed) Vola M. Wheeler, 3443 Chestnut Ave.

WONDERFUL NEW REMEDY FOR YOUR ACHES AND PAINS

Liniment They Use on Big League Ball Players Like Coveleski

STOPS ACHES, PAINS, STIFFNESS QUICKLY

MIKE MARTIN, Trainer Washington Baseball Club

Big league baseball stars like Walter Johnson, Bucky Harris, Ty Cobb, George Sisler, Coveleskie and others cannot afford to be laid up with aches, pains, swollen joints or stiffness a single day, so they must use the best remedy money can buy.

The liniment they use at the ball park works like lightning and in a jiffy relieves aches, pains, stiffness or swollen joints due to sprains, rheumatic troubles, neuritis, neuralgia, etc. A thousand times each baseball season this wonderful liniment does its work in the big leagues, professional and amateur baseball circles and yet this liniment they use is so mild it would not harm a baby's skin and never blisters no matter how much you rub it in or bandage it up.

The liniment is named after the famous trainer, Mike Martin, the man who for years was trainer of the New York "Yankees," Cincinnati "Reds," Columbia University, and who now is trainer of Washington's 1924-25 American League champion baseball club.

It is called Mike Martin's Liniment. Local druggists are featuring it. Any person suffering with aches, pains, lame back, rheumatism, swollen joints, stiffness, neuralgia or neuritis should get a bottle. It is pleasant to use, never stains and by rubbing a little into the sore, stiff, achy parts you get almost magic relief.

Ball players often catch cold, get stiff, sore or bunged up and come to the ball park hardly able to walk, yet out they come from a good rub with Mike Martin's Liniment, as lively, full of pep and ginger as anybody could wish. Watch them scamper and prance in rain or shine. You'd never dream they ever had an ache or pain in their lives. Mike Martin by making this liniment available to the general public in drug stores is doing a great thing for those who suffer. If reader lives out of town and druggist hasn't it, write Mike Martin, Trainer "Senators," Washington, D. C., and he will send a large size bottle with full directions, parcel post, for $1. The Carnahan 3 Drug Stores and all good druggists sell smaller trial size bottles for a few cents.

FARMERS PLAN DEMONSTRATION AGAINST GERMAN TAXATION POLICY

BERLIN.—For the first time since the revolution, approximately 60,000 Brandenburg farmers, otherwise credited with being conservative, calm, and considerate, demonstrated in smaller country towns around Berlin to protest against the Government's taxation policy and to show the townsfolk that they are in a desperate plight. The demonstrations are interpreted as storm signals.

The bulk of the farmers is overloaded with debts. More than one billion gold marks have to be paid back this fall and the farmers simply do not know how to do it. They were granted credits and are being taxed too heavily, according to their own opinion. Their chief complaint is that the government never found the time to consider their wishes, but was too much tied up with politics to investigate the troubles of calm, never-complaining farmers.

This time is gone now. Farmers, during the demonstrations, were on the point of storming or looting the Revenue Offices, when their own leaders intervened and succeeded in restoring discipline.

God sells knowledge for labor; honor for risk.

In spite of the fact that there are 150 dern good reasons why Sunday week is a fine day to fire up and pop a bit, Jack hasn't said a word about ANY of them! He won't show me what he's going to say NEXT WEEK either, so don't look to ME for no information! As Amos says: "In the matrimonial race, it's the LAST lap that wins and when Eve bawled out Adam, it was the FIRST rib roast." Why Amos said that and what it's gotta do with 4th of July takes a lotta thought to figger out.

Fast Workers! There's a Penalty!

The proper method to collect a nice even bronze finish to your features is to SLOWLY allow the warm rays to "touch you up". Many of you thru forgetfullness get TOO MUCH sun all in one day with the result that the skin gets thoroughly scorched. A good cold cream thickly applied will give relief and should be carried with you.

No Wet Ideas!

In these days of competition, strife and hustle. No one can afford to get their IDEA dept. wet or dishevelled. Which is OUR reason for strongly recommending our Helmet bathing caps for pomps, bobs or permanents. These caps are not particularly beautiful but very efficient.

Do You Quarrel With Your Freckles?

Just the other day down in New York a 12-year-old won a $50.00 prize for having the MOST freckles of any kid in town! He had over 5000!! Flyte would have removed them at a very small cost but he would have been out the $50.00. Ever count YOUR freckles?

Leave a Dress or So for the Poor Moths!

Don't go away from home and leave nothing for the poor moths to eat! There are so many people nowadays who buy these MOTH PROOF Bags at 75c and put their cloths away and then the poor moths have nothing to eat.

And You Never Notice It Yourself!

Thats the bad thing about perspiration odors. And it takes quite a bit of courage on the part of your friends to TELL you! The safe way is to outfit yourself with some of the deodorants that we have in stock and use it daily during the summer weather. We have a wide selection of the better ones.

FARMERS PLAN DEMONSTRATION AGAINST GERMAN TAXATION POLICY

BERLIN.—For the first time since the revolution, approximately 60,000 Brandenburg farmers, otherwise credited with being conservative, calm, and considerate, demonstrated in smaller country towns around Berlin to protest against the Government's taxation policy and to show the townsfolk that they are in a desperate plight. The demonstrations are interpreted as storm signals.

The bulk of the farmers is overloaded with debts. More than one billion gold marks have to be paid back this fall and the farmers simply do not know how to do it. They were granted credits and are being taxed too heavily, according to their own opinion. Their chief complaint is that the government never found the time to consider their wishes, but was too much tied up with politics to investigate the troubles of calm, never-complaining farmers.

This time is gone now. Farmers, during the demonstrations, were on the point of storming or looting the Revenue Offices, when their own leaders intervened and succeeded in restoring discipline.

God sells knowledge for labor; honor for risk.

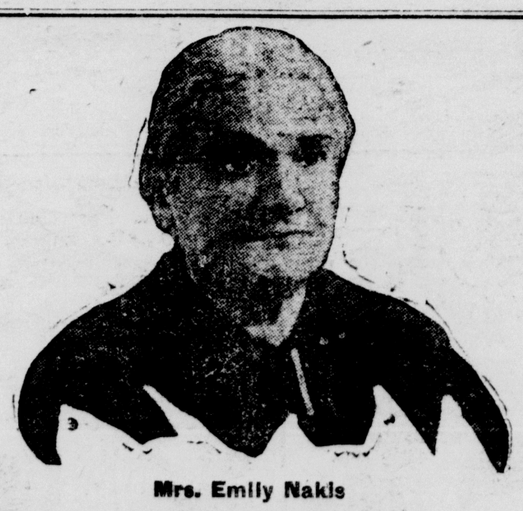
Imitations cannot bring you such wonder-flavor—such crisp, crunchy flakes. The genuine corn flakes have the signature of the originator on the package.



Mrs. Emily Nakis

So Crippled With Rheumatism She Couldn't Comb Her Hair

"I was as helpless as a baby and was only in the way," says grateful lady who tells how Dreco relieved all her pains.

"I often prayed that death might end my suffering but God in his mercy saw fit to send me Dreco and make me well instead," is the earnest statement made by Mrs. Emily Nakis, a lovable 82 year old lady living at Rankin, a suburb of Pittsburgh, while talking with the Dreco man.

"I was so crippled up with rheumatism I was about as helpless as an infant. I couldn't even comb my hair and had to be helped up and down the stairs. The pains through my back and sholders and legs were terrible and I sat down all day long brooding and worrying over my condition. I thought I was only in the way and, though the whole family were simply wonderful to me, I would have welcomed relief from my earthly suffering.

"My blood pressure was high and I had hot flashes through my head which almost made me fall out of my chair. I got very weak, had no appetite, was very nervous, slept very little at night and had lots of trouble with my stomach. I was in misery 24 hours a day.

"Although I spent over $2,000 it was all money wasted for not a thing brought me relief until my son read of Dreco and got some for me. That was just six weeks ago and today, thanks to this wonderful medicine, I am happy and healthy once more and haven't the least sign of a rheumatic pain. The hot flashes have ended, I feel stronger and am able to help myself as well as anyone my age. I eat wonderful and sleep just grand and feel so happy I could cry. While my condition was so bad I lost lots of weight and my clothes hung on me like bags but I am fast regaining all the lost weight. Dreco was certainly a blessing to me and I take great happiness in recommending it to others."

Mr. O'Connor, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Mathews' Medicine Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him. His advice is free.

Ohio Candidate 'Before and After' 25 Years in Ring

Atlee Pomerene, a former Ohio Senator, has announced his candidacy for election on the Democratic ticket. Here are two portraits of the Ohio ex-Senator; one as he appears today and another, below, as he looked twenty-five years ago.

ALL-STAR CAST AT CERAMIC

Jack Holt and Esther Ralston in "Blind Goddess"

Justice, as it is dispensed in the criminal courts, comes in for a sound spanking, and the reliability of circumstantial evidence receives a knockout blow in Victor Fleming's thrilling romance-drama, "The Blind Goddess," which opened a three-day run at the Ceramic theatre last night.

This picture version of Arthur Train's exciting novel of the same name is a strong dramatic vehicle with a murder-mystery for its plot basis and with kaleidescopic New York for its colorful locale. The romance of young love, the pathos of self-sacrificing mother-love, the sinister side of politics, the smart social atmosphere of Fifth avenue, the blundering efforts of the law, symbolized by "the blind goddess"—all these are elements in the story that grips the interest, stirs the emotions and serves to provide an hour of rare entertainment.

Victor Fleming has not only made a workmanlike job of the direction but he has provided a cast whose individual performances and collective acting emphasize and intensify the emotional power and dramatic sweep of the story.

Jack Holt, as the young lawyer who dares to sacrifice the girl he loves to remain true to his ideal of duty, plays in his usually capable fashion. Esther Ralston, the personification of feminine loveliness, give an excellent account of herself in a role that makes heavy demands of her histrionic ability. Ernest Torrence proves he can handle comedy and drama with equal deftness; and Louise Dresser adds to her laurels with her compelling portrayal of the pitiful mother.

Women Like

The easy-disposal feature of this new hygienic help—no laundry, just discard

IN a new way, women now are freed of the disadvantages of old-time "sanitary pads." Protection is greater. The old embarrassment of disposal and laundry is avoided.

Get Kotex—8 in 10 better-class women have adopted it.

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

It's five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads!

You dine, dance, motor for hours in sheerest frocks without a second's doubt or fear.

It deodorizes, too. And thus ends ALL danger of offending.

You ask for it at any drug or department store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX."

Do as millions are doing. End old, insecure ways. Enjoy life every day. Package of twelve costs only a few cents.

KOTEX

FRENCH LIBRARY IS EXONERATED OF CHARGE OF SELLING RARE BOOKS

PARIS—Paul Vaillant Couturier, the Communist Deputy, charged the administrator of the National library of selling to rich Americans many rare books of which the library possessed more than one copy. The incident created a considerable stir and an investigation was at once begun. The accusation has been proven false. The administrator, Monsieur Roland Marcel testified the library never sells volumes of which it has but two copies. In cases where a sale does take place it is always necessary that the library possess at least three copies of the book and the sale must be approved by the Minister of Fine Arts.

Wherever the New York Public Library finds itself with several copies of the same rare work, it usually proposes one of the copies to the National Library and the price is agreed upon by the directors. This arrangement is reciprocal.

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH

W. K. Kellogg

What a treat for an outdoor appetite!

CRISP, crunchy Kellogg's Corn Flakes. With rich milk or cream. Fresh or preserved fruit. A delicious dish of wonderful flavor!

Kellogg's are the original corn flakes. Light and easy to digest. Never tough or leathery.

More than 10,000,000 people daily demand them—for the wonderful Kellogg flavor and freshness.

Have Kellogg's any meal—and between meals. Order them anywhere. At all grocers, hotels and restaurants.

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

Oven-fresh ALWAYS in Kellogg's patented inner-sealed waxtite wrapper.

Imitations cannot bring you such wonder-flavor—such crisp, crunchy flakes. The genuine corn flakes have the signature of the originator on the package.

Mrs. Emily Nakis

So Crippled With Rheumatism She Couldn't Comb Her Hair

"I was as helpless as a baby and was only in the way," says grateful lady who tells how Dreco relieved all her pains.

"I often prayed that death might end my suffering but God in his mercy saw fit to send me Dreco and make me well instead," is the earnest statement made by Mrs. Emily Nakis, a lovable 82 year old lady living at Rankin, a suburb of Pittsburgh, while talking with the Dreco man.

"I was so crippled up with rheumatism I was about as helpless as an infant. I couldn't even comb my hair and had to be helped up and down the stairs. The pains through my back and sholders and legs were terrible and I sat down all day long brooding and worrying over my condition. I thought I was only in the way and, though the whole family were simply wonderful to me, I would have welcomed relief from my earthly suffering.

"My blood pressure was high and I had hot flashes through my head which almost made me fall out of my chair. I got very weak, had no appetite, was very nervous, slept very little at night and had lots of trouble with my stomach. I was in misery 24 hours a day.

"Although I spent over $2,000 it was all money wasted for not a thing brought me relief until my son read of Dreco and got some for me. That was just six weeks ago and today, thanks to this wonderful medicine, I am happy and healthy once more and haven't the least sign of a rheumatic pain. The hot flashes have ended, I feel stronger and am able to help my self as well as anyone my age. I eat wonderful and sleep just grand and feel so happy I could cry. While my condition was so bad I lost lots of weight and my clothes hung on me like bags but I am fast regaining all the lost weight. Dreco was certainly a blessing to me and I take great happiness in recommending it to others."

Mr. O'Connor, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Mathews' Medicine Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him. His advice is free.

Ohio Candidate 'Before and After' 25 Years in Ring

Atlee Pomerene, a former Ohio Senator, has announced his candidacy for election on the Democratic ticket. Here are two portraits of the Ohio ex-Senator; one as he appears today and another, below, as he looked twenty-five years ago.

ALL-STAR CAST AT CERAMIC

Jack Holt and Esther Ralston in "Blind Goddess"

Justice, as it is dispensed in the criminal courts, comes in for a sound spanking, and the reliability of circumstantial evidence receives a knockout blow in Victor Fleming's thrilling romance-drama, "The Blind Goddess," which opened a three-day run at the Ceramic theatre last night.

This picture version of Arthur Train's exciting novel of the same name is a strong dramatic vehicle with a murder-mystery for its plot basis and with kaleidescopic New York for its colorful locale. The romance of young love, the pathos of self-sacrificing mother-love, the sinister side of politics, the smart social atmosphere of Fifth avenue, the blundering efforts of the law, symbolized by "the blind goddess"—all these are elements in the story that grips the interest, stirs the emotions and serves to provide an hour of rare entertainment.

Victor Fleming has not only made a workmanlike job of the direction but he has provided a cast whose individual performances and collective acting emphasize and intensify the emotional power and dramatic sweep of the story.

Jack Holt, as the young lawyer who dares to sacrifice the girl he loves to remain true to his ideal of duty, plays in his usually capable fashion. Esther Ralston, the personification of feminine loveliness, give an excellent account of herself in a role that makes heavy demands of her histrionic ability. Ernest Torrence proves he can handle comedy and drama with equal deftness; and Louise Dresser adds to her laurels with her compelling portrayal of the pitiful mother.

Women Like

The easy-disposal feature of this new hygienic help—no laundry, just discard

IN a new way, women now are freed of the disadvantages of old-time "sanitary pads." Protection is greater. The old embarrassment of disposal and laundry is avoided.

Get Kotex—8 in 10 better-class women have adopted it.

Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

It's five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads!

You dine, dance, motor for hours in sheerest frocks without a second's doubt or fear.

It deodorizes, too. And thus ends ALL danger of offending.

You ask for it at any drug or department store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX."

Do as millions are doing. End old, insecure ways. Enjoy life every day. Package of twelve costs only a few cents.

KOTEX

FRENCH LIBRARY IS EXONERATED OF CHARGE OF SELLING RARE BOOKS

PARIS—Paul Vaillant Couturier, the Communist Deputy, charged the administrator of the National library of selling to rich Americans many rare books of which the library possessed more than one copy. The incident creaged a considerable stir and an investigation was at once begun. The accusation has been proven false. The administrator, Monsieur Roland Marcel ,testified the library never sells volumes of which it has but two copies. In cases where a sale does take place it is always necessary that the library possess at least three copies of the book and the sale must be approved by the Minister of Find Arts.

Wherever the New York Public Library finds itself with several copies of the same rare work, it usually proposes one of the copies to the National Library and the price is agreed upon by the directors. This arrangement is reciprocal.

MIDLAND

Last evening at the home of Miss Ruth Harrison a surprise party was held for Alexander Kerr. Games and dancing were the diversions, after which a lunch was served. Those present were: Misses Ruth Harrison, Grace Borchert, Elizabeth Crichton, Pauline Newcomer, Geraldine McCarthy, Margaret True, also Alexander Kerr, Richard Graham, James Reynolds, Clark Bowser, Donald Powers and Andrew McNeillie.

The Eastern Star officers are to be entertained this evening at the home of Mrs. Charles MacNeillie on Penn avenue. Lunch will be served by the hostess and Mrs. Harry Marsh.

The strawberry social of the M. E. church will be held this evening on the church lawn.

Mrs. M. J. Howison and nephew, Dick Deamm, were Pittsburgh visitors yesterday.

Mrs. John Law, of Ohio avenue, visited in Woodlawn recently.

Fat People Told To Eat Heartily

It is no longer necessary to deny yourself plenty of the foods you like. The new plan by which New York Society's fat persons are reducing is now available to the rest of the country. It consists of taking a certain harmless medicinal ingredient, purely vegetable, discovered by science, which dissolves the fat cells. It contains no thyroid or dangerous drugs. It acts quickest when well chewed and therefore it is embodied in a deliciously flavored fat-reducing chewing gum called "Slends." Local druggists are stocking a large supply in expectation of an enormous demand. They say that if you start today to "Slenderize with Slends" your fat will begin to go tomorrow.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Dry Cleaning is Thorough Cleaning

How quickly dust and dirt settle upon things is indicated by the frequency with which you must wash your face and hands. Dust settling upon clothing work its way into the fabric and takes away its "life" and color working increasing injury to the fabric. Frequent brushing does not clean clothing. Brushing merely removes a little surface dust. If you wish to get the utmost service out of your garments and keep them looking bright and new, have them cleaned thoroughly and frequently by
